- e Answer the questions with a partner.

- 1 Do you believe all the information in this article? Why (not)? Give examples from your own experience.
- 2 Would you consider changing any of your habits based on this information?

Eat and drink – but at the right time!

In our super-busy 21st-century lives, most of us try to do as much as we can in 24 hours. However, we usually do things whenever it suits us, and experts say that this is disrupting our body's natural cycle, making us feel tired at times when we should feel awake, and vice versa. Science shows that by doing things at the right time, we can be happier and healthier.

Have breakfast at 8.00 a.m.

In a recent study, researchers found having breakfast at this time is good for our blood sugar levels, so the food you eat now will give you the energy you need. It's also important not to skip breakfast. Another research team, from Sweden, suggested that people who ate a regular breakfast as teenagers were 32% less likely to be at risk of heart disease as adults.

Don't drink coffee in the morning. Have one at 3.00 p.m.

Most coffee drinkers make a cup as soon as they wake up. However, researchers have suggested that early morning is the worst time to drink coffee, because it stops the body from producing the stress hormone cortisol, which we need at this time to help us to wake up. The best time to drink coffee – or caffeine in general – is between 2.00 p.m. and 5.00 p.m., when it can make us more mentally alert, according to a study carried out by the University of Sheffield a few years ago.

Have lunch between 12.00 and 2.00

This is when our body digests food best, because this is when the stomach produces most acid. So it's the ideal time to have your main meal of the day. An experiment by nutritionists at the University of Surrey found that blood glucose levels after an evening meal were much higher than when people had the same meal earlier in the day, and high levels of glucose can cause diabetes.

Have dinner at 7.00 p.m.

Have your evening meal early. It should be delicious – our sense of smell and taste are at their best at this time – but light. And if you want a small glass of wine, have it before dinner, as 6.30 is when the liver is most efficient at dealing with alcohol.

More good times for your body

- Ideally, you should get up when the sun rises. When we see daylight, we stop producing the sleep hormone melatonin and start getting ready for the day ahead.
- Do yoga or go for a walk before breakfast.
- Do important tasks at 11.00 a.m., when your brain is working best.
- Weightlifting sessions are best done at midday – that's when your muscles are strongest.
- The best time to run or cycle is 5.00 p.m., when your lung capacity – important for endurance sports – is at its greatest.
- Go to bed between 9.00 p.m. and 11.00 p.m. This is when your body temperature starts to go down and the brain begins producing melatonin.

5 LISTENING

- a Read the text about Marianna. Then look at the five photos and extracts from an interview with her. With a partner, say how you think she finishes each sentence.
- b ⑩1.8 Listen to Part 1 of an interview with Marianna and check your answers to a.
- c Listen again. With a partner, say anything else you can remember about each photo.
- d ⑩1.9 Now listen to Part 2 and answer the questions.
 - 1 What three things did Marianna do before becoming a chef in London?
 - 2 What was her first connection with the restaurant Moro? Why did she go back to it later?
 - 3 What happened seven years later?
 - 4 How is her restaurant, Morito, different from Moro?
 - 5 How often does she go back to Crete? What happens when she has lunch with her old friends there?
- e What about you? Answer the questions with a partner.
 - 1 What was your favourite food when you were a child?
 - 2 What kind of things did your mother or father cook? Do you still eat them?
 - 3 Do you have a favourite restaurant? What do you like most about it – the food, the atmosphere, the service, or the price?

6 GRAMMAR present simple and continuous, action and non-action verbs

- a Look at three sentences from the interview. Circle the correct verb form.
 - 1 You don't need / aren't needing anything except lemon and olive oil when fish and seafood is really fresh.
 - 2 This week, for example, I make / I'm making 'ntakos', a Cretan salad...
 - 3 I go / I'm going to Crete maybe four or five times a year.

- c G p.132 Grammar Bank 1A

Marianna Leivaditaki

is the head chef at Morito, a very popular restaurant on Hackney Road, in London. She was born on the island of Crete, in Greece. Her father was a Cretan fisherman and her mother was Scottish. Together they ran a seafood restaurant, which is where Marianna spent most of her childhood.

The page features two photographs. The top one shows a white rectangular tray filled with various types of fish, some whole and some filleted, with some red garnish. The bottom one shows a close-up of a large, vibrant red lobster with its characteristic spiny shell and long antennae. To the right of the lobster, there is a small portion of the same tray of fish.

3 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING

sentence stress

Sentence stress

In spoken English, we stress the 'content' words – the words in a sentence which carry the information. We don't stress the other words. Being aware of this will help you to speak with a natural rhythm and understand spoken English better.

- a 1.20 Read the sentence. Do you think the pink words are stressed or unstressed? Listen and check.

I'm going to look for a job.

- b 1.21 Listen to four more sentences. Write the stressed words in the pink boxes.

- c Look at the stressed words and try to remember the unstressed words. Then listen again to check and write them in.

- d Listen again and repeat the sentences. Copy the rhythm.

- e Ask and answer the questions with a partner. Try to get the correct rhythm.

Is anyone in your family...?

- getting married in the near future
- travelling abroad this month
- having a baby this year
- celebrating their birthday soon

Are you going to...?

- do something with a family member this week
- have a big family get-together soon
- go on holiday with your family this year
- visit a relative this weekend

Do you think...?

- more couples will have just one child in the future
- more young adults will live with their parents in the future
- anyone in your family will live to be 90 or older
- you'll move away from (or back to) the area where your family live

4 VOCABULARY adjectives of personality

- b 1.24 Listen and check. Then listen again and repeat. Are prefixes (e.g. un-, in-) and suffixes (e.g. -ous, -ble, -tive) stressed?

6 READING

- a What's your position in your family? Are you the oldest child, a middle child, the youngest child, or an only child?
- b Look at four groups of adjectives. Which group do you think goes with each position in the family (e.g. the oldest)?
- 1 outgoing, charming, and disorganized
 - 2 responsible, ambitious, and anxious
 - 3 self-confident, independent, and spoilt
 - 4 sociable, sensitive, and unambitious
- c Read the article and check your answers.

How birth order influences your personality

Nowadays, it is an accepted fact that our position in the family – that is, whether we're an oldest child, a middle child, a youngest child, or an only child – is possibly the strongest influence there is on our character and personality. So what influence does it have?

The oldest child

Firstborn children often have to look after their younger brothers and sisters, so they're usually sensible and responsible as adults. They also tend to be ambitious and they make good leaders. On the negative side, oldest children can be insecure and anxious. This is because ¹ H.

The middle child

Middle children are more relaxed than the oldest children, probably because ² . They're usually very sociable – the kind of people who get on with everybody. They are also usually sensitive to what other people need, because ³ . For the same reason, they're often quite good at sorting out arguments, and they're always sympathetic to the ones on the losing side, or in general, to people who are having problems. On the other hand, middle children can sometimes be unambitious, and they can lack direction in life.

The youngest child

Youngest children are often very outgoing and charming. This is the way they try to get the attention of both their parents and their older brothers and sisters. They are often more rebellious, and this is probably because ⁴ . They can also be immature and disorganized, and they often depend too much on other people, because ⁵ .

The only child

Only children usually do very well at school, because they have a lot of contact with adults. They get a lot of love and attention from their parents, so they're typically self-confident. They're also independent, as they spend so much time by themselves. And because ⁶ , they're often very organized. Only children can sometimes be spoilt, because ⁷ by their parents. They can also be quite selfish and get impatient, especially when things go wrong. This is because ⁸ .

- d Read the article again and complete it with reasons A–H.
- A they grew up between older and younger brothers and sisters
 - B it's easier for them to break the rules – by the time they were born, their parents were more relaxed about discipline
 - C their parents were more relaxed themselves by the time the second child arrived
 - D they are given everything they ask for
 - E they have always been the baby of the family
 - F they spend a lot of time with adults
 - G they've never had to sort out problems with other brothers and sisters
 - H when the second child was born, they lost some of their parents' attention, and maybe they felt rejected
- e Re-read the paragraph that applies to you. Do you think the description of personality is true for you? Are any of the other descriptions true for people you know, e.g. your brothers and sisters, or friends?

7 LISTENING & SPEAKING

- a You're going to hear two people talking about a time when they or one of their siblings behaved badly. Look at some words from each story. With a partner, try to predict what happened.

James's story brother teenagers fighting stabbed finger penknife accident horrified blood mum angry hospital

Marilyn's story sister parrot cage let out fly bedroom looked everywhere cried window cupboard hidden frightened horrible

- b 1.25 Listen to the stories. Were your predictions correct?

- c Listen again and answer the questions for James and Marilyn. Who do you think behaved worse, James or Marilyn's sister?
- 1 How old were they?
 - 2 Where were they?
 - 3 What bad thing did they or their sibling do?
 - 4 What happened in the end?
 - 5 How do James's brother and Marilyn show that they've never forgotten what happened?

- d Work in pairs. A, you are James's brother. B, you are Marilyn's sister. Retell the two stories from your point of view.

I have a twin brother called James, and we used to fight a lot when we were teenagers. One day,...

- e Can you remember a time when you were young and you behaved very badly to a sibling or a friend, or they did to you? Tell the story, answering the questions in c.

3 READING

- a Read the title of the article. Why do you think someone might decide to have a 'no-spend year'?

- b Read the article and match paragraphs A–G to topics 1–7. Use the words in bold to help you.

- 1 where she went on holiday
- 2 why she decided to save money
- 3 how often she saw her friends
- 4 what she achieved
- 5 her advice for other people
- 6 how she saved money at home
- 7 what she discovered

One woman's 'no-spend year', and how she survived

She cycled 120 miles to a wedding, and her lunch budget was just 51p a day.

- A Michelle McGagh, a 34-year-old journalist, had a mortgage of £230,000 which she wanted to reduce. Last November, she looked at her finances and she discovered that every year she spent a lot of money unnecessarily – for example, £1,570 in the pub, £1,110 in restaurants, and £400 on coffees. So she made a radical plan – to stop spending money for a year. She continued to pay her broadband, gas, and electricity bills, and allowed herself £30 a week to buy food and household essentials. But she couldn't spend money on anything else – no clothes, no buses or flights, no meals out, no drinks, and no cosmetics.
- B She cooked large quantities of curry and bolognese sauce, which lasted her a week, and which she ate with rice or pasta. It was cheap and healthy, but also 'really boring'. She also experimented with home-made cleaning products and beauty treatments, like using vinegar for cleaning or olive oil as moisturiser, but she decided that most of them didn't really work.
- C At first, she tried to see her friends as often as before. She cycled 120 miles to be at a friend's wedding, and camped in their garden to avoid paying for accommodation. The following weekend, she rode 60 miles to Brighton to meet friends. But she couldn't join them for dinner in a restaurant, and when they went to the pub, she drank tap water. In the end, she simply went out less, which made her feel more isolated.
- D Of course, she couldn't afford to go abroad, so she missed a trip to Ibiza with friends. Her only holiday was a cycling trip to East Anglia, where again she camped. Here, for the first and only time in the year, she bought food that she had not cooked herself – a bag of chips for £1.95.
- E At the end of the year, she had saved £23,000. She was much slimmer and fitter – over the year, she had cycled 6,500 miles. She says she now feels freer and happier, because she appreciates the simple things in life. She also gained confidence and a sense of adventure.
- F But she learned the hard way that you can't really socialize if you don't want to spend money. The evening after her year-long challenge ended, she bought all her friends a drink in the pub. But she has not gone back to her past spending habits. She occasionally pays to socialize and go on holiday. She has even taken a taxi. But after buying a few new clothes and some perfume, she insists, 'I have absolutely no interest in buying anything else.'
- G So what's her key tip for those who want to save? 'Whenever you open your wallet, think about whether what you are buying is something you need or something you want. We all say, "I need to buy this." Most of the time, we want to buy it. Maybe we don't know the difference between needing something and wanting something any more.'

- c Read the article again. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- 1 Michelle could use public transport during her 'no-spend year'.
- 2 She was often hungry because she couldn't afford to buy food.
- 3 At her friend's wedding, she slept in a tent.
- 4 She never had ready-made food or takeaways.
- 5 She didn't lose any weight during the year.
- 6 Nowadays, she spends less than she used to.
- 7 She thinks that when we buy something, we should ask ourselves why.

- d Do you agree with the last sentence of the article? Why (not)?

- e Read the information about compound nouns. Then search the text.

Underline six compound nouns that begin with the words in the circle.

electricity cleaning cycling beauty tap

Compound nouns

Compound nouns are two nouns together, where the first noun describes the second one, e.g. cash machine. The stress is usually on the first noun.

- f Could you do what Michelle did?

What would you spend less on?
What would you eat?
How would you get around?
How would you socialize cheaply?

would for imaginary situations

We use would to talk about imaginary situations, e.g. To save money, I'd spend less on clothes and I'd cook for myself at home.

 - 2 What is her most recent challenge, and how is it different?
- c Read Helen's blog entries and number them in order, 1–9. Use the highlighted phrases to help you.

The polar challenge

TV presenter Helen Skelton has never been afraid of a charity challenge. She has run the 78-mile Ultra Marathon in Namibia, and she has kayaked 3,200 kilometres down the Amazon, from Nauta, in Peru, to Almeirim, in Brazil, for the charity Sport Relief, which helps poor and disadvantaged people. Now she has decided to leave the heat of Africa and South America to take part in a polar challenge, a 500-mile ski, kite-ski, and bike journey to the South Pole, the bottom of the world. During the challenge, Helen is writing a blog.

A

It's over a month since we arrived in Antarctica, and if everything goes to plan, we should reach the South Pole late tonight. We've been here for so long it's almost become a routine. We camp, get up, ski, camp, get up, ski. I'm wearing a face mask because of the wind and sun. I may look like Darth Vader, but it will help me get there.

B

My first night in Antarctica. It's summer here, and the 24-hour daylight is weird. The plan, until 3rd January, is to train before starting our trek. Today was my first full day on cross-country skis, pulling a sledge full of my food, tent, and supplies. It was a nightmare! Still, the scenery was incredible. I'm now going to try out the ice bike for the first time, and we're also going to practise kite-skiing.

C

The first day of the trek is over! We managed to make the bikes work! But we need to do a minimum of 25 miles a day, and we only managed 15 miles today. After nine hours of cycling (and a lot of pushing), we had to stop, because I was completely exhausted.

D

We've only been in Antarctica for four days, but there's been a huge snowstorm for the past 48 hours. It's freezing outside, so we can't train – we've had to stay in the tent. The winds are 70 miles per hour, with a temperature of -15°C and lots of snow. The visibility is terrible, too. However, we're staying warm and morale is still good.

E

This morning, the second day of our trek, we set off on the kite-skis, and straight away we were travelling fast. In the first hour, we'd gone eight miles. I thought we could do 60 miles today, but later this afternoon the wind dropped, so we decided to stop and put up camp. But we'd travelled 41 miles – I'm very proud of that. I've only kited a few times before. But I'm trying to complete my challenge in 20 days, and there's still a long way to go...

F

We're now only 150 miles from our destination. For the last few days, we've only been using bikes and cross-country skis, not kite-skis. We had a ten-hour day yesterday with the bikes. The morning went well, but then we hit some soft snow and we ended up pushing the bikes for the last six miles. Today, we decided to use skis, but progress has been slow.

G

We've completed our 500-mile journey in 18 days! When I talked to Dad on the phone, saying we've done it, I cried. This is the biggest thing I have ever been part of.

H

We're on our way to the halfway checkpoint today, where we can have a rest...and I've been promised lots of hot water so I can have a good wash – my second one since arriving in Antarctica. I have to admit it, I smell awful...and my hair is absolutely filthy.

I

The training is over and we're starting our 500-mile journey today! We've been cycling, walking, and kiting for ten days. I washed and changed my clothes. I'm not going to get clean clothes again for three weeks!

- d Read the blog again. In which entry does she mention...?
- feeling very emotional
 - how beautiful Antarctica is
 - looking forward to a wash
 - looking like a science fiction character
 - not being able to go outside
 - stopping cycling because she was very tired
 - stopping using one method of transport
 - having to wear the same clothes every day
 - travelling quickly for the first time
- e Tell your partner about an adventure sport you've done, or an exciting experience you've had. Was it a positive experience? Why (not)? How did you feel?

LEFTOVER PRET A MANGER BAGUETTES GO TO HOMELESS

Exeter's new High Street Pret A Manger store set up contracts with Devon and Cornwall Food Association and Exeter Cathedral to donate leftover food at the end of each day.

Pret A Manger, often known as 'Pret', is an international sandwich shop chain, which has stores all over the UK. It has been ¹ _____ food to homeless communities since it began in 1986. 88% of their stores currently donate their unsold sandwiches, salads, baguettes, and wraps to hundreds of charities supporting the homeless.

Exeter store manager Drahoslav Balog said, 'It makes us ² _____ to know that the surplus food will go to two very worthwhile places each evening.'

Nicki Fisher, head of the Pret Foundation Trust which organizes their charity work, said, 'Whenever we open a new store, our teams work hard to find charities in the local area that could ³ _____ from food donations. It means a huge amount to us that we can connect with our local communities and help to solve an important problem at the same time.'

'The sandwiches and wraps we are collecting from Pret A Manger are ideal for giving to homeless people who ⁴ _____ not have the facilities to prepare meals themselves,' said Rory Matthews, from Devon and Cornwall Food Association. 'We are delighted that the food is not being ⁵ _____.'

Anna Norman-Walker from Exeter Cathedral added, 'We have been running a café for the homeless and other vulnerable people in Exeter for four years. We often serve dinner to 50 people or more. Having Pret surplus sandwiches and salads has been a huge blessing and a definite ⁶ _____ on the usual bread and butter! Pret have made the process really simple. They invite us in at ⁷ _____ time and let us take away any of the leftover sandwiches and salads. It is such a good initiative and we are delighted.'

Top Gear challenge

What's the fastest way to get across London?

On Top Gear, a classic BBC series about cars and driving, they decided to organize a race across London to find the quickest way to cross a busy city.

The idea was to start from Kew Bridge, in the south-west of London, and to finish the race at the check-in desk at London City Airport, in the east – a journey of approximately 15 miles. Four forms of transport were chosen: a bike, a car, a motorboat, and public transport. The show's presenter, Jeremy Clarkson, took the boat, and his colleague James May went by car (a large Mercedes). Richard Hammond went by bike, and The Stig took public transport (a bus, the Tube, and a train).

They set off on a Monday morning in the rush hour...

Jeremy in the motorboat

His journey was along the River Thames. For the first few miles, there was a speed limit of nine miles an hour, because there are so many ducks and other birds in that part of the river. The river was confusing, and at one point, he realized that he was going in the wrong direction. But he turned round and got back onto the right route. Soon, he was going past Fulham Football Club. He phoned Richard and asked him where he was. Good news for Jeremy! He was ahead of the bike! He got to Wandsworth Bridge. The speed limit finished there and he could now go as fast as he liked. Jeremy felt like the fastest-moving man in all of London. He was flying, coming close to 50 miles an hour! How could he lose now? He could see Tower Bridge ahead. His journey was seven miles longer than the others', but he was now going at 70 miles an hour. Not far to the airport now!

Richard on the bike

Richard could use bus lanes, which was great, but of course he had to be careful not to crash into the buses. He hated buses! Horrible things! When the traffic lights turned red, he thought of cycling through them, but then he remembered that he was on TV, so he had to stop! When he got to Piccadilly, he was delighted to see that there was a terrible traffic jam – he could go through the traffic, but James, in his Mercedes, would get stuck. He got to Trafalgar Square and then went into a cycle lane. From now on, it was going to be easier...

James in the car

He started off OK. He wasn't going fast, but at a steady speed – until he was stopped by the police! They only wanted to check the permit for the cameraman in the back of the car, but it meant that he lost three or four valuable minutes! The traffic was getting worse. Now he was going really slowly. 25 miles an hour, 23..., 20..., 18... It was so frustrating!

- d Speed challenge! In three minutes, read about the three journeys again and answer the questions with Je (Jeremy), R (Richard), or Ja (James).

Who...?

- 1 was asked to show a piece of paper
- 2 went much faster in the later part of his journey
- 3 decided not to do something illegal
- 4 went more slowly in the later part of his journey
- 5 was happy to see that there was a lot of traffic
- 6 got slightly lost
- 7 had the most exciting journey

- e Look at the highlighted verb phrases related to travel and transport. With a partner, work out their meaning from the context.

The Stig on the Underground

- f 3.10 Now listen to what happened to The Stig and look at the map. What route did he take? What information or warning do you hear when you are travelling on the Tube?
- g 3.11 With a partner, write down the order in which you now think the four people arrived. Then listen to what happened. What order did they arrive in? Why do you think that Jeremy Clarkson was annoyed?
- h Think of your nearest big city. What kind of public transport is there? If a race was organized there between a bike, a car, and public transport, what order do you think they would arrive in?

Glossary

1 mile the unit of distance used in the UK and the USA

- c Talk to a partner. Compare the three things in each group using the bold adjective, e.g. for 1, decide which is the most dangerous, and then compare the other two. Say why.

1 dangerous	cycling driving riding a motorbike
2 easy	learning to drive learning to ride a bike learning to ride a horse
3 relaxing	driving flying travelling by train
4 difficult	sleeping on a coach sleeping on a plane sleeping on a train
5 boring	being stuck in a traffic jam waiting at an airport waiting for a bus

I think cycling is the most dangerous because sometimes drivers don't see cyclists. Riding a motorbike is more dangerous than driving.

5 LISTENING & PRONUNCIATION linking

- a Read the text about research into the causes of car accidents. Then talk to a partner.
- 1 Do you think the research process was reliable? Why (not)?
 - 2 Which three things do you think are the most dangerous? Number them 1–3 (1 = the most dangerous).
 - 3 Which one do you think is the least dangerous?

Two scientists at Virginia State University, in the USA, have published a book called Survive the Drive. In it, they describe their research into the most distracting things you can do when you are driving. They fitted video cameras and other devices to the cars of more than 3,500 drivers who were aged between 16 and 98. They then recorded their driving for three years and they got millions of hours of video. During this time, the drivers had more than 900 accidents, and the researchers used the video to analyse exactly why they happened.

feeling tired looking at something by the road

reaching for something in the car talking to a passenger in the car

Linking

We often link words together in English, especially when we speak fast. Being familiar with when we link words will help you understand the individual words in fast speech. We link words:

- 1 when a word ends in a consonant sound and the next word begins with a vowel sound, e.g. the most interesting.
- 2 when a word ends in a consonant sound and the next word begins with the same consonant sound, e.g. the worst time.
- 3 when a word ends in /t/ or /d/ and the next word begins with /t/ or /d/, e.g. the biggest danger.

- b 3.15 You're going to listen to an interview with a traffic safety expert. First, read the information box above. Then listen and complete some extracts with linked words from the interview.

- 1 What's the _____ thing you can do while you're driving?
- 2 ...you'll probably make _____...
- 3 ...people slow down to _____...
- 4 ...this is a really common _____ motorways.
- 5 This makes you _____ likely to _____.
- 6 _____ you find _____?
- 7 ...always keep _____ the road!

likely is an adjective. We use it to talk about probability, e.g. This is very distracting and makes you more likely to lose control of the car.

- c 3.16 Now listen to the interview. Number the activities in a 1–8. Were your top three correct?
d Listen again. Note down a number or fact about each dangerous activity.
1 feeling emotional ten times more likely to have an accident
e Are you surprised by any of this research? Which of the things are you (or drivers you know) most likely to do when driving?

6 SPEAKING

- a Look at the statements below. Tick (✓) the ones you agree with and cross (✗) the ones you disagree with. Think about your reasons.

People who drink and drive should lose their driving licence for life, even if they did not cause an accident.

Slow drivers cause more accidents than fast drivers.

Speed cameras do not stop accidents, they just make money for the government.

Drivers who are over 70 are as dangerous as young drivers.

Cyclists in cities should only be allowed in cycle lanes, not where cars and other vehicles drive.

It should be illegal to eat or drink when you're driving.

The minimum age for riding a motorbike should be 25.

The speed limit on motorways should be lower.

- b In groups, take turns to give your opinions on a statement in a. Do the others in the group agree or disagree with you? Use the language from the Giving your opinion box.

Giving your opinion

Personally, I don't think it should be illegal to eat and drink while you're driving, because...

In my opinion, cyclists should be allowed to cycle on all roads...

We often use should + verb to say what we think is the right thing or a good thing (to do).

Generalizing

- 1 Generally _____, I think it's true that women worry more about their appearance than men. They spend longer choosing what to wear, doing their hair, and things like that.
- 2 I don't think it's true that men are more interested in sport than women. However, _____ the whole, I think women _____ to have fewer opportunities to actively participate in sport.
- 3 I think that in _____, men worry about their health more than women. Hypochondriacs are _____ men, not women.

- b In small groups, discuss the statements below. Say if you think they are a) completely true, b) partly true, or c) completely untrue. Try to use the highlighted expressions from a.

Do you think it's true?

- Men make better bosses than women.
- Women are more caring than men.
- Men are better at telling jokes than women.
- Women talk more than men.
- Men are better at navigating than women.
- Women are worse at maths than men.
- Men are more competitive than women.
- Women panic more than men in stressful situations.
- Men are better at assembling IKEA furniture than women.
- Women can multitask better than men.

- d Read the article again. Which of the stereotypes 1–5 has been verified by research done...?
- a with animals
 - b by giving participants questionnaires
 - c through practical experiments with men and women
- e Look at the highlighted verbs related to research in the article and answer the questions.
- 1 Which verb is a synonym for prove? _____
 - 2 Which verb is a synonym for find? _____
 - 3 Which verb means 'to give reasons why you think something is true'? _____
 - 4 Which verb means 'to become clear that'? _____

Common stereotypes about men and women – but are they really true?

Scientists and psychologists say that there are certain gender stereotypes which they have proved are true, for example, a recent academic study found that men are better at assembling IKEA furniture than women! But can we really believe the results of these studies? Here are five more stereotypes which researchers claim are true.

Scientists in Norway asked 18 men and 18 women to find their way through a virtual maze, completing various tasks along the way. Men were able to solve 50% more of the problems than women in the same time. 'Men's sense of direction was more effective. They simply got to their destination faster,' said Dr Carl Pintzka of the Norwegian University of Science and Technology.

2

Researchers from the University of Maryland separated baby rats from their mothers and discovered that baby rats with more Foxp2, a kind of protein necessary for the development of speech and language, made more noise and called to their mothers more often. Moving on to humans, scientists then discovered that women have 30% more Foxp2 than men.

3

Australian researchers gave 20,000 men and women a list of questions to answer, to discover how they feel if their partner has a problem. Women said they were very affected, but men showed no change. 'It is not that men are unemotional, but they simply are not very emotional when it comes to the feelings of their partner,' said the study's author, Dr Cindy Mervin.

4

Psychologists at the University of Herefordshire gave 50 male and 50 female students eight minutes to perform three tasks at the same time: maths problems, finding restaurants on a map, and drawing a plan for finding a lost key in a field. To make it more difficult, they were asked some general knowledge questions while they worked. The women, it turned out, easily did all four things at once, but not the men – so it seems that this old cliché is true.

5

Professor Laura Mickes and a team of psychologists from the University of California asked men and women to write captions for cartoons in The New Yorker magazine. Without knowing the author, a group of male and female judges preferred the men's jokes. The psychologists argued that men use humour to attract women, who in turn are attracted to men with a good sense of humour.

And some that aren't true...

For every stereotype verified by science, many others turn out not to be true. Recent research shows, for example, that women are just as competitive and aggressive as men, better at driving, and no worse at mathematics. Men, on the other hand, are more insecure in relationships, make worse bosses, and are more likely to panic in stressful conditions.

Adapted from the Daily Telegraph

- f Many people would disagree that these five stereotypes are true, in spite of the research. What do you think? With a partner, think of more stereotypes about men and women and discuss if you think they're true or not.

2 GRAMMAR articles

Conductor throws out audience member whose phone went off

At the National Music Auditorium in Madrid, Wednesday's performance of Handel's Messiah was interrupted by a mobile phone going off in a row close to the stage, during the aria He was despised. Conductor William Christie stopped the performance, turned, pointed at the phone owner, and shouted, 'Out! You have just ruined one of the most beautiful passages of one of the most beautiful works ever written.' The phone owner got up and quickly left the hall.

Comments

danny 23 December 14.50

Good for him. It's time people protested against this kind of behaviour. If people can't live without their phones for two hours, ¹they shouldn't go to concerts. We need a new rule for concert halls and theatres: ²you have to leave your phone, or any other device, in the cloakroom, similar to the way you have to check in most bags and backpacks in museums. And the same for the cinema!

cassie 23 December 17.30

Great idea. I would also add another rule: if you are caught with a mobile device in the auditorium, ³you must immediately pay a fine!

anton 23 December 19.43

If you ban mobile phones from concerts, you'll lose a lot of the audience. There are people who have work phones, and their companies tell them ⁴they mustn't give their phones to anyone, because of company IT policies.

kasia 24 December 01.16

I think all concert halls ⁵should block mobile phone reception. Reception could be available until right before the concert begins, during the interval, and immediately after it finishes.

marcel 24 December 07.08

Blocking reception wouldn't solve the problem. Often when mobiles go off, it's an alarm that the owner has forgotten was on, which ⁶doesn't have to have reception to go off.

a In pairs, answer the questions.

- 1 When shouldn't you greet someone with a kiss?
- 2 What shouldn't you do on public transport?
- 3 Should you recline your seat on an aeroplane?
- 4 When should you give up your seat on public transport?
- 5 Should you ever start eating before everyone is served?

- b Read the article once. Were your answers the same as the advice Debrett's gives?
- c Read the article again and look at the highlighted phrases. Try to explain them in your own words.
- d Do you agree with the advice? Do you think Debrett's reasons are good ones?

DEBRETT'S

GUIDE TO MODERN DILEMMAS

De Brett's is a British publisher which specializes in books about modern manners. For nearly 100 years, Debrett's Handbook has advised the British public on social etiquette, that is, how to behave in social situations. The Handbook receives more than 10,000 enquiries a year. Jo Bryant, editor of the Handbook, said, 'The number of enquiries we receive demonstrates that manners are still hugely important to people. The key is to always consider those around you.'

The most frequently asked questions have changed a lot over the years. In 1994, one of the most common questions was 'What should you do if you meet the Queen?', and in 2004, people asked, 'Is it acceptable to ask for money as a wedding present?'

Debrett's has given us a preview of its latest guide to good manners, which answers some of the questions that most trouble the British public today.

SOCIAL GREETING: KISSING

Many people are unclear on the subject of social kissing. Debrett's advice is that kissing is not appropriate in many professional situations. On the whole, it should only be used among friends, but not on a first meeting. An air kiss, without contact, may seem rude or impersonal, so very slight contact is best, but no sound effects are needed.

EATING AND PUTTING ON MAKE-UP ON PUBLIC TRANSPORT

According to Debrett's, you should avoid both. It's inconsiderate to eat smelly food in a closed environment, and applying make-up on public transport makes you appear disorganized.

RECLINING YOUR SEAT ON AEROPLANES

This is a common problem. Debrett's says that it's selfish to recline your seat during short daytime flights. When travelling by plane, always stay within your own space and don't monopolize the armrest. Also avoid kicking the back of the seat in front of you, or using it to help you stand up.

GIVING UP YOUR SEAT ON PUBLIC TRANSPORT

In a recent experiment, only 20% of London Tube passengers offered to give up their seat to a visibly pregnant woman. According to Debrett's, passengers should always offer to give up their seat to any individual who is pregnant, elderly, or clearly in need. It is important to remember, however, that it is also rude to aggressively decline the offer of a seat.

EATING BEFORE EVERYONE IS SERVED

The final question is one that we've all asked ourselves: is it rude to start eating at the table before everyone else has been served? Debrett's says that the simple answer is yes, unless the host or hostess (or in a restaurant, the other diners) gives their permission for people to start.

- e Ask and answer the questions with a partner.
- How do you think it's appropriate to greet a male or female friend?
 - What else do you think people shouldn't do on public transport?
 - What do you think passengers ought not to do on planes?
 - How else do you think it's appropriate to help elderly people?
 - What else do you think you should ask your host or hostess for permission to do?
 - Do you think manners are important? Why (not)?

6 LISTENING

- a 4.9 You're going to listen to a radio phone-in programme about manners. First, listen and make notes about the three people's problems with rude relatives.

1 Belinda's problem with her mother-in-law
2 Damien's problem with his brother
3 Miranda's problem with her nephew

- b With a partner, decide what advice you would give the three callers.
- c 4.10 Listen and complete some extracts from the advice that Sarah gives.

Advice for Belinda

1 I think you ought to be the one _____.

2 You shouldn't _____ because she won't change her opinion.

Advice for Damien

3 I think you should politely but directly _____.

4 To be honest, you don't really have to _____.

Advice for Miranda

5 You must _____ before their next visit.

6 Explain that he has to _____ a bit when he's visiting.

7 'You mustn't _____.'

- d 4.11 Now listen to the whole programme. Do you agree with Sarah's advice? Is there anything else you would suggest?

7 SPEAKING

- a Read the questionnaire. What do you think? Mark each thing GM (good manners), BM (bad manners), or NI (not important).

Good manners? Bad manners? Not important?

When greeting people...

- use more formal language when speaking to an older person.
- kiss somebody on both cheeks when you meet them for the first time.
- use your partner's parents' first names.

Men and women – a man should...

- pay for the meal on a first date.
- hold the door open for a woman, or wait for her to go through the door first.
- accompany a woman home.

When you're invited to somebody's house for a meal...

- take a present.
- take your shoes off when you arrive.
- criticize the food (e.g. if it's too cold, salty, etc.).
- send a message the next day to say thank you.

When you're having a meal with friends in a restaurant...

- complain that the food isn't very good.
- insist on only paying for exactly what you ate or drank when the bill is being divided up.
- be very affectionate with your partner.

On social networking sites...

- post a photo or video clip of a friend without asking their permission.
- make a negative comment about somebody's photo.
- post a private message or conversation.

- b In groups, compare your opinions for each thing, and say why.

Saying what you think is right

I don't think people should...

I think it's	rude selfish inappropriate bad manners	to...
I don't think	it's important to...
I hate it I don't mind it It really annoys me	you have to... when...

- c Look at conversations 1 and 2 in b again. Complete the sentences.

- 1 You can't use _____ in the infinitive or present perfect.
- 2 Be able to means the same as _____.

- d G p.139 Grammar Bank 4B

- e Look at the topics. Choose two or three and think about what you could say about them.

- something that you would like to be able to do
- something you've tried to learn, but have never been able to do well
- something you learned to do after a lot of effort
- something you can do, but you'd like to be able to do better
- something you think all young people should be able to do before they leave school

- f Work with a partner. Tell him or her about the things you chose in e. Give reasons or explanations for each one.

I'd like to be able to ski, but I don't think I'll ever learn, because I don't live near the mountains.

2 PRONUNCIATION sentence stress

- a 4.15 Listen to four sentences. Write the stressed words in the pink boxes.

- b Look at the stressed words and try to remember the unstressed words. Then listen again to check and write them in.

- c Listen again and repeat the sentences. Copy the rhythm.

- d 4.16 Listen and make new sentences with the verbs or verb phrases you hear.

1 i I'd love to be able to ski.

ride a horse i I'd love to be able to ride a horse.

2 i We won't be able to come.

park i We won't be able to park.

3 LISTENING

- a Read the text. Do you believe Malcolm Gladwell or Josh Kaufman?

Learn a new skill in 20 hours

It was Malcolm Gladwell, the popular writer on modern psychology, who popularized the idea that it takes 10,000 hours of practice to really master a new skill, such as playing the piano. But in this non-stop world, who has that kind of time? In his book The First 20 Hours, Josh Kaufman tells you how to learn any new skill really quickly. By completing just 20 hours of focused practice, you'll be able to go from knowing absolutely nothing to performing well. But is it really possible? Matt Rudd, a Sunday Times journalist, decided to give it a try.

- b Read about Matt's past experience of learning the trumpet. Why do you think he gave up so fast?

Matt Rudd learns the trumpet

I haven't played a musical instrument for years. Five years ago, I got a trumpet for my birthday and I tried to learn it, but I gave up after seven minutes, and it ended up in the garage. So here I am, a beginner again.

- c 4.17 Listen and match the sounds with the music words in bold.

- three different musical instruments playing together
- five notes from C to G
- a high note and a low note
- an octave
- a tune
- somebody busking

- d 4.18 Now listen to Matt talking about his experience. Choose the best summary.

- 1 He didn't learn anything at all.
- 2 He learned something, but not enough.
- 3 He learned a lot.

- e Listen again. For each stage, circle the correct word or phrase.

1 hour

He feels optimistic / pessimistic.

2 hours

He feels pleased / unhappy with his progress.

5 hours

He thinks the online trumpet teacher is annoying / great.

9 hours

He's frustrated by how little he can play / He's happy because he can play simple tunes.

14 hours

He's really enjoying himself / He's depressed and wants to give up.

15 hours

Matilda Lloyd tells him he's doing well / badly.

17 hours

He feels optimistic again / disappointed.

20 hours

He thinks he'll probably give up / He thinks he'll be able to improve.

- f Do you think Matt will continue learning the trumpet. Why (not)?

4 SPEAKING

Work in small groups. Answer the question below for the different skills.

How well do you think you'd be able to do these things after learning for 20 hours?

play a musical instrument speak a new language draw a portrait drive design and build a website take professional-quality photos cook a three-course meal

dance the tango

ski or windsurf

give first aid

5 VOCABULARY

-ed / -ing adjectives

- a Complete the sentences with annoyed or annoying.

- 1 Matt thought the online trumpet teacher was _____.
- 2 Matt was _____ because he could only play simple tunes.

-ed and -ing adjectives

Many adjectives for feelings have two possible forms, ending in -ed or -ing, e.g. annoyed and annoying.

We use the adjective ending in -ed for the person who has the feeling, e.g. Matt. We use the adjective ending in -ing for the person or situation that produces the feeling, e.g. the trumpet teacher.

- b Read the information box. Then complete the adjectives with -ed or -ing.

- 1 What music do you listen to if you feel depress_____?
- 2 What do you think is the most excit_____ sport to watch?
- 3 What's the most amaz_____ scenery you've ever seen?
- 4 Have you ever been disappoint_____ by a birthday present?
- 5 Which do you find more tir_____, clothes shopping or food shopping?
- 6 What's the most embarrass_____ thing that's ever happened to you?
- 7 Are you frighten_____ of heights?
- 8 Do you usually feel very tir_____ in the morning?
- 9 What's the most bor_____ film you've ever seen?
- 10 Do you ever get frustrat_____ by technology?

- c  4.19 Listen and check. Underline the stressed syllable in the adjectives.

- d Ask and answer the questions in b with a partner. Ask for more information.

6 READING & SPEAKING

- a How long have you been learning English? Has anyone ever given you a useful tip which has helped you learn?
- b Read some tips on a forum for learning English outside class. Do you do any of these things?

Does anyone have any good tips for practising English outside class? I'm a B1 level (I think – I hope!) and I'm studying in Colombia...

Nelson, Medellín

Comments

1  One very easy thing you can do is to change the language to English on your phone, laptop, or tablet. That way, you're reading English every day and you learn a lot of vocabulary without really noticing – for example, the things you see on your screen. I've found it really helpful.
Sara, Brazil

2  My tip is to do things that you already like doing, but in English. So, for example, if you're interested in a sport or in photography, read about it in English. If you like the cinema, watch films in English with subtitles. I'm interested in jazz, so I read magazines and articles online in English. For me, it's better than reading books. Marc, Switzerland

3  The thing that really helped me to improve my English was having an Australian boyfriend. He didn't speak any Hungarian, so we spoke English all the time, and I improved really quickly. So my tip is: try to find an English-speaking boyfriend or girlfriend! Ágnes, Hungary

4  I think that learning vocabulary is very important, so I got a vocabulary app for my phone. It has a lot of useful words, all in categories, but it also lets me add my own words and phrases, too. The best thing is that I can test myself whenever I get a quiet moment, like on the bus, and it just takes a couple of minutes. Vasily, Russia

5  My tip is to learn to sing songs in English. First, I find the words online and try to understand them. Then I go to YouTube and sing along with the singer and try to copy the way he or she sings – fantastic for your pronunciation. Then, when I can do it well, I get a karaoke version of the song and I sing it. It's fun, and my English has improved.
Sandra, Italy

6  Practise saying things in your head. It could be anything – you could describe your job or your holiday plans, or talk about yourself or your family, or what's happening in the news. Then, when you really need to speak English, it's easier, because you've done it in your head. (I do this on the way to my English class every week.) Marta, Mexico

- c Read the tips again and match them to something that you think the person has learned to say in English.

- d Look at two sentences with reflexive pronouns from the tips in b. How do you say them in your language? Then read the information box.

- 1 I can test myself whenever I get a quiet moment.
2 ...talk about yourself or your family...

Reflexive pronouns

We use reflexive pronouns (myself, yourself, etc.) when the object of a verb is the same as the subject. We can also use reflexive pronouns to emphasize the subject of an action, e.g. I painted the kitchen myself.

- e Which subject pronouns do these words go with?

themselves herself ourselves yourselves himself itself

- f 4.20 Listen and say the sentences with different pronouns.

- 1 She's cut herself. You... You've cut yourself.

- g Talk to a partner.

- Which of the tips in b do you think are the best for learning English? Are there any you don't think would work for you?
- Are there any tips that you could easily put into practice?
- What other things do you do to improve your English outside class (e.g. visit chat websites, listen to audiobooks)?

How to be the perfect car passenger

With the holidays just about to start and millions of cars hitting the roads at once, now's the time to consider how car passengers can help drivers. Think about how you would like your passengers to behave if you were the driver – this will make you more conscious of your actions while being a passenger yourself.

A

Don't wait for the driver to tell you to put it on, or refuse to put it on when asked to.

B

Advise the driver on the best route to take. However, don't shout or advise them too close to a turning, as this can make the driver panic or turn suddenly, leading to a possible accident.

C

You can always comment on someone's driving, as long as it's a friendly suggestion. But don't attack the driver about their driving, especially if they're inexperienced. Let them take their time and drive the way that is most comfortable for them, not you.

D

Talking to the driver helps to pass the time and stops them from falling asleep. However, talking too loudly or singing along to the radio can distract the driver and possibly cause an accident.

E

Listening to the radio while driving makes the journey more enjoyable. However, don't assume that the driver wants to listen to everything that you want to listen to. It's better to allow the driver to choose the style of music. If the driver needs to concentrate, help them by turning the volume down, and don't have the radio on too loud in general.

F

You deserve to feel safe and be treated with consideration. If you notice that the driver is going above the speed limit, don't immediately shout at them, as they might not be aware of it themselves. However, if you can see that the driver is speeding and not driving safely, you should tell them to slow down and drive more carefully.

- C the disadvantages of superstitions
- D the psychological effects of superstitions

- d Read the article again. With a partner, explain why the following examples are mentioned.

Paragraph 1:

Cristiano Ronaldo's right foot and Serena Williams's ball

Paragraph 2:

lucky golf balls and lucky charms

Paragraph 3:

adrenaline and other chemicals

Paragraph 4:

two players with the same superstition

- e Talk to a partner.

- Do you know of any other sports players who are superstitious? What do they do?
- Do you have any superstitions, e.g. when you are playing or watching sport, or when you do an exam, or when you travel?

Do 'lucky socks' really work?

"I'm not superstitious either, but those were the days Harris wore his lucky socks."

1 Sport has always been full of superstitions, even for the best athletes in the world. Long-distance runner Mo Farah always shaves his head before a race. Judo star Kayla Harrison always wears the lucky socks that were a gift from her grandmother. Footballer Cristiano Ronaldo always steps onto the pitch with his right foot first. And tennis legend Serena Williams always bounces the ball five times before a first serve, and twice before a second serve.

2 Do actions like this have any real effect on sports results? According to a study at the University of Cologne, it seems that they can increase confidence and a sense of control, which might help athletes. The study showed that people who were given a golf ball that they were told was 'lucky' played better than those who used a 'normal' ball. And it isn't just sports. In another experiment, people who were allowed to carry their lucky charm performed better at memory tests than people without one. The researchers concluded that superstitions make people feel more confident, which makes them perform better.

3 Superstitions may also have a positive physical effect. Dan Abrahams, a sports psychologist, says that sporting rituals can cause the release of adrenaline and other chemicals which help the athlete to focus better.

4 Most psychologists, however, say that superstitions can be bad as well as good. Abrahams tells the story of a professional football club where two players had the same superstition – they both had to be the last person to leave the changing room before the game. They couldn't agree how to solve the problem, and it had a really negative effect on them and on the team. And what happens if you sit down to take an exam and realize you've forgotten your lucky pen?

5 LISTENING

6 GRAMMAR past tenses

- a Read the article about Alistair Brownlee. What did he do?
- b Paragraph 2 tells the story of what happened. Most of the verbs are past simple, but there are two examples of the past continuous, and four of the past perfect. Can you find them? Why are they used?

Alistair sacrifices gold... to help his brother

Nobody will remember who won the world triathlon in Cozumel, Mexico, in 2016. Instead, they will remember the sacrifice of Alistair Brownlee, who stopped to help his brother, Jonny, instead of winning the gold medal himself.

As Jonny, 26, entered the last kilometre of the 10 km run, he was winning by a long way – he'd gone very fast in the swimming and cycling stages. But then he began to feel ill, because he hadn't drunk enough in the hot conditions, and he stopped at the side of the road. His brother, Alistair, was running behind him, but when he saw that Jonny had stopped, he didn't run past him to win the race. Instead, in a wonderful act of brotherly love, he took his brother's arm and helped him to run the final few hundred metres. Seconds before they reached the finishing line, South African Henri Schoeman, who had been behind them until then, ran past them both and won the gold medal.

Alistair said, 'It was a natural human reaction to my brother, but for anyone, I would have done the same thing.'

Tiffany's story

THE WAY WE MET

Three years ago, I stopped at the supermarket on my way home from work to get some food. After checking out, I walked out of the store and pressed the unlock button on my car keys to open my white Jeep Cherokee. But as I got nearer, I noticed the rear door on the passenger's side was already open and there was a guy standing beside it. At first, I thought he was trying to steal my car, or rob me. But when I got a little nearer, I noticed he was actually unloading his shopping into the car. I was scared. I went up to him nervously and said, 'Um, hi.' He said, 'Hi,' and looked at me in surprise while he continued to unload his shopping. Then I said, 'Um, this is my car.' He laughed at me as if I was crazy and replied, 'No, it isn't, it's mine.' So I pressed the lock button on my car keys to show him that it was definitely my car. His face turned white.

Kristina's story

THE WAY WE MET

I came to New York to do a Master's degree in Creative Writing. Matt was a personal trainer, and he was studying for his doctorate in Chinese medicine at another university in New York. At the time, I used to do a lot of running – I'd run two marathons – and I started to get really bad back pain. I saw lots of doctors, and they all said different things, like 'do yoga' and 'maybe you need an operation'. None of them knew what was wrong. The final one suggested acupuncture, so I thought I'd try it as a last resort. When I walked into the clinic for the session, I saw Matt. He was the acupuncturist. The moment we looked into each other's eyes, we connected. But he didn't ask me out; he was very professional. On my last session, I asked him how old he was. He said he'd be 29 the following week, but that he wasn't going to celebrate, because he had to study.

1 READING

- a Look at the definition of an extra and the photos in the article. In pairs, can you think of three negative things about being an extra?

extra /'ekstra/ n. a person who is employed to play a very small part in a film, usually as a member of a crowd

- c Read the article again. Complete the paragraph headings with words from the list.

expensive miming ordinary patient real secrets weather

- b Read the article. Are your ideas mentioned?

The world of extras

Without extras, most film and TV scenes would be empty and unrealistic. But while we're obsessed with movie stars, we never hear much about the extras, because, of course, that's their job – not to be noticed. So what is the world of extras really like?

1 They have to be _____.

Days on set can be very long, sometimes lasting more than 15 hours. A lot of that time is spent just sitting around, waiting to be used in a scene, or repeating a single shot a dozen times. Extras usually spend their 'waiting time' reading or playing cards. 'There are days you get to the set and you wait and wait, but you aren't used,' says Amy Rogers, a regular extra in TV shows, including Homeland.

2 They need to be good at _____.

Extras often need to make a scene appear alive and busy, while at the same time remaining totally silent so as not to interfere with the actors' dialogue. This means they have to pretend to have a conversation without actually making any noise. Also, dance scenes are often filmed in silence and the music is added in later. When a crowd scene was being filmed for the movie Jersey Girl, the extras had to pretend to clap and cheer. But it was all done in silence, and when they clapped, their hands never touched.

3 They have to put up with all kinds of _____.

Sometimes, when a winter scene is being filmed, and all the extras are wearing thick jackets and hats and gloves, it's actually 30 degrees and the snow is fake. You can tell whether it's really cold if you can see the breath coming out of people's mouths. Also, when scenes are being filmed inside during the summer, the air conditioning has to be turned off because of the noise.

4 They have to be able to keep _____.

Phones aren't allowed on set, and photos are strictly forbidden. While the film Insurgent was being made, one extra took a photo of the set and posted it online. Since then, she has never been employed as an extra again.

- d Work in pairs. Can you answer these questions from memory? Then quickly look back at the article to check.
- 1 What do extras often do while they're waiting?
 - 2 What did the extras have to do in the crowd scene in Jersey Girls?
 - 3 How do you know if the snow is real or not in winter scenes?
 - 4 What did an extra do during the filming of Insurgent, and what happened as a result?
 - 5 Why are a lot of British films made in Eastern Europe?
 - 6 Why are inflatable extras popular nowadays?
 - 7 What happens when extras watch TV?
- e Do you know anybody who's been an extra? What in? Why do you think some people enjoy being extras? Would you like to be one? Why (not)?

5 They are extremely _____.

Although extras aren't individually very well paid, a film with a lot of extras needs a big production budget, especially in Britain. The cost of extras is one of the reasons why epics such as Ben-Hur are largely a thing of the past. Gandhi was the last one – the funeral scene alone needed 300,000 extras. This is why now a lot of British films are being shot in countries where extras are paid less, for example, in Eastern Europe.

6 Sometimes they are not _____.

Nowadays, where possible, crowds are digitized. In Gladiator, they used 2,000 live actors to create a digital crowd of about 35,000 people. For some of the crowd scenes, in addition to the real-life extras and the digital ones, they also used cut-outs made of cardboard. But digital extras can look fake, and cardboard extras can look very two-dimensional, particularly if the camera moves. The latest thing is inflatable extras, which look more real. They can be deflated, stored – a crowd of 10,000 can fit into one large truck – and reused.

7 They can't watch films like _____ people.

Once you know how a movie has been filmed, it's hard to just watch it like any other person. 'I can't watch TV any more without looking at the extras to see who's doing it right and who's doing it wrong,' said one extra.

5 LISTENING

- a Read about the film Schindler's List. Have you seen it? If yes, did you like it? If no, would you like to see it? What other Spielberg films have you seen and enjoyed?

Schindler's List is a 1993 historical epic directed by Steven Spielberg. The film is based on the true story of Oskar Schindler, a Czech businessman, who saved the lives of more than a thousand Polish-Jewish refugees during the Second World War. The film was shot in black and white. It stars Liam Neeson, Ralph Fiennes, and Ben Kingsley. It is often listed among the greatest films ever made, and it won seven Oscars, including Best Picture and Best Director.

- b 6.7 Look at the photos of Dagmara Walkowicz and Spielberg. Where were they and what do you think Dagmara was doing in the black-and-white photo? Listen to Part 1 of an interview with Dagmara and check.

- c Listen again and mark the sentences T (true) or F (false). Correct the F sentences.

- When the film company came to Krakow, Dagmara was working as a teacher.
- She got a job doing translations for them.
- There was a party at the hotel to celebrate Spielberg's birthday.
- Spielberg's interpreter was late.
- Dagmara was very nervous, so she drank a bottle of champagne to give herself courage.
- Spielberg was very pleased with the way she did her job.

Making notes

When we make notes, we only write down key words, e.g. we write film set every day NOT She had to go to the film-set every day.

- d 6.8 Now listen to three extracts from Part 2 of the interview. Complete the gaps with the key words.

- I had to go to the [] and [] and [] Spielberg's [] to the Polish [], and also to the [].
- It was [], and I often felt as if I was a [] [].
- The [] was when we had to [] a [] [] and [] because Spielberg thought it [] exactly [].

- e 6.9 You're now going to listen to the whole of Part 2. Read the questions. Then listen and write down some of the key words.

- How many times were some scenes repeated? How did that make Dagmara feel?
- Why did Spielberg start shouting at her? What happened after that?
- In general, how did Spielberg treat her? What example does she give?
- What scenes was she going to appear in as an extra? Why did she not appear in the final version of the film?
- Did she ever work with Spielberg again?
- What offer did Spielberg make to Dagmara? Does she regret not accepting it?

- f Compare your key words with a partner. Then listen again and try to add more.

- g Now, with a partner, answer the questions in e. Use your key words.

- h Would you like to have done Dagmara's job? Do you think she made the right decision in the end?

Choosing a profile photo is a serious business. It will be the first thing old school friends, jealous exes, and even potential bosses see when they search for you online. Your image depends entirely on your choice of photo. Here are the most common types of profile photo on social media. Is yours one of them? And if so, what does it say about you?

What it says about you You are quite boring. If it's a selfie, you are quite annoying.

A cute picture of you as a baby.

What it says about you You are the type of person who thinks that everything used to be better than it is now. You still listen to the same music, wear the same clothes, and love the same things you did at school, and you'll probably never change.

The pet

Your pet looking adorable.

What it says about you It depends on what kind of animal it is. Cat: You are a woman without a boyfriend. Dog: You are a man without a girlfriend. Snake: You are a teenage boy or death metal fan.

Man, woman, dress, suit – you know, the usual.

What it says about you You want everyone to think that you are a grown-up. You don't go out and have a good time any more. No, you are married! Also, you don't feel you exist as an individual any more, and don't have any friends of your own.

A photo of your children / baby.

What it says about you The main thing you have accomplished in your adult life is having children. You used to be fun and fabulous and have a lot of friends, but now all you talk about is nappies and children's TV.

The popular culture reference

What it says about you You have no personality of your own. Your identity depends on your entertainment choices – television, music, sci-fi, literary, or other. You own at least two T-shirts with stupid slogans on them.

You, often with other people, enjoying yourself at a party.

What it says about you You are young and stupid, and will be fired from at least one job for something you posted on Facebook. One day, you might regret this picture and replace it with a wedding picture, and then photos of your children.

What it says about you You are technologically incompetent and don't know what a jpeg is; or you think you're too busy to find a photo; or you think not having a photo is 'cool'. Having no profile photo is annoying for everybody else. Get a photo.

- c Now read a positive interpretation of each type of profile photo and match it to A–H.
- 1 You adore animals – in fact, in many ways, you prefer them to people.
 - 2 You are a normal person and are happy with your appearance.
 - 3 You're a dedicated parent and your children always come first.
 - 4 You're a very private person. You prefer to talk to people face to face rather than use social media.
 - 5 You're very up to date – you know everything about the latest films, TV, and books.
 - 6 Your friends and your social life are what matter most to you.
 - 7 The day you got married was the happiest day of your life.
 - 8 You had a wonderful childhood.
- d Talk to a partner.
- Is your profile photo type included? If yes, do you agree with any of the positive or negative interpretations of your profile photo(s)? If not, what is your interpretation of your photo?
 - Can you think of any friends or family members whose photos fit with the interpretations in the article?

2 GRAMMAR modals of deduction

- a 6.10 Listen to two people talking about a photo. Complete the sentences.

A I love your profile picture. How old are you in the photo?

B I ¹ be about five or six. Definitely not more than that.

A Where are you?

B Do you know, I can't remember. It ² be the south of France.

My grandmother had a house near Montpellier, so we sometimes spent the summer there.

A It ³ be the south of France – not in summer. You're wearing boots and a sweater! And it doesn't look like a Mediterranean beach.

B No, you're right. It ⁴ be Scotland, then. We sometimes went there.

- b Look at the highlighted modal verbs and answer the questions.

- 1 Which modal verbs mean it's possible? might, _____
- 2 Which modal verb means it's very probable? _____
- 3 Which modal verb means it's impossible? _____

- c p.143 Grammar Bank 6B

- d Look at the photos of four people. Make four deductions about each person, one with must, one with might / could / may, and one with can't + the phrases in the list. You can use the phrases more than once.

- be American be Asian be English be Mexican be Spanish
- be a criminal be a millionaire be a model be a politician be a sportsperson
- have a degree
have a fashion business have a good job have a grandchild have an Olympic medal
- be in his / her 20s
be in his / her 30s
be in his / her 50s
be in his / her 80s

(I think) he might be English.

True, but he could be American, too.

- e Communication Judging by appearances p.107 Find out who the four people are. Were you surprised?

3 VOCABULARY the body

- a Look at the three photos. What do the people look like?

Who...?

- 1 is tall and thin

- 3 is bald and slightly overweight
- 4 has dark curly hair
- 5 has a beard
- 6 is quite short and slim

- b V p.160 Vocabulary Bank The body

- c 6.16 Listen and follow the instructions.

4 PRONUNCIATION diphthongs

Diphthongs

Diphthongs are a combination of two short vowel sounds, e.g. the /eɪ/ sound and the /aʊ/ sound said together make the longer /ea/ sound.

- a 6.17 Read the information box. Then listen and repeat the words and sounds below.

- b Write the words from the list in the correct columns.

bite eyes face hair mouth nose shoulders smile stare taste throw toes

- c 6.18 Listen and check. Then practise saying the phrases below.

fair hair narrow shoulders a wide mouth brown eyes a Roman nose a round face

- d Do the quiz with a partner. Answer with your / their + a part of the body.

Which part(s) of the body...?

- 1 do you wear a ring on gloves on socks on a cap on
- 2 do ballet dancers stand on
- 3 do footballers often injure
- 4 do women put make-up on
- 5 do people brush
- 6 do people carry a rucksack on

5 READING & LISTENING

- a Read the definition of charisma. Can you name any public figures who you think have charisma?

charisma /kə'rɪzma/ n. the powerful personal quality that some people have which attracts and impresses other people

- b Look at the photo on p.63. One of the men is a journalist and one is a charisma coach. Who do you think is who? Why?

- c Read the beginning of the journalist's article and check your answer to b. Answer the questions.

- 1 What experience does Danish Sheikh have?
- 2 Is he successful?
- 3 What did he do yesterday? Why?
- 4 What problems does Colin have?

- d With a partner, tick (✓) any of the things in the list that you think a person with charisma does.

A person with charisma...

- 1 shows other people what he / she is like
- 2 makes other people feel important
- 3 talks a lot about himself / herself
- 4 never says anything about himself / herself
- 5 is self-confident
- 6 stands with his / her feet apart and arms wide
- 7 makes eye contact, but doesn't stare
- 8 uses a lot of hand gestures
- 9 speaks very slowly
- 10 listens to people carefully

- e 6.19 Listen to Colin talking about what he learns. Check your answers to d.

Can you learn how to be charismatic?

Colin Drury and Danish Sheikh

In the 21st century, charisma is the quality that people in all fields of life, from business to politics, would most like to have. But can you learn it? The man I have just met thinks so. His name is Danish Sheikh, and he is a charisma coach. He has worked with Microsoft, Yahoo, and the BBC, and he thinks he can turn anyone into George Clooney. He charges £150 an hour, and plenty of people are paying. And for two days, I'm going to be his student.

Yesterday, he followed me everywhere and watched how I behaved with people – in shops, in the hairdresser's, and in work meetings. His impressions of me are not good – for example, I can't make conversation, I have negative body language, and I don't smile enough. I also seem bored when I'm talking to people.

'But don't worry!' Sheikh says, cheerfully. 'We're going to fix all this.'

f Listen again. What does Colin say about...?

- 1 talking about yourself
- 2 remembering a past success
- 3 how to enter a room
- 4 what happens if you aren't really listening g ① 6.20 At the end of the two days, Colin has a practical test. Listen and summarize.

- 1 In the pub, Colin has to...
- 2 Sheikh helps him by...
- 3 In the end, Colin thinks that charisma is about...

h Look at these 'body' phrases from the listening. Can you demonstrate them?

stand with your feet apart have your chin up and your shoulders back make eye contact use hand gestures cross your arms shake hands give a thumbs up i Do you think it's possible to teach people to have charisma? Would you ever do a course like this? Why (not)?

CAN YOU understand this text?

- a Read the article once. What does the article say is the best exercise for all body types?

What is the best sport for your body type?

Just because someone has dreamt of playing football from childhood does not mean it is the best sport for him or her. Finding the sport your body is best suited to can make a big difference to how much you enjoy it and how good at it you are.

A person with an ectomorph body type is tall and slim with little fat or muscle. This person has narrow shoulders, chest, and hips, and thin arms and legs. Ectomorphs have difficulty putting on weight because of a fast metabolism.¹ What suits ectomorphs is endurance sports. Marathon running, swimming, and football are excellent choices for them.² Basketball may also be a great option. Ectomorphs also generally do well in gymnastics.

Mesomorph body types are the stereotypical image of an athlete.³ Mesomorphs can put on or lose weight easily and build muscle quickly.⁴ Possibilities range from weightlifting and boxing to athletic sprinting and cycling for shorter distances.

A person who is an endomorph naturally carries more body fat.⁵ They are often short, with a high waist, and well developed upper arms and thighs. While it may seem that an endomorph will not be very athletic, they can be very good at power sports because of their larger mass.⁶ But strength activities like wrestling, discus-throwing, or power-lifting can be a great fit.

A few extra considerations

It is important to note that the three body types are extremes. No one is 100% ectomorph or completely endomorph.⁷ Another key point is that diet and environment also contribute to athletic ability and genetics plays a large part. And the most important thing is to choose a sport you enjoy. The best exercise of all is the one that you will do!

- b Read the article again. Complete the gaps with A–G.

- A A person with this body type has more choice of sports
- B For the same reason, it takes them longer to build muscle
- C Their arms and legs are muscular and they have broad shoulders and narrow hips
- D Everyone is a bit of a mix
- E If a person with this body type is very tall
- F It is difficult for them to lose weight, but they gain muscle rapidly
- G This body type is not suited for agility and speed

 - 2 Would secondary school students in your country be shocked by the Chinese education system? Why (not)?
 - 3 Would you prefer to study in a British school or a Chinese one? Where would you prefer to work as a teacher?

Chinese v British – which education system is better?

According to the latest studies, Asian countries have better education systems than most Western countries, and in some subjects, Asian students are three years ahead of Western students of the same age.

In this unique experiment, five teachers from China come to a British school for four weeks to teach maths, science, and Mandarin to half of the Year 9 students, aged 13 and 14. The rest of the students in Year 9 will have their normal British teachers. After four weeks, the two groups will take tests to see which teaching style gets better results.

So, can British schools learn from the highly successful Chinese education system? Will the 12-hour days and strict discipline produce better results? Week 1 of the experiment is a shock for the students...

5 GRAMMAR first conditional and future time clauses + when, until, etc.

- a In pairs, answer the questions.

Is it really worth going to uni?

Comments

- 1 It depends what you want to do. Some degrees are worth it, like medicine or dentistry. But I think media studies, and things like that, are a waste of time.
- 2 Uni gives you the time and space to find out what you really want to do in life. And it has a lot of social benefits, like friends, clubs – that sort of thing.
- 3 There are so many better alternatives out there, in my opinion. I got a place at uni to do accountancy, but I chose to do an apprenticeship. All my friends are now at uni and in debt. I'm 20 and I'm earning money and learning on the job.
- 4 It still amazes me how everyone thinks that uni is the only solution to their future. Trust me, it isn't. Some people are just not made for uni.
- 5 I'm a software engineer at a global tech company. A degree is preferred, but not essential. The recruitment team always say if they have two people, and one is self-taught and has experience, and the other has just finished uni with no experience, they'll choose the first. But often they ask for a degree AND experience.

7 SPEAKING

- a In small groups, each choose a different topic from the list. Decide if you agree or disagree and write down at least three reasons.

School

- School doesn't prepare students for life. They should be taught practical things, like childcare, and how to cook healthy food.
- Physical education should be optional, and boys and girls should be taught PE separately.
- Primary pupils shouldn't get any homework, and secondary students not more than one hour a night during the week.
- Schools should spend most of the time on maths, science, and IT, and less on arts subjects like history and literature.

University

- University courses are too long. They should be a maximum of two years.
- University students shouldn't be allowed to have jobs during term-time.
- Students should choose to study a subject they love, not necessarily one that will get them a good job.
- University students should live independently, not with their parents.

- b Explain to the rest of your group what you think about your topic. The others in the group should listen. At the end, they can vote for whether they agree or disagree with you, and say why.

Organizing and presenting your opinions

The topic I've chosen is...

I	completely agree	that...
	partly agree completely disagree

First of all, (I think that...)

My second point is that...

Another important point is that...

I like living with my parents.

I don't. If I could afford it, I'd move out.

1 READING & SPEAKING

- a With a partner, look at the photos and answer the questions.

- 1 Where do you think these young people are living? Which do you think is the most comfortable place to live? Why?
- 2 Which place would you prefer to live in? Why?
- 3 Where do you live? How comfortable is it? Who do you live with? Do you get on well? Do you argue about anything? What?

- b Look at the title of the article. With a partner, think of one advantage and one disadvantage of living with your parents when you're an adult.
- c Read the article. Were your ideas in the list?

Things you know if you still live with your parents

In the UK, 25% of young adults aged 20–34 still live at home with their parents. This has gone up by 20% in the last 20 years. So what are the pros and cons?

The downside

- It doesn't ¹ _____ how old you are, you'll always be a child to them. They'll tell you to put a coat on every time you leave the house.
- It's really ² _____ when you meet new people to admit you're still sleeping in your childhood bedroom.
- You have to ³ _____ them know all your movements and text them to say you're going to be home late.
- 99% of the time after a night out, your parents will be ⁴ _____, waiting for you – even if it's 4.00 a.m.

- Every day of your life, you ⁵ _____, 'You treat this house like a hotel.'
- You become the household IT technician. If anything goes ⁶ _____ in the house to do with phones, broadband, or TV, you're called to the rescue.

But on the other hand...

- At weekends, you wake up with the smell of bacon and eggs.
- The fridge and cupboards always have something in them, and generally a lot better than you could ⁷ _____.

- There's nothing better than home-cooked food, and you've ⁸ _____ that you'll never be able to cook as well as your parents.
- You've also realized that your mum has magical laundry powers that ⁹ _____ all the stains from your washing and make it super clean.
- You had no idea how much ¹⁰ _____ cost. In fact, you didn't even know until recently that you had to pay for water!

So, despite how much you complain about still living with your parents, you know perfectly well that they've allowed you to save money, you have somewhere (nice) to live for far less than the cost of renting elsewhere, and they fill your stomachs with good food. And for that, you're eternally grateful.

- a Read some comments posted in response to the article in 1. Do they want to leave their parents' home? Why (not)?

Vivienne@Montreal, Canada

I know there's a good side, but all I want is somewhere that's my own, where I can do what I want, where I can have my own furniture and pictures, where no one can tell me what to do. If I had the money, I'd move out immediately.

Marco@Naples, Italy

I'm perfectly happy living with my parents. If I lived on my own, I'd have to pay rent and do the housework and the cooking. Here, somebody else cooks and cleans, I have a nice room... Why would I want to leave? Even if I could afford it, I wouldn't move out. Not until I get married...

Andrea@Melbourne, Australia

It isn't that my parents aren't good to me – they are. If they weren't, I wouldn't live with them. But I'm 29 and I just don't feel independent.

Carlos@Valencia, Spain

I'd love to move out. I get on well with my parents, but I think I'd get on with them even better if I didn't live at home. My mum drives me mad – it isn't her fault, but she does. And I'd really like to have a dog, but my mum is allergic to them.

- 1 the Dragons invested in and has been successful
- 2 the Dragons didn't invest in and has been a failure
- 3 the Dragons didn't invest in, but has been very successful

In the DRAGONS' DEN

Dragons' Den is a UK TV series, with similar versions in many different countries, which has been on TV every year since the original show in 2005. In the UK programme, contestants have three minutes to present their ideas for a product or service to five very successful business people. These people are nicknamed 'the Dragons', and the intimidating room where they meet the contestants is 'the Den'. The Dragons, who are multi-millionaires, are prepared to invest money in any business that they believe might be a success. In return, they take a share in the profits. The contestants are usually young entrepreneurs, product designers, or people with a new idea for a product or a service. They have three minutes to make their pitch, then the Dragons ask them questions about it and its possible market. Finally, the Dragons say if they are prepared to invest or not. If they are not convinced by the presentation, they say the dreaded words, 'I'm out'. So far, the Dragons have agreed to invest in more than 250 businesses.

Tingatang

Gill and Clare, from Leeds, in the north of England, designed Tingatang, a range of silver jewellery for men and women to show that they're single, in the same way that a wedding ring shows that you're married. The pair asked the Dragons to invest £500,000 in their business.

Slappie watches

David, from Birmingham, asked the Dragons for £50,000 in exchange for 25% of his watch company, Slappie. The watches, which cost under £20, are on straps of many different colours, and the watch faces are also available in different designs. The straps and watch faces can be bought separately and are interchangeable, so you can create your own watch.

Tangle Teezer

Shaun, a hairdresser from London, set up a company to produce brightly-coloured plastic hairbrushes which were especially good at untangling hair. He demonstrated the brushes on the show and asked for an £80,000 investment in exchange for 15% of his company.

When 'happy to help' becomes a problem

Jonathan Haynes

It's my lunch break. I work near King's Cross, a major London train station, and I've gone to the shopping mall there to buy a new wallet. It's a very simple shopping trip. At least, I think it's simple, but five minutes later, I'm not so sure.

As I enter the shop, a sales assistant at the far end shouts at me:

'Hi, how are you doing today? Do you need any help?'

I answer:

'I'm fine. I'm just looking, thanks.'

That should be the end of the conversation, and I go to look at the wallets.

'Hello, do you need any help?'

Here is another sales assistant, who I will call SA2.

Me: 'I'm fine, thanks. I'm just looking.'

I don't know why he needed to ask me this, as I'm certain he heard me tell his colleague.

SA2: 'Are you going anywhere nice?'

This seems a strange question. I expected, 'Are you looking for anything in particular today?' As I don't answer, he repeats the question.

SA2: 'Are you going anywhere nice?'

I remember that I'm in a shop in a train station and I now understand his question.

Me: 'No. I work near here. I just came in to look for a new wallet.'

SA2: 'Where do you work?'

Me: 'Oh, er, I work in an office round the corner.'

I try to look at wallets, and hope he goes away.

SA2: 'Do you like football?'

It's a simple question, but I know that if I say yes, he will ask me questions about 'your team'. I'm not sure how this helps me to buy a wallet.

Me: 'Er, it's OK.'

SA2: 'Are you going to watch the England match?'

I want him to stop.

Me: 'No, I'm not.'

I walk to another part of the shop. The sales assistant follows me.

SA2: 'What are you doing after work?'

Me: 'I'm having dinner with a friend.'

SA2: 'Are you doing anything for the rest of the day?'

Me: 'Um, thank you for your help!'

I run away without a wallet. His never-ending questions lost him the sale. Shopping didn't use to be like this. In the USA, perhaps, but not in the UK. It is a big improvement that sales assistants nowadays acknowledge your existence and are sometimes actually helpful. But there's a difference between being helpful and trying to pretend you're a shopper's best friend.

Going the extra mile

In the age of social media, a story about a good (or bad) customer service experience is not limited to you and your friends. The best stories can go viral on social networks very quickly, bringing good or bad publicity to companies overnight. Here are five heart-warming true stories that reached millions of people because of the power of the internet.

A Nordstrom

One day, a member of the security staff in a Nordstrom department store noticed a woman crawling around on her hands and knees in the clothes department. She said she was looking for a diamond that had fallen out of her wedding ring while she was trying on clothes earlier that day. The man got down on the floor and searched with her. Then he asked a group of cleaners to help, and they searched, too. Finally, they looked through _____!

B Morton's, The Steakhouse

Peter Shankman was boarding a flight to Newark Airport, near New York. It was dinnertime, and he knew he would be starving when the plane arrived. There's a Morton's near the airport, one of Peter's favourite restaurants, so he tweeted, 'Hey, @Morton's – can you meet me at Newark Airport with a steak when I land in two hours? Thanks. ☺'. He was joking, but amazingly, when he got off the plane, in the Arrivals area there was _____.

C Ritz-Carlton Hotels

Chris Hurn's family spent their holiday at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Florida. Unfortunately, when they got home, they realized that they had left Chris's young son's favourite toy, Josbie the giraffe, at the hotel. The child was very upset, so Chris told him that Josbie was staying at the hotel for a bit of extra holiday. That evening, the hotel phoned to say that they had found Josbie. Chris thanked them and explained that he'd told his son that Josbie was having an extra holiday. Two days later, a parcel arrived. In it was Josbie, a present of a Frisbee and a football, and a photograph of _____.

D Trader Joe's

At Christmas a few years ago, in Pennsylvania, USA, it snowed so hard that an 89-year-old man couldn't leave his home. His daughter was worried that he didn't have enough food. She called several stores and asked if they would deliver food to her father's home, but they all said no. Eventually, she spoke to someone at a store called Trader Joe's. They also told her that they didn't deliver – normally. But because she was so worried, they said that they would make an exception. The employee then wished her a Merry Christmas. Half an hour later, the food arrived at her father's house, with _____!

E Apple

A man bought the latest iPad online, but when his wife saw it, she thought it was too expensive, so he immediately sent it back to Apple. He put a Post-it note on the screen that said, 'Wife said no'. Apple employees thought this was very funny, and the story reached two senior managers, who decided to do something about it. They refunded his money, but they also sent the iPad back to him with another Post-it note saying, '_____.'

- 4 report three questions that somebody has asked you today and say what you answered

IF YOU want to save money when shopping, ¹ _____ the simple rule that you've probably shouted at the kids 100 times: don't touch anything! Touching anything, from a banana to a Ferrari, makes your brain automatically place more ² _____ on an item.

This has been revealed in a study from Ohio and Illinois state universities, which investigated how much people were ³ _____ to pay for an item before and after touching it. The item was a cheap coffee mug, but just a few seconds of contact made people want to pay more for it than those who had looked but not touched.

The study, published in the journal Judgment and Decision-Making, tested 144 people and examined how much they were prepared to pay in an auction for the mug. ⁴ _____ how long they had held it. The ⁵ _____ people held the mug, the more they were prepared to pay, with those holding it for ten seconds valuing it at $2.44 and those who held it for 30 seconds valuing it at $3.91.

Some kinds of stores have been using these tactics for years; for example, car showrooms ⁶ _____ customers to test drive new cars and pet shops give people animals to hold. But Waleed Muhamma, the author of the study, was surprised how quickly people felt that, once they had touched something, it was theirs. 'People become attached and are prepared to pay more to avoid ⁷ _____ the object,' he said. He hopes that understanding how quickly they can get attached to something may help ⁸ _____ to make better decisions about what to buy.

1 LISTENING & SPEAKING

- a Answer the questions with a partner. Say what you would do and why.

What would you do if...?

- 1 somebody in the street asked you for money on your way home tonight
- 2 you were driving home at night and you saw somebody who had run out of petrol
- 3 you saw an old man being attacked in the street by a couple of teenagers
- 4 you were in a queue at a station or airport and someone asked to go in front of you because he / she was in a hurry
- 5 you were driving to work and you saw someone by the road, hitchhiking
- 6 you saw someone on a bus or train, looking really upset

- b  9.1 Read and listen to writer Bernard Hare on a radio programme talking about something that happened to him when he was a student. Then in pairs, summarize what happened. Use the words and phrases below.

the police a phone box ill the last train hitchhike from Peterborough the ticket inspector upset

- c  9.2 Decide what you think happened next. Then listen. Were you correct?

The ticket inspector

I was living in a student flat in North London when the police knocked on my door one night. I thought it was because I hadn't paid the rent for a few months, so I didn't open the door. But then I wondered if it was something to do with my mother, who I knew wasn't very well. There was no phone in the flat, and this was before the days of mobile phones, so I ran down to the nearest phone box and phoned my dad in Leeds, in the north of England. He told me that my mum was very ill in hospital and that I should go home as soon as I could.

When I got to the station, I found that I'd missed the last train to Leeds. There was a train to Peterborough, from where some local trains went to Leeds, but I would miss the connection by about 20 minutes. I decided to get the Peterborough train - I was so desperate to get home that I thought maybe I could hitchhike from Peterborough.

'Tickets, please.' I looked up and saw the ticket inspector. He could see from my eyes that I'd been crying. 'Are you OK?', he asked. 'Of course I'm OK,' I said. 'You look awful,' he continued. 'Is there anything I can do?' 'You could go away,' I said rudely.

But he didn't. He sat down and said, 'If there's a problem, I'm here to help.' The only thing I could think of was to tell him my story. When I finished, I said, 'So now you know. I'm a bit upset, and I don't feel like talking any more, OK?' 'OK,' he said, finally getting up. 'I'm sorry to hear that, son. I hope you make it home.'

I continued to look out of the window at the dark countryside. Ten minutes later, the ticket inspector came back.

- d Listen to the second part of the story again and answer the questions.

- 1 What did the ticket inspector do for Bernard?
- 2 How did Bernard react?
- 3 What did the ticket inspector then ask Bernard to do?
- 4 How did this experience change him?

- e 9.3 Listen to three people who phoned in with their stories about being helped by strangers. Which one(s) happened when the people were travelling?

 - record what happened to them every day
 - answer questions about their jobs
 - live together for a few months
 - In one experiment, the unlucky people ____.
 - didn't count the photographs correctly
 - didn't notice something important in the newspaper
 - were not able to finish the task
 - The researchers concluded that lucky people are generally ____.
 - optimistic
 - hard-working
 - ambitious
 - In a second phase of the project, Wiseman asked his volunteers to ____.
 - change their jobs
 - change their attitude
 - change their lifestyle
 - Wiseman believes that ____.
 - being lucky in your personal life is more important than being lucky at work
 - winning the lottery is as important as being lucky in your personal life
 - winning the lottery is less important than being lucky in your personal life

How to improve your luck and win the lottery twice (possibly)

Richard Wiseman

A British couple have just won £1m in the EuroMillions lottery for a remarkable second time. The chances of this happening are more than 283 billion to one. They are clearly incredibly lucky – but is there anything we can all do to increase the chances of being lucky ourselves?

1 _____ I studied the lives of more than 400 people who considered themselves either very lucky or very unlucky. I asked everyone to keep diaries, complete personality tests, and take part in experiments.

2 _____ Nor are people born lucky or unlucky. Instead, lucky and unlucky people create much of their good and bad luck by the way they think and behave. For example, in one experiment, we asked our volunteers to look through a newspaper and count the number of photographs in it. However, we didn't tell them that we had placed two opportunities in the newspaper. The first was a half-page advert clearly stating, 'STOP COUNTING. THERE ARE 43 PHOTOGRAPHS IN THIS NEWSPAPER.' A second advert later on said, 'TELL THE EXPERIMENTER YOU'VE SEEN THIS AND WIN £150.' The lucky people quickly spotted these opportunities, partly because they tended to be very relaxed. In contrast, the unlucky people focused anxiously on the task of counting the photos and so tended not to see the advertisements. Without realizing it, both groups had created their own good and bad luck.

- Lucky people create and notice opportunities by developing a relaxed attitude to life and being open to change.
- Lucky people tend to listen to their intuition and act quickly. Unlucky people tend to analyse situations too much, and are afraid to act.
- Lucky people are confident that the future will be positive, and this motivates them to try, even when they have little chance of success. Unlucky people are sure that they will fail, and so they often give up before they have begun.
- Lucky people keep going, even when they are likely to fail, and they learn from their mistakes. Unlucky people get depressed by the smallest problem, and think that the problems are their fault, even when they aren't.

I asked a group of 200 volunteers to use the four key principles and to think and behave like a lucky person. The results were remarkable. In a few months, about two-thirds of the group became happier, healthier, and more successful in their careers.

5

Unfortunately not. Lotteries are purely chance events, and nothing can really influence your chances of success. However, the good news is that being lucky in your personal life and career is far more important than winning the lottery.

Adapted from The Guardian

d Ask and answer the questions with a partner.

- 1 Do you agree with Richard Wiseman that people are not born lucky or unlucky, but can learn to make their own luck?
- 2 Can you remember a time when you were either very lucky or very unlucky? What happened?
- 3 Do you know anyone who you think is particularly lucky or unlucky? Why?
- 4 Think of a time when you were successful at something. Do you think it was because you worked hard at it, or because you were lucky and in the right place at the right time?

5 VOCABULARY making adjectives and adverbs

A few years ago, I led a large research project about luck. I studied the lives of more than 400 people who considered themselves either very lucky or very unlucky.

- a Look at the bold words in the sentences above. Which is a noun and which are adjectives? Using the word luck, can you make...?

- b Read the article about digital detox. Then answer the questions with a partner.
 - 1 What does digital detox mean?
 - 2 Do you think phone stacking is a good idea? Do you and your friends ever do it?
 - 3 What does unplug mean in the third paragraph? Do you have periods in the day or during the week when you 'unplug'? Do you enjoy life more when you're 'unplugged'?

Less time online: millions of Britons take digital detox

Taking a break from technology is on the rise. According to a recent study by Ofcom, the UK Office of Communications:

- More and more young people are 'phone stacking' when they go out for a coffee or a meal, putting their phones in the middle of the table and agreeing not to look at them. The first person who looks at their phone pays the bill!

- 34% of internet users have taken a break from their devices in the last 12 months. This break was usually for no more than a day, though some people took a break of a week, or even a month.
- The under-25s are most likely to 'unplug'. Feedback from these 'digital detoxers' is very positive – 33% said they got more done in their lives when they weren't online, and 21% said they enjoyed life more. Only 8% found the experience 'stressful'.

- c ④ 9.12 Australian journalist Anna Magee went on a three-day digital detox course run by the organization Time to Log Off. Listen to five things she said about the course. Are they positive or negative?

- d ④ 9.13 Now listen to her talking about it on a radio programme. On the whole, did she feel it was a positive or negative experience?
- e Listen again and mark the sentences T (true) or F (false). Correct the F sentences.
 - 1 A quarter of UK adults check their phones in the middle of the night.
 - 2 When Anna arrived at the house in Dorset, she felt very nervous.
 - 3 The activities were not exactly what she was expecting.
 - 4 The second day of the detox was easier than the first.
 - 5 By the third day, her ability to concentrate had improved.
 - 6 On her train journey home, she spent the time checking her phone.
 - 7 Since the detox, her weekends and evenings are technology-free.
 - 8 She enjoys her friends' company more than she used to.
- f Discuss the questions with a partner.
 - 1 If you went on a digital detox course, what do you think you would miss the most? How would you feel?
 - 2 Do you think digital detoxes are a good idea or a stupid idea? Do you think it's really necessary to take a break from technology?
 - 3 Have you been without the internet (or phone coverage) recently? Why? Did you miss it?

- b Look at the title of the article and the 11 headings. Tick (✓) the areas of your digital life that you think you need to tidy up.

11 WAYS TO TIDY UP YOUR DIGITAL LIFE

A clean, tidy room makes you feel better about your home. In the same way, a tidy phone, tablet, or computer makes you feel better about your digital life. So if your digital life is a mess, try these tips – the benefits are huge.

1 INBOX MESSAGES

Most people have too many emails in their inbox. You don't have hundreds of unopened or unanswered letters in your house, so why should you have hundreds of unopened or unanswered emails? If you can _____ an email in less than two minutes, do it right away. If it will take longer, don't leave it in your inbox – move it into a 'work in progress' folder and reply later.

2 OLD SOFTWARE OR APPS

Uninstall software or apps that you don't use. This will _____ a lot more space on your hard drive or phone.

3 PHOTOS

You wouldn't put bad photos in a physical photo album, so don't keep bad photographs (or videos) on your phone – just delete them. Having poor-quality photos just makes it more difficult to _____ a good photo when you need one.

4 MUSIC AND MOVIES

One of the best things about digital media is that you have every song and movie at your fingertips. Unfortunately, one of the worst things about digital media is that you have every song and movie at your fingertips. _____ any music or movie files that you're never going to listen to or watch again.

5 FACEBOOK FRIENDS

Having too many friends on Facebook makes it more difficult to _____ in touch with the ones you really care about. You can 'unfollow' Facebook friends without them knowing, so you won't hurt their feelings.

6 OLD CONTACT INFORMATION _____ contact information regularly and delete contacts you no longer need. Most people don't do this often enough.

7 PASSWORDS

Use a password manager app, like 1password. This gives you as many different passwords as you need and remembers them for you. You'll never _____ a password again.

8 EMAIL MARKETING

If you get too many emails from companies and organizations, don't just delete them – unsubscribe. It should only take a few seconds. Just _____ on the 'unsubscribe' link at the bottom of the email.

9 EMAIL ACCOUNTS

Never _____ more than two email accounts (work and personal). For most people, one should be enough.

10 DESKTOP BACKGROUND OR WALLPAPER

_____ a simple background or wallpaper for your screens. This will improve your productivity and attention span more than you think.

11 OLD DIGITAL DEVICES

If you've been using technology for any length of time, you probably have a small collection of devices that you no longer use – cameras, memory sticks, MP3 players, and mobiles. If you can't give them to somebody who would use them, _____ old devices properly.

- c Read the article and complete the gaps with a verb from the list.

Indirect questions

We often put Can / Could you tell me...?, Do you know...?, I'd like to know... , I wonder... before a question to make it less direct and more polite. When we do this, the direct question changes to a positive sentence, i.e. the word order is (question word / if / whether) + subject + verb and we don't use do / did in the present and the past.

Compare:

Why is Paul in your apartment?

Could you tell me why Paul is still in your apartment?

Has he got one now?

Do you know if (or whether) he's got one now?

What do you really want?

I'd like to know what you really want.

Do you really want to be here?

I wonder if (or whether) you really want to be here.

What did you decide at the last meeting?

Can you tell me what you decided at the last meeting?

- f Read the information about indirect questions. Then make questions 1–5 more indirect by using the beginnings given.

1 Where's the station?

Excuse me, can you tell me _____?

2 What did he say?

I'd like to know _____.

3 Does she like me?

THE GREATEST UNSOLVED CRIME

One of the greatest unsolved ¹murder mysteries of all time is that of Jack the Ripper.

In the autumn of 1888, a brutal ²walked the dark, foggy streets of Whitechapel, in east London, terrorizing the inhabitants of the city. The ³were all women and the police seemed powerless to stop the murders. There were no ⁴to the crimes, so the police had no idea what the murderer looked like. Panic and fear among Londoners was increased by a letter sent to Scotland Yard by the murderer. In the letter, he made fun of the police's attempts to catch him and promised to kill again. It finished, 'Yours truly, Jack the Ripper'. This was the first of many letters sent to the police. The murders continued – five in total. But in November, they suddenly stopped, three months after they had first begun.

Jack the Ripper was never caught, and for more than a century, historians, writers, and ⁵have examined the ⁶and tried to discover and ⁷his identity. Hundreds of articles and books have been written and many films made about the murders. But the question, 'Who was Jack the Ripper?' has remained unanswered. There have been plenty of ⁸, including a doctor, a businessman, a painter, a sailor, a singer, and even a member of the royal family, and all sorts of people over the years have tried to ⁹this real-life murder mystery.

May and June

Part 1

Mr and Mrs Thrace called their daughters May and June because of the months when they were born.

- May was the oldest. She was changeable like the month, sometimes warm, sometimes cold, and neither pretty nor clever.
- 05 June, however, was both, and her sunny personality brought her many admirers. When May was twenty, she met a young lawyer called Walter. He was extremely good-looking and his father was wealthy. May fell passionately in love with him. He asked her to marry him and of course she accepted. During that time,
- 10 May almost became beautiful, but the intensity of her passion frightened Mrs Thrace.

June was away from home studying to be a teacher when May and Walter got engaged, so Walter had never met her. But a month before the wedding, June came home for the summer holidays. It was all very unfortunate, Mrs Thrace said, over and over again. If Walter had left May for some unknown girl, they would have been furious. But what could they say or do when he had fallen in love with their younger daughter?

- May became violent and tried to attack June with a knife.
- 20 'We're all terribly sorry for you, darling,' said Mrs Thrace. 'I shall never marry now,' said May. 'She's ruined my life. She stole my husband.' 'He wasn't your husband, May,' her mother replied.

When June and Walter came to visit, May always went out, but she knew about them because she always read June's letters to her mother. She knew that they had a big house, that they collected furniture and pictures, and that they didn't have any children. She knew where they went for their holidays and who their friends were. But she could never discover if Walter loved June or not. She thought that perhaps he was sorry that he had married June and not her. This thought was the only thing that comforted her.

Ruth Rendell

Part 2

May never married and she continued to live at home for over 30 years, until her parents died. Mrs Thrace 35 died in March and her husband, six months later. At her father's funeral, May saw Walter and June again. Walter was still good-looking and May wanted to die when she saw him. 'Please come and speak to your sister,' he said to her. But May refused.

40 It was only at another funeral that they were reconciled. May learnt of Walter's death from the newspaper and the pain was as great as when her mother had told her that Walter wanted to marry June. Inside the church, her sister came up to May and asked 45 her to forget about the past. 'Now you know what it's like to lose him,' May said.

Two days later May got a letter from June. June asked 50 her to come and live with her, now that they were both alone. 'Now that you've retired and haven't got very much money, I'd like to share my beautiful house 55 with you,' she wrote. 'Perhaps this way I can give you something in return for what I took away from you.'

May decided to accept. She thought it was right. During their first evening together, she asked June to 55 talk about her marriage, about her life with Walter. But June didn't want to talk. May looked in the house for letters or presents from Walter, jewellery, or pictures. She couldn't find anything. Even June's wedding ring 60 wasn't as beautiful as the engagement ring Walter had given May all those years ago. 'He never really loved her,' she thought. 'All these years, he loved me.' She decided to start wearing her engagement ring again – on her little finger, which was the only one it now fitted.

- e Do you think May and June are going to live happily together? How do you think the story is going to end?
- f 10.16 Listen to Part 3. Were you right?

g Listen again. Answer the questions.

a Read the article once. Complete headings 1–4.

IS THE LONDON DUNGEON?

The London Dungeon brings together amazing actors, special effects, stage performances, scenes, and rides in a truly unique and exciting experience that you see, hear, touch, smell, and feel. It's dark, atmospheric, hilarious, and sometimes a bit scary.

DOES IT WORK?

We've been entertaining audiences at The London Dungeon for over 40 years and it's one of the capital's 'must-see' attractions. We take you on a 110-minute journey through 1,000 years of London's unpleasant past. You and your companions walk through the Dungeon, moving from show to show, guided by our professional actors.

The shows are based on real London history and legends, without the boring bits! You'll get up close and personal with scary characters including Jack the Ripper and the infamous barber of Fleet Street, Sweeney Todd.

It's a theatrical experience. That means authentic sets and theatrical storytelling. On your journey, you'll pass through foggy East London streets and houses and the horrific torture chamber. Believe us, it's better than a sightseeing trip or boring museum tour of London.

'S IT FOR?

The London Dungeon is scary fun for everyone except very young guests and very sensitive adults! Our recommended age is 12 years old and above, and guests who are under 16 years of age must be accompanied by an adult over 18 years of age.

AHEAD!

The London Dungeon is particularly brilliant for people who can plan ahead and book online! Not only will you save money, you won't have to wait on the day. We get busy, so make things easy on yourself and book in advance!

b Read the article again. Mark the sentences

T (true), F (false), or DS (doesn't say).

- 1 The London Dungeon is both funny and frightening.
- 2 The Dungeon isn't very popular.
- 3 You're not allowed to talk to the actors.
- 4 You can spend as long as you like at the Dungeon.
- 5 The characters and stories are all historically accurate.
- 6 The Dungeon is suitable for very young children.
- 7 Tickets for children under 16 cost half the adult price.
- 8 Booking online is cheaper than paying on the day.

5A GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

Student A

- a Read your story and underline any verbs in the past continuous or past perfect.

A Kenyan runner called Abel Mutai was competing in a cross-country race in Spain in 2012. He was winning the race easily, but he stopped running about 30 metres before the finishing line. He thought he'd won the race. The crowd were shouting at him – they were telling him to carry on, but he didn't understand them because he didn't speak any Spanish. A Spanish runner, Iván Fernández, was second in the race behind Mutai and he slowed down and told Mutai to keep running. Mutai started running again and crossed the line first. 'I did what I had to do,' said Fernández. 'He was the rightful winner.'

- b Cover your story and tell it to B using the verb prompts in the list in the correct tenses.

- Abel Mutai compete cross-country race
- win easily stop running think win
- the crowd shout tell him carry on

7A UNIVERSITY OR NOT?

Student A

- a Read about Jack.

Jack Turner, 23, studied Fine Art in London.

When I was at university, my friends and I were free to do what we wanted from the first day of the first year to the last day of the third year. We painted ten hours a day, we partied with our tutors, we shared ideas. I loved it.

After graduating, I moved to Manchester with my girlfriend. She had a good job and I was flexible. I planned to get any job that paid the bills and spend my free time painting. Since then, I've applied for at least 100 jobs and most of them never got in touch. I realize now that I spent too much time at uni focusing on art and not enough getting real-world experience.

Now I'm unemployed. I admit that I sometimes ask myself the question, 'Why did I study Fine Art?' But I'm still applying for jobs and I'm optimistic. As soon as I get one that gives me some financial security, I'll start making art again. I just want to be able to enjoy Manchester with my girlfriend and to paint. It's difficult at the moment, but I'm very happy I studied Fine Art. It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience and it will always be a big part of who I am.

- b Ask B your questions about Emily-Fleur.

When did Emily-Fleur leave school?

8A MATCH YOUR PERSONALITY TO THE JOB

Students A+B

In which group(s) do you have most ticks (✓)? Read the appropriate paragraph to find out which jobs would suit you. Would you like to do any of them?

If you have most ticks in 1–4, the best job for you would be in the 'caring professions'. If you are good at science, you could consider a career in medicine, for example, becoming a doctor or nurse. Alternatively, teaching or social work are areas which would suit your personality.

If you have most ticks in 5–8, you should consider a job involving numbers, for example, becoming an accountant, or working in the stock market. The world of business would also probably appeal to you, especially sales or marketing.

If you have most ticks in 9–12, you need a creative job. Depending on your specific talents, you might enjoy a job in the world of music, art, or literature. Areas that would suit you include publishing, journalism, graphic design, fashion, or the music industry.

If you have most ticks in 13–16, you have an analytical mind. You would suit a job in computer science or engineering. You also have good spatial sense, which would make architecture and related jobs another possibility.

- 2 a loan What do you call some money...?
- 3 fans What do you call people...?
- 4 a boarding school What do you call a place...?
- 5 a coach What do you call the person...?
- 6 traffic lights What do you call the things...?
- 7 golf course What do you call the place...?
- 8 selfish What do you call somebody...?
- 9 a router What do you call the thing...?

- b Ask B your question 1.
- c Now answer B's question 1.
- d Continue with 2–9.

10B JUST CHECKING Student A

- a You are a police inspector. B is a suspect in a crime. Ask B the questions below, but don't write anything down. Try to remember B's answers.

- What's your name?
- Where do you live?
- How old are you?
- Where were you born?
- Are you married?
- What do you do?
- What car do you drive?
- How long have you lived in this town?
- What did you do last night?
- Where were you at 7.00 this morning?

- b Now check the information with B using a question tag.
- Your name's Ivan Horváth, isn't it?*
- You live in Bratislava, don't you?*
- c Change roles. Now you are the suspect and B is the police inspector. Answer B's questions. You can invent the information if you want to.
- d B will now check the information he / she has. Say, 'Yes, that's right', or 'No, that's wrong' and correct the wrong information.

PE1 HOW AWFUL! HOW FANTASTIC!

Student B

- a Listen to A's sentences and react with a phrase, e.g. You're kidding, Oh no! etc.
- b Read your sentences 1–9 for A to react.
 - 1 I failed my driving test yesterday.
 - 2 I lost my wallet on the way to class.
 - 3 I met George Clooney at a party last week.
 - 4 I think I saw a ghost last night.
 - 5 I won a salsa competition last weekend.
 - 6 I'm going to be on a new edition of Big Brother.
 - 7 My dog died yesterday.
 - 8 My grandfather has a black belt in karate.
 - 9 My uncle is 104.
- c Tell A some real (or invented) news about you for A to react.

React to A's news.

2A MONEY Q&A Student B

- a Answer A's first question. If you don't want to answer a question, say, I'm sorry, I'd rather not talk about that.

What do you spend your money on apart from food, rent, etc.? (I go out a lot at weekends and...)

- b Then ask A your first question. Ask for more information if you can. Continue with questions 2–7.
 - 1 How much do you spend on food and drink each week?
 - 2 Are you good at finding bargains in the sales?
 - 3 When do you prefer to pay with cash and when do you prefer to pay by card?
 - 4 Do you spend much money on travelling? What was the last trip you went on? Was it expensive?
 - 5 Do you ever give money to charity?
 - 6 Have you ever lent money to anyone? Why (not)? Have you ever borrowed money from your parents? What for?
 - 7 Is the cost of living going up in your country? What kinds of things are getting more expensive?

2B ARE YOU HUNGRY? Student B

- a Respond to A's questions. Say Yes, it's... / it was..., etc. + the strong form of the adjective which A used in the question. Remember to stress the strong adjective.

Is the water cold? (Yes, it's freezing.)

- b Ask A your questions. He / she must respond with the phrase in brackets.

- 1 Is the soup hot? (Yes, it's boiling.)
- 2 Are you afraid of snakes? (Yes, I'm terrified.)
- 3 Was the teacher angry? (Yes, he / she was furious.)
- 4 Is the bedroom small? (Yes, it's tiny.)
- 5 Are the children hungry? (Yes, they're starving.)
- 6 Is the book interesting? (Yes, it's fascinating.)
- 7 Was she happy with the present? (Yes, she was delighted.)

- c Repeat the exercise. Try to respond as quickly as possible. Use absolutely, really, etc.

3A I'M A TOURIST – CAN YOU HELP ME? Student B

- a Think of the town / city where you are, or the nearest big town. A is a foreign tourist who is planning to get around using public transport. You live in the town. Answer A's questions and give as much information as you can.

- b Then change roles. You are an English-speaking tourist in your town / city. A lives in the town. You have hired a car. Ask A questions 1–5. Get as much information from A as you can.

- 1 What time is the rush hour in this town?
- 2 Where are there often traffic jams?
- 3 What's the speed limit? Are there speed cameras anywhere?
- 4 What will happen if I park somewhere illegal?
- 5 Where's the nearest tourist attraction outside the city? How long does it take to drive there?

5A GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP Student B

- a Read your story and underline any verbs in the past continuous or past perfect.

A Canadian sailor called Lawrence Lemieux was competing in the Seoul Olympics in 1988. During his race the weather was terrible – the wind was blowing hard and the waves were high. Lemieux was in second place in the race when he saw that two sailors from Singapore had fallen out of their boat and couldn't get back in. He went to help them, pulled them from the water, and waited for another boat to come and help them. Then he continued the race. He didn't win a silver medal – in the end he came 22nd. But as Lemieux said, 'The first rule of sailing is, if you see someone in trouble, you help him.'

- b Now listen to A's story.

- c Cover your story and tell it to A using the verb prompts in the list in the correct tenses.

- Lawrence Lemieux compete Seoul Olympics
- weather terrible wind blow
- Lemieux in second place see two sailors fall out
- go to help pull from water wait for another boat
- continue race not win come 22nd

(A Canadian sailor called Lawrence Lemieux was competing in the Seoul Olympics. The weather...

5B THE WAY WE MET Student B

- a Read the end of Kristina's story. Then listen to the end of Tiffany's story. Were you right?

Kristina's story

...he wasn't going to celebrate because he had to study. I sent Matt an email. 'You should come to dinner with me on your birthday.' He didn't answer for two days. Then I got a message. 'I'd love to come to dinner with you.' And that's how it all started. Now we've both finished studying – we're travelling to China to celebrate our graduations and this summer we're planning to rent a flat together. And you remember I was studying Creative Writing? Well, Matt's surname is Tolstoy! He was obviously the man for me.

- b Tell A the end of Kristina's story.

- c What coincidence does each story involve?

7A UNIVERSITY OR NOT? Student B

- a Read about Emily-Fleur.

Emily-Fleur Sizmur, 17, runs her own photography business.

I left school at 16. I've never been very interested in school or academic achievement. I still don't know my GCSE results – a friend went to school to pick them up for me, but I've never opened the envelope!

When I left school, I was ready to start a business. Three of my sisters were getting married and I saw a gap in the market for wedding photographers in our area. I'd always loved taking photos and I saw an opportunity to make money doing something I liked. One of my science teachers was getting married and I asked her if I could take some pictures. She agreed and I put up my photos on Facebook the following day. Within a week, I had bookings for two more weddings. When I'd done six weddings, I spent £3,000 on better equipment.

I don't think my age was a disadvantage, in fact, I think starting out young has been a huge help. People are more prepared to give someone young a chance. If I was 30 and starting out in this business with no experience, I think it would be much more difficult. A lot of my friends are going to university soon, but I don't envy them. They'll have to get out into the real world one day and I'm already here.

Glossary

GCSEs national exams taken by English and Welsh schoolchildren at the age of 16

- b Answer A's questions about Emily-Fleur.

- c Now ask A your questions about Jack.

What did Jack study at university?

(He studied...)

Questions about Jack

- 1 What did Jack study at university?
- 2 What did he do on a typical day?
- 3 What did he do after he graduated?
- 4 What did he plan to do in Manchester?
- 5 How many jobs has he applied for?
- 6 What's he doing at the moment?
- 7 Is he enjoying life?
- 8 Does he regret studying Fine Art?

7B GUESS THE SENTENCE Student B

- a Look at sentences 7–12 and think of the missing verb phrase (+ = positive, - = negative). Don't write anything yet!
- 7 I'll _____ buy a house unless my parents help me. -
 - 8 If I met my ex in the street, I _____ to him. -
 - 9 If it _____, I'd stay a bit longer. -
 - 10 The flight _____ if we go in business class. +
 - 11 I wouldn't mind the winter so much if it _____ so early. -
 - 12 If I had more money, I _____ with a beautiful garden. +
- b Listen to A say sentence 1. If it's the same as your sentence 1 below, say, 'That's right'. If not, say 'Try again', until A gets it right. Continue with 2–6.
- 1 I'd cook dinner every day if I got home earlier from work.
 - 2 If we don't go on holiday this summer, maybe we can afford to get a new car.
 - 3 I think you'll enjoy the film more if you see it in 3D.
 - 4 I'd see my grandparents more often if they lived nearer.
 - 5 I wouldn't have the fish if I were you. It isn't usually very good here.
 - 6 I'd go swimming if the water was a bit warmer.
- c Now read sentence 7 to A. If it isn't right, try again until A tells you, 'That's right'. Then write it in. Continue with 8–12.

8A DRAGON'S DEN Student B

Read what happened. Think about the questions below. Then tell your group.

- Did any of the Dragons like the product?
- Did they decide to invest?
- Was the product successful in the end?

Slappie watches

Two of the Dragons were prepared to give David the money he wanted, although only in exchange for 45% of the company. David decided to accept Dragon Nick Jenkins's offer. Minutes after the programme was broadcast, Slappie's website crashed because it was unable to cope with the 'insane' numbers of people trying to buy watches. Since then, the company has grown and Slappie watches are now available on many different websites, including Amazon.

8B I WANT TO SPEAK TO THE MANAGER Student B

Look at the situations and spend a few minutes preparing what you are going to say. Then role-play the conversations.

- 1 You're a shop assistant in a clothes shop. A is a customer and is going to come to you with a problem with something he / she bought in the sales yesterday. You can't change it for an identical one because there are no more in his / her size. Try to persuade A to change it for something else, because you don't usually give refunds during the sales.
A will start.
- 2 You're a customer in a restaurant. You have just finished your meal and you didn't enjoy it at all (decide what was wrong with it). You complained to the waiter, but the waiter didn't solve the problem. You have asked the waiter to call the manager. A is the manager. Try to get at least a 50% discount on your meal.
You start.

(Good evening. Are you the manager?)

9A GUESS THE CONDITIONAL Student B

- a Look at sentences 7–12 and think of the missing verb phrase (+ = positive, - = negative). Don't write anything yet!
- 7 If we hadn't taken a taxi, we _____ the train. +
 - 8 If I hadn't gone to the party that night, I _____ my wife. -
 - 9 If I'd known that programme was on last night, I _____ it. +
 - 10 If I _____ to my friends, I would never have married James. +
 - 11 I _____ with you last night if I hadn't had to work late. +
 - 12 I _____ so angry if you had told me the truth right from the start. -
- b Listen to A say sentence 1. If it's the same as your sentence 1 below, say 'That's right'. If not, say 'Try again' until A gets it right. Continue with 2–6.
- 1 We wouldn't have found the hotel if we hadn't had satnav.
 - 2 If I had remembered that it was your birthday, I would have bought you something.
 - 3 If I'd known about the concert earlier, I would have been able to get a ticket.
 - 4 The burglar wouldn't have got in if you hadn't left the window open.
 - 5 If our best player hadn't been sent off, we would have won the match.
 - 6 I wouldn't have recognized her if you hadn't told me who she was.
- c Now read sentence 7 to A. If it isn't right, try again until A tells you 'That's right'. Then write it in. Continue with 8–12.

PES ASKING POLITELY FOR INFORMATION Student B

- a You are a tourist in A's town. You are going to stop A in the street. You want to ask questions 1–5 and you want to be very polite. Rewrite 2–5 as indirect questions.

- 1 Do shops close at lunchtime?
Could you tell me if shops close at lunchtime?
- 2 Is there a cash machine near here?
Do you know _____?
- 3 Where's the nearest chemist's?
Can you tell me _____?
- 4 What time do buses stop running at night?
Do you know _____?
- 5 Do banks open on Saturday mornings?
Could you tell me _____?

- b A is a tourist in your town. A stops you in the street and asks you some questions. Answer politely with the necessary information.
- c Now ask A your indirect questions 1–5. Always begin Excuse me.

10A RELATIVE CLAUSES QUIZ Student B

- a Complete the questions with a relative clause to describe the bold words. Start the clause with who, which, that, whose, or where, or no relative pronoun when there is a new subject.

- 1 shy What do you call somebody...?
- 2 a remote control What do you call the thing...?
- 3 a referee What do you call the person...?
- 4 a cycle lane What do you call the place...?
- 5 a thriller What do you call a film...?
- 6 a receipt What do you call the piece of paper...?
- 7 a taxi rank What do you call the place...?
- 8 a colleague What do you call a person...?
- 9 a scooter What do you call a thing...?

- b Answer A's question 1.
- c Now ask A your question 1.
- d Continue with 2–9.

10B JUST CHECKING Student B

- a You are a suspect in a crime. A is a police inspector. Answer A's questions. You can invent the information if you want to.
- b A will now check the information he / she has. Say, 'Yes, that's right', or 'No, that's wrong' and correct the wrong information.
- c Change roles. Now you are a police inspector and A is a suspect. Ask A the questions below, but don't write anything down. Try to remember A's answers.
- What's your name?
 - Where do you live?
 - How old are you?
 - Where were you born?
 - Are you married?
 - What do you do?
 - What car do you drive?
 - How long have you lived in this town?
 - What did you do last night?
 - Where were you at 7.00 this morning?

- d Now check the information with A using a question tag.

Your name's John Hatton, isn't it?

You live in New York, don't you?

8A DRAGON'S DEN Student C

Read what happened. Think about the questions below. Then tell your group.

- Did any of the Dragons like the product?
- Did they decide to invest?
- Was the product successful in the end?

Tangle Teezer

The Dragons listened patiently to Shaun's pitch, but when it came to investing in his business, they responded unanimously, 'I'm out!' One Dragon called it 'a waste of time' and Deborah Meaden said it was like a 'horse brush'. However, they were wrong. The brushes are now sold all over the world and have revolutionized the hairdressing industry. A few years after his Dragons' Den appearance, Shaun sold the company for over £100 million. And as he owned it entirely himself, he was the one who enjoyed the profits.

Writing

1 A DESCRIPTION OF A PERSON

a Read the two emails once and answer the questions.

- 1 Why has Angela written to Sofia?
- 2 Does Sofia recommend her friend to Angela?

Inbox

From: Angela Vernon
To: Sofia Lugo

Hi Sofia,

I hope you're well. I'm looking for an au pair to look after Mike and Sally and I remembered your Polish friend Kasia, who I met last summer. She said she might be interested in working in England as an au pair, so I thought I would write and ask her. The thing is, I don't really know her, so before I write and suggest it, could you tell me a bit about her (age, personality, etc., and what she likes doing) so that I can see if she would fit in with the family? Please be honest!

Angela

From: Sofia Lugo
To: Angela Vernon

Hi Angela,

Kasia is one of my best friends, so of course I know her very well. She's 22 and she's just finished economics at university, but she doesn't have a job yet and I'm sure she would be interested in going to the UK. Her parents both work and she has two younger brothers. She gets on very well with all of them and they are a very close family.

Kasia's an intelligent girl and very hard-working. She's good with children – she often looks after her brothers, so she has a lot of experience – and she's also very mature and responsible. She can be quite shy at first, but when she gets to know you she's incredibly friendly. The only problem with Kasia is that she's a bit forgetful... she sometimes loses things, like her keys, or her phone. Also, to be honest, her English isn't fantastic, but I'm sure she'll improve very quickly.

In her free time, she likes going to the cinema, listening to music, and she's also very good at fotography – she always has her camera with her. She's really independant and happy to do things on her own, so you won't have to worry about taking her to places.

I think Mike and Sally will love her. Let me know if you need to know anything else. I hope this helps!

Love,
Sofia

b The computer has found five spelling mistakes in Sofia's email. Can you correct them?

c Read Sofia's email again and answer the questions.

- 1 What six + adjectives describe Kasia's personality?
- 2 What does she like doing in her free time?
- 3 What negative things does Sofia say about Kasia?
- 4 Does Sofia think Kasia will get on with Angela's family?

d Look at the highlighted expressions we use to modify adjectives and adverbs. Put them in the correct place in the chart.

Kasia is very forgetful.

Describing a person

He's quite / very, etc. + adjective (e.g. friendly, outgoing, etc.).

She's a bit + negative adjective (e.g. untidy, shy, etc.).

He likes / loves / doesn't mind + verb + -ing.

She's happy to + infinitive.

He's good with children.

TRANSPORT IN LONDON

The Underground (the Tube)

This is the quickest way to get ¹around the city and there are many stations all over London. The cheapest way to use the Underground is to get an Oyster card. You put money on it and then top it up when you need to. Then you use it every time you get ²_____ or ³_____ the Tube. You can buy Oyster cards at Tube stations and online. You can also use a contactless bank card to pay, or your smartphone (if you have a mobile payment app). Some Tube lines operate 24 hours a day at the weekend.

Buses

Buses can be quicker than the Underground if there isn't too much traffic. The easiest way to use them, like the Underground, is with an Oyster card, contactless card, or smartphone. Some buses operate 24 hours a day, so you can use them late at night. Travelling ⁴_____ the top deck of a double-decker bus is also a very good way to get to know London and see some of its famous buildings.

Bikes

Bikes are now more popular than ever in London, especially ⁵_____ tourists and commuters. It's a good way to get some exercise. There are quite a lot of cycle lanes and there's a good bike-hire programme. You pay at a docking station with a credit or debit card and it costs £2 to access bikes for the next 24 hours. During this time you can use as many bikes as you like. The first 30 minutes for any bike is free. If you want to use a bike for a longer journey, you have to pay more – each extra 30 minutes costs £2.

Taxis and minicabs

London's black taxis (black cabs) are expensive, but they are comfortable and the taxi drivers know London very well. You normally tell the driver where you want to go before you get ⁶_____ the taxi. Minicabs are normal cars which work for a company and most people book them with an app. They are usually much cheaper than black taxis. Taxis or minicabs are probably the safest way to travel late ⁷_____ night.

- a Look at the four forms of public transport in London. Which one do you think is probably...?

- the most expensive
- the healthiest
- the best for sightseeing
- the safest late at night

- b Read the article from a website about public transport in London and check your answers to a. Then answer these questions from memory.

- 1 What can you use an Oyster card for?
- 2 How much does it cost to hire a bike?
- 3 What's the difference between a black cab and a minicab?

- c Read the article again and complete the gaps with a preposition from the list.

Disastrous journeys!

We asked you to tell us about a time you had a problem when travelling. Begoña from Spain wrote to us...

This happened a few years ago. I live in Alicante, in Spain, and my husband and I had rented a house in Galicia for the summer holiday. We were going to drive first to Tarragona to stay for a few days with some friends and ¹then drive from Tarragona to Galicia.

The first part of the journey was fine. We were using our new satnav for the first time and it took us right to the door of our friends' house. Three days later, ² we continued our journey, we put in the name of the small town in Galicia, Nigrán, which was our final destination. We started off, obediently following the instructions. ³, after a while we realized that ⁴ driving west towards Lleida, we were going north. In fact, soon we were quite near Andorra, right on the border with France. I was sure we were going in the wrong direction, ⁵ my husband wanted to do what the satnav was telling us – it was his new toy! It was only when we started seeing mountains that even he admitted this couldn't be the right way. ⁶ we stopped, got out an old map, and then turned round. We had wasted nearly two hours going in the wrong direction!

It was an awful journey, ⁷ as well as getting lost, we had another problem. When we were nearly at our destination, we stopped for a coffee at a little bar, but ⁸ we got back onto the motorway we realized that we had left our dog under the table in the café! For the second time that day, we had to turn round and go back. Luckily, the dog was still there! And luckily, ⁹ the beginning of our trip was a disaster, we had a wonderful holiday!

6 DESCRIBING A HOUSE OR FLAT

- a The website HomeRent.com is for people who want to rent out their houses for holidays. Read two posts from the website. Which description makes you want to rent the house / flat? Why?
- b Read about the flat in Florence again. Underline any adjectives which help to 'sell' the flat? What do they mean?
- c Now read about the villa in Turkey again. Improve the description by replacing the word nice with one of the underlined adjectives. Often there is more than one possibility.

Describing location

*It is perfectly situated in... walking distance from...
a (15-minute) walk from...
a short drive from...*

*The neighbourhood is (safe, friendly, etc.)...
It's a (beautiful) area...*

- d Write a description of your house or flat for the website. Plan what you're going to write using the paragraph notes below. Use the language in the Describing location box and Vocabulary Bank Houses p.162 to help you.

Paragraph 1	A brief introduction. What kind of house / flat is it? Where is it exactly?
Paragraph 2	Describe the house / flat. What rooms does it have? Does it have any special features?
Paragraph 3	Describe the neighbourhood. How far is it from places of interest? What public transport is there?
Paragraph 4	Who is the house / flat suitable for? Are there any restrictions?

- e Check your description for mistakes (grammar, vocabulary, punctuation, and spelling).

9 AN ARTICLE – ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES

The screenshot shows a Wikipedia page with the title 'Wikipedia, for and against'. The page content discusses the advantages and disadvantages of Wikipedia. It includes several numbered points and examples.

Wikipedia is¹ a online encyclopaedia. It has become the main information source for² millions of people every day. It is a wonderful resource, but it has both advantages and disadvantages.

The first advantage of Wikipedia is that it has information about more or less everything and the information is easy to find. Secondly, Wikipedia³ usually gives a good basic introduction to a topic. Thirdly, it gives links and references to other sources, so it's easy to find out more if you want to.

⁴In the other hand, there⁵ is also disadvantages. For example, the information on Wikipedia is sometimes inaccurate, which is a problem if⁶ its your only information source. Also, you don't know who has⁷ written the articles. It may be an expert, but it may be an amateur, and sometimes there is a personal or political bias.

⁸To conclusion, if⁹ your looking for information, Wikipedia is an excellent place to start. But it shouldn't be your only source – it's important¹⁰ get your information from other places too.

- a Read the article about the advantages and disadvantages of Wikipedia. Then cover it and answer the questions from memory.
- 1 What are the three advantages of Wikipedia?
 - 2 What are the two disadvantages?
 - 3 In general, is the writer for or against Wikipedia?
- b Read the article again. There are ten mistakes (grammar, vocabulary, punctuation, and spelling). Can you correct them?
- c You are going to write a similar article about smartphones. Make a list of the advantages and disadvantages.

Advantages	Disadvantages

- d Now decide which are the three biggest advantages and number them 1–3 (1 = the biggest). Do the same with the disadvantages.

Writing about advantages and disadvantages

Listing advantages:

First / Firstly,... Secondly,... Thirdly,...

Listing disadvantages:

On the other hand, there are also (some) disadvantages...

For instance / For example...

Also,...

Conclusion:

In conclusion / To sum up, I think...

- e Write an article called 'Smartphones – essential for modern life?' Start the article with this introduction.

Most people today have a smartphone. But are they really essential for modern life? I think there are both advantages and disadvantages.

Write three more paragraphs. Plan what you're going to write using the paragraph notes below. Use the language in the Writing about advantages and disadvantages box to help you.

Paragraph 2	two or three advantages
Paragraph 3	two or three disadvantages
Paragraph 4	conclusion – say if you think smartphones are essential for modern life or not

10 A BIOGRAPHY

ECO
(1932–2016)

Umberto Eco was a novelist, critic, and academic. When he was young, he loved reading everything from comics to classic novels. His father wanted him to be a lawyer, but he decided to study philosophy and literature at the University of Turin.

After he graduated, he worked for Radiotelevisione Italiana. During this time he wrote his first book.

In September 1962, he married Renate Ramge. They had a son and a daughter. They lived in an apartment in Milan. During the 1980s and 1990s Eco was a visiting professor at Harvard and Columbia Universities in the USA.

Eco is best known for his novel The Name of the Rose. The book is a murder mystery, set in a 14th-century Italian monastery.

Eco died in Milan in 2016.

a Read the short biography of Umberto Eco. Do you know anything else about him?

b Rewrite sentences 1–7 from the biography with the extra information below. Use non-defining relative clauses.

1 Umberto Eco was a novelist, critic, and academic. He was born in Italy in 1932.

Umberto Eco, who was born in Italy in 1932, was a novelist, critic, and academic.

2 After he graduated, he worked for Radiotelevisione Italiana.

At Radiotelevisione Italiana he became friends with artists, painters, musicians, and writers.

3 In September 1962, he married Renate Ramge. Renate Ramge was a German art teacher.

4 They lived in an apartment in Milan. Eco had a library of 30,000 books in the apartment.

5 Eco is best known for his novel The Name of the Rose. It was published in 1980 and made into a film six years later.

6 The book is a murder mystery set in a 14th-century Italian monastery.

It sold 15 million copies and made him an international literary star.

7 Eco died in Milan in 2016.

He had been diagnosed with cancer.

Part 1

Interviewer With me today I have Marianna Leivaditaki, head chef of the Moro restaurant in Hackney...Marianna, what was your favourite food when you were a child?

Marianna At home we ate a funny mixture, because of my parents. Fresh fish, bacon and eggs for breakfast on Sundays, and traditional apple pies. But my favourite was fish. We ate fish every day, which my dad caught. In fact my dad still goes fishing every night!

Interviewer Wow!

Marianna Yes, we were very lucky because not all families could do that – could eat fish every day. Even on an island fish is expensive unfortunately.

Interviewer Did your dad catch fish for the family or for the restaurant?

Marianna For both. Except for lobsters. When he caught a lobster he never sold it, it was always for us. We boiled it and ate it with lemon and olive oil. You don't need anything except lemon and olive oil when fish or seafood is really fresh. That's how I cook lobsters nowadays in the restaurant, in Moro.

Interviewer Were you interested in cooking when you were a child?

Marianna Oh yes. I spent every evening in our restaurant, and instead of playing with the other children I usually helped in the kitchen. I wrote down recipes which I wanted to cook for the family in a blue notebook.

Interviewer So your love of food and cooking came from your parents?

Marianna From my parents and also from my aunt, and from many inspiring ladies who surrounded me when I was growing up. My aunt, Thia Koula, had animals, a garden, olive trees and grapes. In the summer I often spent all day with her. She knew everything about wild food in Crete. She only ate what she had grown or found or made herself. It's such a beautiful way to eat.

Interviewer Did you ever eat out as a child?

Marianna Never in the evening, because our restaurant was open for dinner seven days a week, but occasionally my mum used to buy me and my brother souvlaki for lunch, a sort of Greek sandwich with pitta bread. Inside it has pork, tomato, red onion and lots of thick yoghurt.

Part 2

Interviewer So did you always want to be a chef, to have your own restaurant?

Marianna No, not at all. I wanted to be a psychologist, and when I was 18 I came to the UK to study at Kent University. Then I decided I didn't want to be a psychologist after all and I went travelling for a bit – I'd saved some money at university because I worked in the evenings. I went all around southern Europe and also to South America, to Ecuador. I tried all sorts of different dishes and fell in love with food again, so I went back to Crete and worked in our family restaurant for two years.

Interviewer Why did you come back to the UK?

Marianna Well I wanted to continue working as a chef, but I needed a bigger challenge. And when I was a student in the UK and I missed good food, I used to save money and go to London to have dinner in the restaurant called Moro. It wasn't Greek food, but it was Mediterranean, Spanish and North African, and I loved it. So when I came back to London I went to Moro and I said 'I want a job' – and they gave me one.

Interviewer And what happened then?

Marianna Well, really slowly, through hard work, and after seven years, I became head chef. It was magic. And then the owners of Moro, Samantha and Samuel Clark, suggested that I help them open Morito.

Interviewer How is Morito different from Moro?

Marianna It's the same inspiration, and many of the dishes are similar, but because I run the kitchen I have been able to have more Cretan dishes on the menu, dishes from my childhood. This week, for example, I'm making ntakos, a Cretan salad made with fresh goat's cheese, tomato and bread.

Interviewer Do you go back to Crete much?

Marianna Yes, I go to Crete maybe four or five times a year. My family's restaurant is closed now, but I go out for lunch with my friends, the people I miss when I'm in London. Food comes, and we share everything. We always order too much, and by the end of it we feel incredibly full.

Interviewer Well, Marianna it's been great chatting to you, and thanks for coming in.

Marianna Thank you very much for having me.

A So what are you going to do next year, dear? Are you going to go to university? Adam? Can you hear me?

B Sorry, Gran. What did you say?

A I said, are you going to go to university next year?

B No, Gran. I've already told you loads of times. I'm not going to go to university. I'm going to look for a job. I need to earn some money.

A All right dear, you don't need to shout. I can hear perfectly well, thank you. What's the time now?

B Ten to four. Shall I make you a cup of tea?

A Yes, please, dear. That'd be very nice.

2 A Bye. See you tomorrow.

B Bye. Hey, what do you mean tomorrow? Aren't you coming back tonight?

A No, I told you about it yesterday. I'm going to a party at Katie's. I'm staying the night there.

B Who else is going?

A Oh, just the usual crowd. You don't know any of them.

B Well, make sure you don't go to bed too late. And don't forget to...

A Bye.

B Where's your coat? You can't go out like that. It's going to be cold tonight!

A Bye!

3 A Can I use your car tonight?

B No, you can't.

A You said you didn't need it. Why can't I borrow it?

B Because you won't look after it. You'll drive too fast.

A I won't, I promise, I'll drive really slowly. I'll be really careful.

B Oh, all right then.

A Thanks. See you.

James Well, I can remember one terrible thing I did to my brother when we were teenagers – I have a twin brother. Um, so we used to fight and argue a lot, as, as kids and teenagers. And one time, when we were about 15, we were fighting, arguing, we shared a bedroom, so we were in our room, um, fighting each other, and I accidentally stabbed him in the finger with a penknife that I was holding in my hand. And it was, it was a total accident, and I was holding it and I was kind of threatening him, but I didn't really mean to, to stab him, obviously, um, but I did, and I was absolutely horrified at what I'd done. And of course he, my brother, he looked down at his finger, with this blood coming out from where I'd stabbed him, and he looked up at me, and he said 'I'm going to tell Mum!' Which sort of made me laugh because you know we were both 15 at the time, and it was a very childish thing to say. And he ran downstairs to tell our mum, and I was absolutely terrified that she was going to be really angry with me. Which she was, of course. But, um, he was fine, by the way, it was a very small cut. He didn't have to go to hospital or anything, it was absolutely fine, but, um, he still, now and this is, you know, we're in our late forties now, so this is 30 years ago, but he still sometimes tells people, when we meet them, about when I stabbed him. But yeah, it wasn't a very nice thing to do to him!

Marilyn Well, my sister was four years older than me. She still is, actually. Um, I remember once when I was about ten years old, I had a pet, a bird. Um, it was a small green parrot called Charlie, and I really loved him. He lived in a cage but I sometimes let him out to fly around the house, you know so, so he could have some freedom. And one day, I was in my bedroom and I let him out, but then something happened – I can't remember what and I forgot about him for a, for a while, and then suddenly I couldn't see him anymore. And, well, I looked everywhere for him, I looked all over the house and I couldn't find him anywhere, oh I cried and I cried because I was sure that he had flown out of the window. And my parents started to help me because they felt awful about it as well. And just when I was completely hysterical my sister admitted that, in reality, she had hidden him, she had shut him inside a cupboard, can you believe. Well, she opened the cupboard and poor Charlie was there, he was so frightened, but we were all really relieved to find him. My sister was so horrible that day. Of course now we get on really well, but I still remember what she did to poor Charlie and sometimes when she comes to see me I hide her car keys or her purse or something just to remind her of it. Is that bad?

Presenter Hello, and welcome to Five-Minute Money. Today we're talking about scams and scammers. Over 3,000,000 people a year are victims of scams in the UK, and they lose an average of £1,200 each, so we all need to know what to look out for. We're going to hear three listeners' stories, and for each scam we'll explain how to stay safe.

Our first story is from Heather in Edinburgh.

Heather A few months ago I got an email from a friend who was away in Berlin. He said he'd lost his wallet and needed money to get home. He asked me for my credit card details, and I thought well, he needs my help, so I sent him a reply with my card number and everything. But there was no reply, and I got suspicious, and I checked my credit card, and somebody had stolen over £2,000. And of course I never got it back.

Presenter Ah, the friend abroad who needs help. But it isn't really a friend, it's a scammer who is using this friend's email account. Often this scam is obvious, either because you know your friend isn't abroad, or because the email has grammar and spelling mistakes. So always be suspicious of any strange emails from friends.

The next story is from Carl in Hastings.

Carl I got an email saying that I'd won quite a lot of money in the lottery in Spain. It looked official, and some of it was in Spanish, and last year I was on a holiday in Spain and I did buy a lottery ticket, so I believed it. So I emailed back and they replied and said the easiest thing was for me to send them my bank account details, and they'd pay the money direct into my bank. So I did – and I feel so stupid saying this now – and of course the next day my account was completely empty. Luckily it was the day before payday, and I only had about £200 in there. But I learnt my lesson.

Presenter Yes, so again, never believe an email or message saying you've won a lottery, especially if you never bought a ticket.

Our last story is from Paul in Bristol.

Paul I'd just got back from work, it was about 6.00, and the phone rang and a very polite woman said it was Barclay's Bank Security Division, and that there was a problem with my account. She said that somebody had tried to use my password online, and that my account wasn't safe. I was in the middle of buying a flat, and I thought 'Oh no! This sounds bad!' because I had quite a lot of money in the account. She said the best solution was to transfer all the money into a new account to make sure it was safe. So she gave me an account number and an account name – it was my name, it was called 'Paul Kay new account' – and I thanked her. And immediately after the call I went online and transferred all my money to this new account. And that was the last time I saw it. It was a real disaster, I lost £20,000 and I couldn't buy my flat.

Presenter It's natural to co-operate if you think your bank is phoning you, but your bank will never ask you on the phone to transfer money to another account. If you get suspicious, just hang up, wait ten minutes, then phone your bank to check if it really was them.

So, what's the most important thing to remember if you don't want to be the victim of a scam? Be very suspicious of strange emails from friends or from someone saying that you've won a prize, and the same for phone calls from your bank. And above all, never, never give your bank account or credit card details to anybody, either in an email or on the phone, unless you are 100% sure who they really are.

Part 1

Interviewer The charity Adelante Africa was started in 2008. That summer a group of Spanish and British tourists had travelled to Uganda on safari to see the mountain gorillas. Halfway through the trip, in a small rural village called Igayaza, the lorry they were travelling in broke down. While a mechanic repaired the lorry, the group took shelter in a nearby building. It was a primary school for orphans, children without parents, but it was in a terrible condition. The walls were falling down, the blackboards were broken, and there weren't many desks. But the children were wonderful, very bright and friendly. One of the tourists was a primary school teacher, and she started teaching them English songs. She was amazed at how quickly they learned. When they left they asked the head teacher how they could help, and he said, 'What we need is a new school'. When the tourists arrived home from their holiday, they decided to set up a charity to raise money to rebuild the school. Two years later, on the 14th of March 2010, the new school opened with 75 children – and since then Adelante Africa hasn't stopped.

2.14

Part 2

Interviewer I'm with Jane Cadwallader, the secretary of Adelante Africa.

Jane Hello.

Interviewer Hi Jane, how long have you been working with Adelante Africa?

Jane Well, over ten years now. Since the beginning, I was the teacher who sang songs with the children back in 2008 when the lorry broke down.

Interviewer Jane, tell us what Adelante Africa has been doing since 2010, since the primary school was finished.

Jane Well, we've done a lot. Our next major project was to build a children's home for the orphans who don't have anybody in their extended family who can look after them. The children's home has been running since 2012 and now we have 57 children there. But we also realised that if we wanted to help the local children, we really needed to help their parents, too. Our primary school was beautiful but many of the children were sick, they had malaria or malnutrition. So we started several small community projects, for example we tried to help people to improve their diet by giving them seeds to plant a variety of vegetables. Most people in rural Uganda, you see, erm, don't eat fruit and vegetables, except what they can find growing wild. We've also been building water tanks to collect rainwater so that they have cleaner water to drink, and they don't have to walk the long distances to the nearest river. And we've started a small factory to make sunflower oil, which has helped local farmers, and also given some jobs to local people. Sunflower oil is much healthier than the palm oil that most people were using before, so really we've helped the whole community with this.

Interviewer And are any of your new projects related to education?

Jane Absolutely. In 2011 we started a FAL group in Igayaza – FAL stands for Functional Adult Literacy, so these are classes to teach adults – mainly women – to read and write, and to speak English, which is the official language in Uganda. Since then we've started 11 more FAL groups in other nearby villages. And our other big project is that we've just built a secondary school, so that children from our primary school and the other local children can get a good secondary education. We're very proud of it – it's not quite finished yet, though. We need to raise more money in order to finish all the buildings.

Interviewer And are all the volunteers, the people who work with you, from Britain and Spain?

Jane No, not at all. There are a few of us from Europe who visit regularly, but the people who make it all possible are the Ugandan volunteers. Without them we couldn't do anything! In the future we hope that all the projects will be run by them.

Interviewer And can you tell me about some of the children, some individual cases?

Jane Hmm, let me think. I know a good example. John Muzzei. He's a boy, an orphan, who was at the primary school when the lorry broke down. He was very bright, and when he finished primary in the new school, he got very good grades and we sponsored him to go to secondary school. He worked very hard there as well and did very well, and now he's in the last year of nursing at a good nursing college. And I also have to tell you about Baby Rose. She was brought to our children's home with her brother. They were living alone in a hut with their mother, who was dying of AIDS. When they arrived Rose was a year old. She was suffering from malnutrition and weighed only five kilos. Her little legs were so thin that we thought she'd never walk. And she never ever smiled. Now, one year later, she's running around laughing and smiling. Since she came here she's changed completely into a healthy happy child.

Interviewer So Adelante Africa has really changed their lives?

Jane Yes, it's changed their lives, but it's also changed the lives of the people who work for Adelante Africa. Most of us feel it's the most satisfying thing we've ever done. Have a look at the photos and videos on our website – it's www.adelanteafrica.org. Maybe it will change your life too.

Host Hello and welcome. On today's programme we're talking about how to drive safely. A new book called Survive the Drive has just been published, and we asked Tom, our transport and travel correspondent, to take a look. Welcome, Tom.

Tom Thank you.

Host So, tell us – what's the most dangerous thing you can do while you're driving? Obviously we're not talking about drinking alcohol, taking drugs, or using a handheld phone to make calls or text, which everyone knows you must never do.

Tom Well, this is really surprising, top of the list is driving when you're feeling emotional. The researchers found that you're nearly ten times more likely to have an accident if you're feeling very sad or angry or stressed. If you're emotional then you can't concentrate on the road, and you'll probably make bad decisions if you find yourself in a dangerous situation. In fact if you're feeling very emotional it'd be better not to drive at all!

Host Wow, OK, I'll try to remember that next time I have a bad day at work! What's the second most dangerous thing?

Tom This one's less surprising – it's reaching for something in your car. It might be your phone, or a map, or some sweets. If you're reaching down, or trying to get something from the back seat, then you aren't looking at the road, and you're nine times more likely to have an accident.

Host And number three?

Tom Number three is looking at something interesting or something that's happening by the road. A really common example of this is when people slow down to look at an accident – they don't realise that by looking at the accident and not at the road, the chance of having an accident themselves goes up over seven times. In fact this is a really common cause of accidents on motorways.

Host So the message is, don't be distracted.

Tom Yes, exactly. If you're driving fast, you can travel over 100 metres in less than three seconds. And a lot can happen in three seconds.

Host So that's the top three – what about other things to avoid?

Tom Well, at number four is adjusting your satnav, which can be very distracting, and makes you nearly five times more likely to have an accident. At number five is driving when you're tired. 60% of drivers say they've driven when tired in the last year, so it's a big problem – and you can lose control of your car completely. And at number six is adjusting your radio or music system. This makes you twice as likely to have an accident. Again, it's the distraction from the road that's the problem, and only having one hand on the wheel.

Host And the last two?

Tom The seventh is eating or drinking, because again you normally take one hand off the wheel, and the eighth is talking to a passenger, which can be distracting because the driver often turns to look at the passenger.

Host So how would you summarize the research? What did you find most interesting?

Tom I think for me the most interesting thing is that some of these things don't seem very dangerous and good drivers often do them – but the research shows that they are. So next time you get in your car to drive somewhere, think about what you're doing, and always, always keep your eyes on the road!

Presenter 'Pink is for girls, blue is for boys.' How many times have we heard that? And if you walk down the aisles of children's clothes shops you'll see rows and rows of clothes in these two colours. But where does this rule come from exactly? Are little girls genetically attracted to pink, and little boys to blue?

It seems not. You may be surprised to hear that 100 years ago, it was the exact opposite. In a popular magazine of the time, an article said 'The generally accepted rule is pink for boys and blue for girls. The reason is that pink, being a stronger colour, is more suitable for a boy, while blue, which is more delicate, is prettier for a girl.' The change to pink for girls and blue for boys happened only after World War II. The idea of women being equal to men emerged and, as a result, people started dressing little girls in pink. Soon advertisers got hold of the idea, and made blue the colour for boys. Since then the pink and blue stereotype has never gone away. And it is not only clothes, but all sorts of other things as well. Girls' rooms and furniture are painted pink, girls' accessories are made in pink, girls' toys are packaged in pink. South Korean photographer JeongMee Yoon was so struck by this that she created a series of photographs called The Pink and Blue Project, where children were photographed in their rooms with all the things they possessed in either pink or blue.

But is this something we really need to worry about? Alison Carr, from the Institute of Engineering and Technology, says yes.

Alison When we're choosing between one toy or another to buy as a present for a child, we're influenced by stereotypes, and if the child is a girl we'll probably choose something pink. And this is a problem, because not only are 89% of girls' toys pink, but also only a very few of them are connected with science or maths. Most girls' toys are still based on dolls and dressing up, while boys' toys are more likely to be related to building and cars. And the problem is that the toys we play with influence our interests, and even the jobs that we end up getting. If girls don't have access to as many construction toys, or mechanical and scientific toys as boys, they'll think that science and technology is 'not for them' so they'll be less likely to choose to study it at school and later at university. I think that if they were allowed to choose for themselves, girls and boys would choose the same sort of toys, and that parents need to forget about the stereotypes, about pink and blue. Toys should be the same colour for all children, red, yellow, green, whatever.

Presenter However Natasha Crookes, from the British Toy & Hobby Association doesn't agree.

Natasha I think that instead of abandoning the pink and blue thing we should use it. If we want girls to get interested in maths and science, we should package science and engineering toys in a pink box. Then maybe girls – or their parents – will start buying them.

Presenter And now we're moving on to...

Presenter Good afternoon to all. In today's modern manners programme, the subject is family, and what to do with rude relatives. Our etiquette expert Sarah is here to take your calls, so if you have a family member who behaves badly and you don't know what to do about it, just call us here on 0207 946 0671.

And our first caller is Belinda from Salisbury. Hi Belinda, tell us about your rude relatives.

Belinda Well, I hate to say it because it's such a cliché, but it's my mother-in-law. She's a nice woman, don't get me wrong, and on the whole we get on well, but one thing she does which I think is really rude is that whenever she comes for a meal she criticises my cooking. I'm not a professional, obviously, but I think I'm a pretty good cook and it really annoys me, especially after I've spent hours making something really nice.

Presenter OK so Sarah, over to you. How should Belinda deal with her mother-in-law?

Sarah Hi Belinda. I know this won't be easy, but when she does this I think you ought to be the one who behaves well. Stay calm, thank her as politely as possible for her advice, and change the subject. You shouldn't argue with her, because she won't change her opinion – and it won't make you feel better either. Instead, encourage your husband or another relative to say how great your cooking is in front of your mother-in-law. When she sees that her criticisms aren't having any effect, and that everybody else loves your food, she'll either stop criticizing or she'll start paying compliments herself.

Presenter Thanks very much for that, Sarah. And our next caller is Damien from Sheffield. Hi Damien, I think you're going to tell us about a problem with your brother, is that right?

Damien Yes, that's right.

Presenter So what's the issue?

Damien Well, he lives in London and he likes coming up to stay from time to time, which is great. But he's just phoned me saying he's coming next month and he's bringing his new dog. I know he's just got this dog and he's very keen on it, and doesn't like leaving it alone, but it's still a puppy and my girlfriend and I aren't very into dogs. Also we've just redecorated our house, and we've done a lot of work on the garden, and I'm pretty sure the dog's going to destroy them both.

Presenter Sarah, what do you think Damien should do with his brother and his dog? Do you think it's rude to arrive at someone's house with a dog?

Sarah Yes, I have to say I do. It's bad manners for a guest to bring an uninvited pet, even to a relative's home. This is true even if you have one of your own and your house is already animal-friendly. I think you should politely but directly say how you feel. You can add a reason like, as you say, you've just redecorated, but to be honest, you don't really have to give a reason.

Presenter Well, that's very clear advice, thanks Sarah. And finally, Miranda from Stirling. Hi Miranda. Tell us about your problem.

Miranda Hi there. My problem's with my nephew, my sister's son. He's eight years old and his parents don't give him any rules. So he's really wild, and whenever they come to our house he just shouts all the time, jumps on the furniture, makes a mess in the kitchen. He even writes on the walls! It's really exhausting, but my sister's very sensitive about me criticizing her son, so generally I don't say anything. But I've reached the point where I'd almost prefer it if they didn't come round.

Presenter Sarah, what should Miranda do with her nightmare nephew?

Sarah You must speak to his parents before their next visit, or at least to your sister. But instead of being critical, say how great it is that their son has so much energy, and how much you love him, but then explain that he has to calm down a bit when he's visiting. And at the beginning of his next visit, welcome him but give him some rules for your house. Say 'Hi. It's great to see you again! But just a couple of house rules: no jumping on the furniture, and if you want to draw, please use a piece of paper – you mustn't write on the walls.' He won't mind, and in the long run your sister will be grateful.

I haven't played a musical instrument for years. Five years ago I got a trumpet for my birthday, and I tried to learn it, but I gave up after seven minutes and it ended up in the garage. So here I am, a beginner again.

ONE HOUR

I have everything I need: a trumpet, YouTube trumpet lessons, and a book called Trumpet for Beginners. I plan to practise for 20 minutes a day, three times a week. I want to be able to play the trumpet, and I want to do it fast!

TWO HOURS

Well, that was optimistic. Playing the trumpet is more difficult than it looks! I can only play for ten minutes before I start seeing stars and my mouth hurts. I can get from C to G, but I can't get any higher. It's depressing.

FIVE HOURS

I'm now practising for ten minutes at a time. I can play a whole octave, from C to C. I've watched a lot of trumpet lessons on YouTube. The teacher has a beard and wears very colourful shirts. He's beginning to annoy me, so I'm going to stop watching videos and use books instead.

NINE HOURS

I still can't play high notes. I can play some very simple tunes, but nothing I actually want to play. It's not Rimsky-Korsakov.

FOURTEEN HOURS

I've been practising three times a week, but I'm not getting any better. I've put the trumpet in the wardrobe.

FIFTEEN HOURS

One evening, I'm at a school concert and I meet Matilda Lloyd, one of Britain's best trumpet players – she was a winner in the BBC Young Musician competition in 2014. I ask her for help, and the following week she gives me a trumpet lesson. I'm doing everything wrong. I need to forget everything I learnt from the man with the beard and the colourful shirts. I need to start again.

SEVENTEEN HOURS

I'm getting better! My trumpet is starting to sound more like a musical instrument. I'm practising for half an hour every day. I'm enjoying myself. And the neighbour's dogs have stopped barking.

TWENTY HOURS

I was planning to finish my 20 hours of practice by busking in the Underground for an afternoon, but I can't do it. 20 hours is too little. But give me 100 hours, and you'll see me playing the trumpet on a street near you...

Part 1

Interviewer What made you want to become a referee?

Juan My father was a referee but that didn't influence me – in fact the opposite because I saw all the problems that he had as a referee. But as a child I was always attracted by the idea and at school I used to referee all kinds of sports, basketball, handball, volleyball and of course football. I was invited to join the Referee's Federation when I was only 14 years old.

Interviewer Were you good at sport yourself?

Juan Yes, I was a very good handball player. People often think that referees become referees because they're frustrated sportsmen, but this is just not true in most cases in my experience.

Interviewer What was the most exciting match you ever refereed?

Juan It's difficult to choose one match as the most exciting. But I remember some of the Real Madrid-Barcelona matches, for example, the first one I ever refereed. The atmosphere was incredible in the stadium. But really it's impossible to pick just one – there have been so many.

Interviewer What was the worst experience you ever had as a referee?

Juan The worst? Well, that was something that happened very early in my career. I was only 16 and I was refereeing a match in a town in Spain and the home team lost. After the match, I was attacked and injured by the players of the home team and by the spectators. After all these years I can still remember a mother, who had a little baby in her arms, who was trying to hit me. She was so angry with me that she nearly dropped her baby. That was my worst moment, and it nearly made me stop being a referee.

Interviewer Do you think that there's more cheating in football than in the past?

Juan Yes, I think so.

Interviewer Why?

Juan I think it's because there's so much money in football today that it's become much more important to win. Also football is much faster than it used to be, so it's much more difficult for referees to detect cheating.

Interviewer How do footballers cheat?

Juan Oh, there are many ways, but for me the worst thing in football today is what we call 'simulation'. Simulation is when a player pretends to have been fouled when in fact he hasn't. For example, sometimes a player falls over in the penalty area when, in fact, nobody has touched him and this can result in the referee giving a penalty when it wasn't a penalty. In my opinion, when a player does this he's cheating not only the referee, not only the players of the other team, but also the spectators, because spectators pay money to see a fair contest.

5.10

Part 2

Interviewer What's the most difficult thing about being a referee?

Juan The most difficult thing is to make the right decisions during a match. It's difficult because you have to make decisions when everything's happening so quickly – football today is very fast. You must remember that everything is happening at 100 kilometres an hour. Also important decisions often depend on the referee's interpretation of the rules. Things aren't black and white. And of course making decisions would be much easier if players didn't cheat.

Interviewer Do you think that the idea of fair play doesn't exist any more?

Juan Not at all. On the contrary, I think fair play does exist – the players who cheat are the exceptions.

Interviewer Finally, who was the best player you ever saw in your career as a referee?

Juan I have to say Leo Messi.

Interviewer Why is he special for you?

Juan Well, a study was done on him which showed that Messi could run faster with the ball than many footballers can do without the ball. But apart from his great ability, what I've always admired about him is that he isn't a typical superstar footballer. In public and in his personal life his behaviour has always been very normal. That's unusual for such a famous player.

Rickie You're listening to Radio Oxford and I'm Rickie Hammond.

Joanna And I'm Joanna Keys.

Rickie Now, I wonder how many of you know what today is? Well, it's Friendship Day! All over the world today people are celebrating those wonderful people called friends. We've been doing some research this morning about friends and we've discovered five fascinating facts about friends for you. Just listen to these. Joanna?

Joanna FRIENDS FACT NUMBER 1

Animals have friends too! Yes, apparently, we humans aren't the only ones who have friends. There's strong evidence that animals like chimpanzees, horses, elephants, dolphins and even bats can form friendships for life. And they even make friends with animals that aren't from their species!

Rickie FRIENDS FACT NUMBER 2

We have more real friends thanks to social media! You may find this hard to believe, but since the invention of the internet, and especially since social media came on the scene, we actually have more real-world friends than before. People always say we're so busy with all our online friends that we don't have time for our real friends, don't they? But in fact the opposite is true. A doctor in Psychology at Sheffield Hallam University has done some research that shows that the internet actually helps us to keep up friendships. And why is that? Because with social media it's easier to stay in touch. In the past we used to lose touch with friends because of distance or lack of time. So now you know...

Joanna FRIENDS FACT NUMBER 3

Having friends at work makes you more productive. Now, you probably think that if you have lots of friends at work you waste a lot of time gossiping with them. Well, listen to this. According to various studies, having friends at work makes you more productive and more creative. And I can believe that, because you know, if you have friends at work you're going to be happier, which in turn probably makes you work better. Just one thing though – don't be friends with your boss! That might make your colleagues trust you less, and they might think you got your job because of your friendship.

Rickie FRIENDS FACT NUMBER 4

Love can make you lose two friends. Yes, it's a sad fact that you can lose two friends when you fall in love. According to the anthropologist Robin Dunbar, who's studied the effect that love has on friendship, when a new person comes into your life, he – or she, of course – displaces two other people in your circle of friends. He says that when you're in love, you spend less time with your friends, and this means that friendships deteriorate. And you know something, from my experience that's true.

Joanna FRIENDS FACT NUMBER 5

So this is the last one, and it's good news! Friendship is good for your health. It doesn't matter if you're a man or a woman. People who have a lot of friends are less stressed and live longer. Research shows that you are 50% more likely to have a long life if you have a good social network.

So now we're asking you to choose a song for a special friend. Call us or text us on 08001 570 892. The lines are open now, and our first caller is Mandy from Didcot.

Caller Hi, Joanna! Can you play I'll be there for you for my best friend? Her name's Annie and I love her to bits...

Part 1

Interviewer So tell me, how did you get involved in the film, Dagmar?

Dagmara Well, as you probably know, Schindler's List was shot in Krakow, in Poland, which is where I live. I was a university student at the time, studying English. And the film company set up their production office here three months before they started shooting the film and I got a job there as a production assistant, preparing and translating documents and the script.

Interviewer But how did you get the job as Steven Spielberg's interpreter?

Dagmara Well, it was a complete coincidence. Just before the shooting started, there was a big party in one of the hotels in Krakow for all the actors and the film crew, and I was invited too. When I arrived at the party the Polish producer of the film came up to me and said, 'The woman who was going to interpret for Steven Spielberg can't come, so we need you to interpret his opening speech.'

Interviewer How did you feel about that?

Dagmara I couldn't believe it! I was just a student – I had no experience of interpreting – and now I was going to speak in front of hundreds of people. I was so nervous that I drank a couple of glasses of champagne to give myself courage. I must have done a pretty good job though, because soon afterwards Spielberg came up to me to say thank you and then he said, 'I'd like you to be my interpreter for the whole film.' I was so stunned I had to pinch myself to believe that this was happening to me.

Part 2

Interviewer So what exactly did you have to do?

Dagmara I had to go to the film set every day and translate Spielberg's instructions to the Polish actors, and also to the extras. I had to make them understand what he wanted them to do. It was really exciting, and I often felt as if I was a director myself.

Interviewer So, was it a difficult job?

Dagmara Sometimes it was really hard. The worst thing was when we had to shoot a scene again and again because Spielberg thought it wasn't exactly right. Some scenes were repeated as many as 16 times – and then sometimes I would think that maybe it was my fault – that I hadn't translated properly what he wanted, so I'd get really nervous. I remember one scene with lots of actors in it which we just couldn't get right and Spielberg started shouting at me because he was stressed. Eventually we got it right and then he apologized, and I cried a little, because I was also very stressed – and after that it was all right again.

Interviewer So, was Spielberg difficult to work with?

Dagmara Not at all. I mean he was very demanding, I had to do my best every day, but he was really nice to me. I felt he treated me like a daughter. For instance, he was always making sure that I wasn't cold – it was freezing on the set most of the time – and he would make sure that I had a warm coat and gloves and things.

Interviewer Did you ever get to be an extra?

Dagmara Yes, twice! I was going to be in two party scenes, and I got to wear beautiful long dresses and high heels. Unfortunately, one scene didn't make it to the final cut of the film, and before we started shooting the other one I tripped walking down some stairs and twisted my ankle really badly. I was in so much pain that I couldn't take part in the filming. And that was the end of my 'acting career'. I still have the photos of me looking like a girl from the 40s, though!

Interviewer Have you ever worked with Spielberg again?

Dagmara Yes. A year later he invited me to interpret for him again, this time during the premiere of Schindler's List in Poland, which was broadcast live on national television! Before that, he had also asked me to come to work as a production assistant on his next movie in Hollywood. I was very tempted and thought really hard about it, but I hadn't finished my studies yet, and all my family and friends were in Poland – so in the end I decided not to go.

Interviewer Do you regret it?

Dagmara Not at all. I had my moment, and it was unforgettable, but that was it!

6.19

Danish Sheikh tells me that people with charisma do two basic things. They project their own personality but at the same time they also make other people feel important. Sheikh's lessons are designed to help me to do both of these things, and in the next 48 hours I learn a lot.

Projecting your own personality is difficult to learn. Nobody likes people who talk about how fantastic they are, but nobody remembers people who don't say anything about themselves. Sheikh says the solution is to talk about yourself enough, but not too much.

People with charisma also feel confident. Sheikh gives me advice to help me feel more confident for example, when I walk into a meeting or a party. He tells me to remember a time in the past when I was successful. This positive memory will stop me from feeling afraid or anxious.

Body language is also important. We practise it together, including how to stand like a gorilla, with your feet apart and your arms wide – this shows that you're an important person. Sheikh also tells me how to enter a room. You have to have your chin up and your shoulders back. He tells me to make eye contact with the people I'm talking to, but not for too long – maximum four seconds – it's important not to stare. We also study hand gestures – you shouldn't use them too much.

Finally, conversation, I learn that it's important not to speak too fast or too slowly. You need to vary your speed to keep your listener's attention. But the most important thing of all is listening carefully. If you show interest in people, it makes them feel special. But if you're not really listening, the person you're talking to notices very quickly, so you need to make sure you really concentrate on what they're saying.

At the end of the two days, I have a practical test...

At the end of the two days, I have a practical test. I go to a pub with Sheikh, and I have to talk to strangers. I start talking to people and it goes OK. I don't think English people really like it when a stranger starts speaking to them, but we laugh and I have some interesting conversations. Occasionally, Sheikh gives me advice. He reminds me to make eye contact with everyone I'm talking to, and tells me not to cross my arms, that kind of thing. As we leave the pub, we shake hands. He says that the course has been good for me, and he gives me a thumbs up. So have I changed? Am I more charismatic? Not exactly – I'm never going to stand like a gorilla again, for example. But perhaps charisma is simpler than that anyway; it's about understanding who you are better, and showing the best version of yourself.

Week 1

On the first day of week 1 students change their normal school uniforms for Chinese-style tracksuits. They start the day much earlier than usual, at 7.00 in the morning, with 30 minutes of physical exercise. In Britain, PE is usually fun, and students only have two hours a week, but in the Chinese system, students do PE every day. Then lessons begin, and students get another shock – all 50 of them are together in one class. In Britain, the maximum is usually 30. In China it's common to have 50 kids in one room. They stop for lunch early, at 11.30. Classes finish at 5.00 but they're not allowed to go home. They have dinner at school, and after dinner they still have a lot of homework and self-study. When they finish, at 7.00, they have to clean the classroom. The school day is 12 hours long. British students find this exhausting!

7.8

Weeks 2 and 3

There are big differences between Chinese and British teaching styles. The Chinese teachers teach very fast. Everything is done in books and on paper, and there is a lot of copying from the board. In Britain, for example, in science, the approach is to let students do experiments and discover things by themselves, with less help from the teacher. Discipline is also very different in British and Chinese schools. In China, the teachers have complete authority, but in Britain, the same teachers are having problems. They're surprised that the students don't take school seriously. When her students don't pay attention, Miss Yang, the science teacher, makes them stand and look at the wall, but it doesn't seem to work very well. As Rosie, one of the students, says, 'It probably works in China, because everybody does what their teacher says. But here we don't care. We think it's funny.' By week three there is a serious problem with discipline. Some students like the Chinese system, but a lot of others are behaving badly in class, and some students stop coming to class completely.

The Chinese teachers are losing control, and realize they need to change the way they are teaching or their students will fail the tests in week four. They start to teach the children about Chinese culture and food, and they add Chinese face-massage to their daily lessons. They also try to teach patience and concentration using traditional Chinese games. During a meeting with the parents, the Chinese teachers try to get them to help and to encourage their children to work hard. The parents are impressed, and the Chinese teachers are filled with new energy and confidence.

Week 4

During the last week of the experiment the children in the Chinese class are behaving better. At the end of the week all the students from the classes with Chinese teachers and the classes with British ones take tests in maths, science, and Mandarin. These tests will decide which style of teaching has worked better. So what do the results show?

In the maths test, the children taught by British teachers get an average of 54%, and the class taught by Chinese teachers gets... 68%. In science, British-taught students get 50% and Chinese-taught students get... 58%. And in Mandarin, British-taught students get 37%, and Chinese-taught students get... 46%. The Chinese teachers are delighted and their students are really grateful and happy.

So the Chinese teachers get better results, but does that mean their teaching methods are better? Neil Strowger, the head teacher at the school, says, 'It clearly gets good results, but the discipline is too strict for some students.' The Chinese teachers agree that their method doesn't help to develop personality or creativity. Perhaps the last word should go to Miss Li, the Mandarin teacher. As she says, 'It's very hard to say which system is better... but I think we both learnt from each other.'

Welcome to the Handel Hendrix house.

Handel's House

In 1712, the German composer Georg Frideric Handel decided to settle permanently in England, where he was employed as musician to the English court. After living in Surrey for some years, he moved to London and during the summer of 1723, he rented a house at 25 Brook Street. He was the first occupant of the house, but as a foreigner, he was not allowed to buy it. However, after becoming a British citizen five years later, he decided to continue renting the house. In 1742, his annual rent for Brook Street was £50.

The plan of the house in Brook Street was usual for a modest London townhouse of the period. There was a basement containing the kitchens and on the ground floor there was a room at the front for receiving visitors. On the first floor there were bigger rooms where Handel entertained and worked. In the largest room, he kept his instruments (a harpsichord and a little house organ) and he occasionally rehearsed there. The room next to it is where he composed many of his most famous works, including the Messiah.

The second floor contained the bedroom at the front, with a dressing room at the back where he kept his clothes. In the attic at the top of the house, the servants had their rooms.

During the last decade of his life, Handel's eyesight got worse and by 1754 he was completely blind. He died at his Brook Street house on 14th April 1759. He was buried in Westminster Abbey and more than 3,000 people attended his funeral.

Hendrix's Flat

Although Jimi Hendrix's career only lasted four years, he is widely regarded as one of the most influential electric guitarists in the history of rock music.

The flat on the upper floors of 23 Brook Street was found by Jimi's girlfriend Kathy Etchingham, when she saw an advert in one of the London evening newspapers in June 1968, while he was in New York. He moved in briefly in July before returning to the United States for an extensive tour. He spent some time decorating the flat to his own taste. He bought curtains and cushions from the nearby John Lewis department store, as well as ornaments from Portobello Road market and elsewhere. He told Kathy that this was 'my first real home of my own'. In January the following year, he gave a series of press and media interviews and photo shoots in the flat. He also appeared on the BBC and gave two concerts in February at the Royal Albert Hall.

In March 1969, he went back to New York again and although Kathy stayed at Brook Street for a while longer, Jimi did not live there again. He died in London in 1970, at the age of 27, but in a hotel, not in the Brook Street flat.

Over the years, his flat was used as an office until it was taken over in 2000 by the Handel House Trust. It opened to the public on Wednesday 10th February 2016.

The whole house is now a museum and a concert venue where both men's music can be heard in live performances.

Part 1

Interviewer Whose idea was it to go on the programme?

Joe It was my idea. I applied without telling my business partner Jake. Of course, I never really expected to get on it. But then they phoned me from the BBC and said 'you're on the programme', so that's when I told him.

- I Did you spend a long time preparing your pitch?
J Yes. We worked really hard, and we practised a lot so that we knew the pitch word for word. The evening before the show we actually went for a run – up in Manchester, where it's filmed – and we went running together just repeating the pitch over and over again.

- I How did you feel when you arrived at the Den?
J Err, well, we were told to get to the set at about 11.00 the night before, because you had to prepare everything in advance, like any furniture you need, things like that. It was freezing cold, and we were exhausted – we didn't get back to our hotel until the middle of the night – and a car came to pick us up a few hours later, at half five in the morning.
I What time did you actually do your pitch?
J Err, 11.30. So we were lucky because we were the first in that particular programme.
I Why lucky?
J Because we didn't have to wait too long. The other contestants spent ages just waiting around. Some of them – the ones who are on last – had to wait 12 hours!
I Did you meet the Dragons before you went in to do the pitch?
J No. You're not allowed to. Like, if you go to the toilet before you go on, someone has to escort you in case you meet a Dragon. So the first time you see them is when you go into the Den.

8.10

Part 2

I What were the Dragons like?

J Well, they're obviously told by the producers to be really unfriendly and aggressive. So I remember thinking, when the doors opened and we walked in, what I wanted to do was just to smile at one of them. That was my way of making myself relaxed. And I looked at Deborah Meaden, because she was in the middle, and I smiled at her, but she just, you know, stared at me, stony-faced, to make me feel nervous. And it worked.

- I Did you think you did a good presentation?
J Yeah, we did. But Jake, who usually never gets anything wrong, he forgot his first words, and he just never does that. So we both thought, when he got the introduction wrong, that it was going to go badly, but it didn't.

- J So what happened after you'd done your pitch?
J Yeah, well, four of the Dragons said 'I'm out', they said they weren't interested. So we were feeling pretty depressed, pretty negative.
I And then?
J The last Dragon was Peter. And he's quite scary – he's incredibly tall – over two metres. And at first he really criticized us. But then he told us he had a big chain of camera shops called Jessops and they were starting online printing and photo framing as part of their business. And then he said 'I've got 15 guys in Hong Kong trying to do what you guys are doing, but you guys are doing it better. I'm going to offer you both a job.'
I Were you very surprised?
J Totally, because it had never happened on Dragons' Den before. In ten years they'd never offered someone a job.
I So he offered you jobs just like that?
J Well, his offer was that he wanted to have our business, and for us to work with him at Jessops.
I With a good salary?
J Very.
I So what did you do?

8.11

Part 3

- J It was very stressful because we knew we had to make a decision immediately. So Jake said 'Yes, let's take the jobs', but I said, 'You don't want to work for Jessops'. And he stayed silent and I said, 'I don't want to work for Jessops.' I mean neither of us were in a position where we could have dropped everything and gone and worked for Jessops full-time. It was completely...it was ridiculous.
I So you said no?
J That's right.
I Have you ever regretted saying no?
J No, not for a second. It was still early days for us then, so we were still kind of having fun and enjoying running our own business. And things worked out well for us. Frame Again was successful, and eventually we sold the business this year.
I But not to one of the Dragons?
J No, but that would have been perfect!

Jake Good morning. I'm Joe and this is Jake. Oh no, sorry, I'm Jake and this is Joe, and we're here to tell you about our new product, Frame Again.
Joe Frame Again is an online service for printing and framing your photos. At the moment it's easy to take a photo, but it's difficult to print and frame it attractively. With Frame Again it couldn't be simpler. First you upload your photo to the Frame Again website, straight from your phone, tablet, or computer. Then you choose the colours of your frame. Then we print, frame, and deliver your photo to you the very next day. It's quick and it's easy. The product's great, and the service is great.

Joe Frame Again is for today's smartphone photographers and Instagram users. That's why we designed a modern frame which is square – perfect for framing Instagram photos. We think it will be very popular, because the frames look great in any home or office.

Joe One photo, printed, framed, and delivered to your door, will cost £12.99.

Jake Our slogan is 'Printed, framed, and delivered in 24 hours.'

Hello and welcome to How's Business? Today we're going to look at how social media can affect businesses. And I'd like to start with the story of Dave Carroll, an American singer-songwriter, who had a very bad experience with United Airlines. Dave and his band were flying with United Airlines from Halifax, in Nova Scotia, to Omaha, in Nebraska, with a stopover in Chicago. As they were waiting to get off the plane in Chicago, they heard another passenger say, 'My God! They're throwing guitars out there!'

As Dave and the other band members looked out of the plane window, they were horrified to see that the baggage handlers, who were taking the luggage off the plane, were throwing the band's guitars to each other. They couldn't believe what they were seeing. They immediately complained to United Airlines employees in Chicago, but nobody listened to them.

When they arrived in Omaha, Dave discovered that the neck of his very expensive Taylor guitar had been broken. It cost him $1,200 to get it repaired. For nine months he tried to claim compensation from United Airlines. He phoned and emailed their offices in Halifax, Chicago, and New York without success. In the end he even suggested that instead of money, they could give him $1,200 of flight tickets. But after all his complaints and suggestions, United simply said 'No'.

So, what else could a singer-songwriter do? Dave wrote a song about his experience, and produced a music video to go with it. The song was called United Breaks Guitars. He posted it on YouTube and it was a huge hit. The song reached number 1 on the iTunes music store within a week, and the video has had over 16 million views.

After 150,000 views, United Airlines contacted Dave and offered him a payment if he agreed to take the video off YouTube. He refused, and suggested they gave the money to charity. Of course, the impact of Dave's song went far beyond YouTube. Soon newspapers, websites, TV and radio stations all over North America were doing stories about the song. Dave was interviewed on many radio and TV shows where, of course, he retold the story of how United Breaks Guitars. He did over 200 interviews in the first three months!

Dave Carroll's favourite guitar was broken, but in the end United Airlines were the bigger losers. After the video had gone viral, the BBC reported that United Airlines' share price had dropped by 10% within four weeks of the release of the video, which means that the company lost an incredible $180 million. It would have been much cheaper to repair Dave's guitar!

The ticket inspector touched my arm. 'Listen,' he said, 'when we get to Peterborough station, run as fast as you can to Platform 1. The Leeds train will be there.'

I looked at him, without really understanding what he had said. 'What do you mean?' I said. 'Is the train late or something?' 'No, it's not late,' the ticket inspector said. 'I've just radioed Peterborough station. The train is going to wait for you. As soon as you get on, it'll leave. The passengers will complain, but let's not worry about that. You'll get home, and that's the main thing.' And he walked away.

I suddenly realised what an amazing thing he had done. I got up and went after him. I wanted to give him everything I had, all the money in my wallet – but I knew he would be offended. I grabbed his arm. 'I, er, just wanted to...' but I couldn't continue. 'It's OK,' he said. 'No problem.'

'I wish I had a way to say thank you,' I said. 'I really appreciate what you've done.'

'No problem,' he said again. 'Listen, if you want to thank me, the next time you see someone in trouble, help them. That will pay me back. And tell them to do the same to someone else. It'll make the world a better place.'

When the train stopped, I rushed to Platform 1 and sure enough the Leeds train was there waiting, and a few hours later I was with my mum in hospital.

Even now, years later, whenever I think of her, I remember the Good Ticket Inspector on that late-night train to Peterborough. It changed me from a young man who was nearly a criminal into a decent human being. I've been trying to pay him back ever since then.

Story 1

When I was seven, my family were on holiday in the USA and one day we drove to the Grand Canyon. The car window was open, and at one point, my favourite blanket flew out the window and was gone. I was devastated. It was my security blanket and I couldn't sleep without it. Soon after, we stopped for petrol at a service station. I was sitting in the car feeling miserable eating a sandwich when a biker gang, you know, a group of guys on motorbikes in leather jackets, drove into the petrol station. A huge frightening man with a grey-and-black beard got off his bike and came to the car. He knocked on the window and then pulled my blanket from his jacket pocket and handed it to my mum. He then went back to his motorbike. I was so happy I ran up to him and gave him my sandwich.

Story 2

This happened about 20 years ago, but the memory is still really vivid. I was recently married, my wife was pregnant, and we had very little money because I only had a part-time job. It was a few days before payday and I went to a food store to get only what we absolutely needed. In all, I bought about $10 worth of stuff. At the checkout, I swiped my debit card. The cashier said, 'Sorry. It says 'Declined'. Try again.' I asked her to take one item out of the basket, and then I swiped again. There was now a line of customers behind me. The cashier said, 'Sorry. Declined again.' I went on taking things out until the only thing I had left was a loaf of bread, and then the card was accepted. I took my bread and left – I was feeling absolutely humiliated. A few seconds later I heard the voice of a little girl behind me, a girl who was standing with her mother right behind me in the line. She gave me a grocery bag full of all the things I'd put back. Her mother had bought them for me. I still cry when I remember that moment and think how such a small act can mean so much for a person in need.

Story 3

I'm a painter and a couple of years ago I was travelling by plane to see friends and I'd taken my painting things with me. I forgot about the rules about not being able to take liquids in carry-on luggage, so when I got to security at the airport, the man took away all my paints. I was really angry with myself for being so stupid. But when I came back a week later, the security man was there at the baggage reclaim area with my paints. Not only had he kept them for me, but he'd also looked up the date and time of my return flight so that he could be there to meet me.

9.13

Technology addiction is real, and it's creating mental health problems all over the world.

According to a recent survey, one in three UK adults is so addicted to their phone that they regularly check it in the middle of the night. So it's no surprise that the idea of a 'digital detox' is growing in popularity. But what is it actually like to go on one?

Time to Log Off is an organization which runs three-day digital detoxes in an old country house in Dorset in the south-west of England. People who go on them are not allowed to use digital devices at all for three days.

Journalist Anna Magee felt she was addicted to her smartphone, so when she read about the detoxes, she decided to go on one.

'When I arrived, the first thing I discovered was that there was no mobile phone coverage so I couldn't cheat even if I wanted to! Suddenly I felt cut off and panicky. What if something happened to my husband? What if something terrible happened in the world?

There were eight other people on the detox with me. At 6 p.m. we met in the living room and handed in our devices, our phones or tablets or whatever.

People looked scared. I was worried there were going to be lots of lectures on psychology, things like that, but no. Instead, there was yoga, and walks through the countryside where we picked fruit and had lots of conversations with real-life humans. The first night I slept really well for the first time in months.

But it wasn't always easy. The second evening without my phone, I felt really disconnected and lonely. At yoga that night, I burst into tears, and I felt awful not being able to call a friend. But by the third and final day I had changed. When we went on our walk, I really noticed the beauty of the countryside. And I was able to sit still on the sofa, reading a book for nearly half an hour without losing concentration. I started colouring in pictures in books. I was even eating more slowly, in a more relaxed way.

At lunchtime the next day we got our devices back, and said goodbye. When I finally managed to get coverage, I hungrily checked my phone for messages, likes, comments, news. But nothing had really happened. I managed the whole two-hour train journey back without checking my phone again, just noticing the countryside instead.

It's now three weeks since I went on the detox and though I can't quite believe it, I have managed to control my use of technology. I have one full day unplugged each week, on Saturdays, and I feel incredibly rested on Sundays as a result. I don't do email after 8 p.m., and that really helps me to sleep. I know they're tiny steps, but I feel that I've changed. When I'm chatting to friends I feel that I'm much more present, I'm really focusing on them and not getting distracted by my phone. And I find that when I have a break, instead of wanting to scroll through Twitter or check WhatsApp, what I really want is real-life conversation.'

1 The red phone box

In 1924, the Post Office organized a competition to design a new phone box. The winner was the architect Giles Gilbert Scott, who also designed Liverpool Cathedral and the building that is now Tate Modern. The first phone box was built in London in 1926. It was painted red to make it easy to see at a distance, although Scott had originally suggested silver with a blue interior. With the arrival of mobile phones in the 21st century, people didn't need phone boxes any more, and most of them have now been removed. However, today they are considered design icons of historic importance, and several are now tourist attractions, including one of the original ones next to the Royal Academy of Arts in Piccadilly. Others have found new lives in local communities, as mini-libraries or art galleries, and a very few still survive as working phones.

2 The Anglepoise lamp

George Carwardine was an engineer who specialised in suspension systems for cars. He worked for car manufacturers for several years, but when the company he was working for went bankrupt, he decided to set up a small company on his own. He had a little workshop in his garden, and there he designed a lamp which could be moved in different directions, inspired by the human arm. He licensed his design to a company which made the springs for his lamps, and in 1935 they brought out the three-spring Anglepoise desk lamp. It was an instant success, and the exact same model, the Anglepoise 1227, is still made today. Carwardine later developed many variations on the original design, including lamps for hospital operating theatres and for military aeroplanes. But it is the classic ever-popular Anglepoise 1227 which is today considered an iconic British design.

3 The Penguin book covers

Penguin books was started in 1935, although the classic cover was not designed until eleven years later. In 1935 publisher Allen Lane was at a bookstall on a railway platform looking for something to read, but he could only find magazines. He decided that people needed to be able to buy books that were good quality fiction, but cheap, and not just in traditional bookshops but also on railway stations and in chain stores.

Lane wanted a dignified but amusing symbol for the new books and his secretary suggested a penguin, so graphic designer Edward Young was sent to London Zoo to make drawings of penguins. The first Penguin paperbacks appeared in the summer of 1935. They included the works of Agatha Christie and the American writer Ernest Hemingway. The classic book cover was designed by Young in 1946. The books were colour coded – orange for fiction, blue for biography, and green for crime. The way people thought about books had changed forever – the paperback revolution had begun. The cover designs of Penguin books have changed a lot over the years, but the original 1946 cover, which is considered a design icon, was recently brought back, and is also used on mugs, notebooks, and other items.

4 The miniskirt

The 1960s was famous for many things from The Beatles to the first man on the moon, but the miniskirt remains one of the decade's most lasting icons. Mary Quant was a British fashion designer who had a boutique called Bazaar in the King's Road, the most fashionable shopping street of the time. As a girl, she had always tried to make her school uniform skirts shorter, 'to be more exciting-looking'. In 1966, she saw a group of tap dancers at a nearby school in very short skirts, with socks and dance shoes. This inspired her to create the miniskirt, which she named after her favourite car, the Mini. However, the miniskirt was not popular with everyone. Coco Chanel described it as 'just awful'. But Quant's customers loved it. Before the 1960s, young women had been expected to dress like their mothers, but this was about young people looking young. Although 1960s fashion soon changed to the long hippy clothes of the 1970s, the miniskirt

Interviewer Good morning and thank you for coming, Mr Morton – or should it be Inspector Morton – you were a detective with Scotland Yard, weren't you?

Inspector Morton Yes, that's right. For 25 years. I retired last year.

Interviewer People today are still fascinated by the identity of Jack the Ripper, over 130 years after the crimes were committed. It's incredible, isn't it?

Inspector Morton Well, it's not really that surprising. People are always interested in unsolved murders – and Jack the Ripper has become a sort of cult horror figure.

Interviewer So what can you tell us about some of the new theories about his identity?

Inspector Morton Well, a recent new theory was put forward by a crime historian called Jan Bondeson. He thinks that Jack the Ripper was a Dutch sailor called Hendrik de Jong.

Interviewer What evidence does he have?

Inspector Morton Well, de Jong was definitely a murderer. He killed four women in Holland and Belgium, including two of his ex-wives. He also travelled to London a lot, and he was there when the Jack the Ripper murders took place. He also matches the descriptions we have of Jack the Ripper.

Interviewer How credible is his theory?

Inspector Morton Well, even Dr Bondeson says that it's impossible to know for certain if de Jong was Jack the Ripper. I would say it's possible, but there isn't really enough conclusive evidence.

10.8

Part 2

Interviewer The next recent theory I'm interested in comes from the film director Bruce Robinson, who wrote a book in 2016 called They All Love

Jack. What can you tell us about it?

Inspector Morton Bruce Robinson is convinced that Jack the Ripper was in fact Michael Maybrick, the brother of one of the original suspects, James Maybrick. He thinks that the style of the murders indicates that there was a connection with the Freemasons – which both brothers were.

Interviewer What did Michael do?

Inspector Morton He was a popular singer and composer of songs at the time, and Robinson thinks that the Ripper's letters are similar in style to some of his songs, and the fact that they were posted from so many different parts of the UK makes sense because Michael was on tour at the time. Robinson thinks he was a psychopath, and was responsible for at least 16 more murders that took place in England later. He even thinks that Michael went on to murder his brother James.

Interviewer But he was never arrested, was he?

Inspector Morton No, he wasn't. However, Bruce thinks that by 1893 the police had begun to suspect him, but because many of the police themselves were Freemasons they allowed him to escape to the Isle of Wight, where he lived for the rest of his life.

Interviewer And what do you think?

Inspector Morton I think the book is well researched, but I don't really believe his conspiracy theory, that the police knew it was Michael and let him get away. I think the reason the Ripper was never caught was because the police were incompetent, not corrupt.

10.9

Part 3

Interviewer Finally, let's talk about Patricia Cornwell's research. In her 2002 book Jack the Ripper – Case Closed she said that she had identified the murderer and that she was convinced that Jack the Ripper was in fact Walter Sickert, the painter. What evidence did she put forward to support this claim?

Inspector Morton Well, she mainly used DNA analysis. She actually spent over £2,000,000 buying 32 paintings by Sickert. She cut up one of them to get the DNA from it – people in the art world were furious.

Interviewer I can imagine.

Inspector Morton And then she compared the DNA from the painting with DNA taken from the letters that Jack the Ripper sent to the police. Patricia Cornwell said that she was 99% certain that Walter Sickert was Jack the Ripper.

Interviewer And now she's written a new book with more evidence.

Inspector Morton Yes, it's called Ripper: the Secret Life of Walter Sickert. She says she's found new evidence, including letters which were written by Jack the Ripper and by Walter Sickert on the same very unusual type of paper. She also points out that some of his paintings are very violent and frightening.

Interviewer But you don't think she's right, do you?

Inspector Morton Well, I think she might be right. She has a lot of evidence, although I don't think it's completely reliable. And a lot of people think she's wrong!

Interviewer So, who do you think the murderer was?

Inspector Morton I can't tell you because I don't know.

Interviewer Do you think we'll ever solve the mystery?

Inspector Morton Yes, I think one day the mystery will be solved. Some new evidence will appear that proves 100% who Jack the Ripper was, and we'll be able to say that the case is finally closed. But at the moment it's still a mystery, and people like a good mystery.

present simple and continuous, action and non-action verbs present simple: I live, he works, etc.

- 1 I live in London. She works in a restaurant.
We don't eat meat. Jack doesn't wear glasses.
Where do you live? Does the supermarket open on Sundays?
- 2 She usually has cereal for breakfast.
I'm never late for work.
We only eat out about once a month.

1.11

- 1 We use the present simple for things that are always true, or happen regularly.
- Remember the spelling rules for third person singular, e.g. lives, studies, watches.
- Use ASI (Auxiliary, Subject, Infinitive) or QuASI (Question word, Auxiliary, Subject, Infinitive) to help you with word order in questions. Do you know David? What time does the film start?
- 2 We often use the present simple with adverbs of frequency, e.g. usually, never, or expressions of frequency, e.g. every day, once a week.
- Adverbs of frequency go before the main verb and after be.
- Expressions of frequency usually go at the end of the sentence or verb phrase.

present continuous: be + verb + -ing

- A Is your sister still going out with Adam?
B No, they broke up. She isn't going out with anyone now.
The phone's ringing. Can you answer it?
House prices are going up very fast at the moment.

1.12

- We use the present continuous (NOT the present simple) for actions in progress at the time of speaking, e.g. things that are happening now or around now. These are normally temporary, not habitual, actions.
- Remember the spelling rules, e.g. living, studying, getting.
- We also use the present continuous for future arrangements (see 1B).

a Circle the correct form, present simple or continuous.

I don't believe / I'm not believing that you cooked this meal yourself.

- 1 Come on, let's order. The waiter comes / is coming.
- 2 Kate doesn't want / isn't wanting to have dinner now. She isn't hungry.

- 6 My mum thinks / is thinking my diet is awful these days.
- 7 Do we need / Are we needing to go shopping today?
- 8 Can I call you back? I have / I'm having lunch right now.
- 9 I didn't use to like oily fish, but now I love / I'm loving it!
- 10 Your cake is wonderful! It tastes / is tasting like one my mother used to make.

action and non-action verbs

- A What are you looking for?
B My car keys.
A I'll help you in a moment.
B But I need them now!
A What are you cooking? It smells delicious.
B I'm making pasta.
A Great! I love pasta.

1.13

- Verbs which describe actions, e.g. cook, make, can be used in the present simple or continuous. I'm making lunch. I usually make lunch at the weekend.
- Verbs which describe states or feelings (NOT actions), e.g. be, need, love, are non-action verbs. They are not usually used in the present continuous, even if we mean 'now'.
- Common non-action verbs are agree, be, believe, belong, depend, forget, hate, hear, know, like, love, matter, mean, need, prefer, realize, recognize, remember, seem, suppose, want.
- Verbs of the senses are normally also non-action, e.g. look, smell, taste, and sound.

Verbs that can be both action and non-action

A few verbs have an action and a non-action meaning, e.g. have and think.I can't talk now. I'm having lunch. = action (have lunch)I have a cat now. = non-action (possession)What are you thinking about? = action (think about sth)I think this music's great. = non-action (opinion) past simple (worked, stopped, went, had, etc.)

They got married last year.

I didn't have time to do my homework.

What time did you wake up this morning?

- We use the past simple for finished past actions (when we say, ask, or know when they happened).

present perfect or past simple?

I've been to Madrid twice.

(= in my life up to now)

I went there in 1998 and 2002. (= on two specific occasions)

I've bought a new computer. (= I don't say exactly when, where, etc.)

I bought it last Saturday. (= I say when)

2.10

- We use the present perfect (NOT the past simple) to talk about past experiences and recent past actions when we don't specify a time.
- We use the past simple (NOT the present perfect) to ask or talk about finished actions in the past, when the time is mentioned or understood. We often use a past time expression, e.g. yesterday, last week, etc.

1 We use the present perfect for past experiences when we don't say exactly when they happened.

- We often use ever and never when we talk or ask about past experiences. They go before the main verb.

2 We use the present perfect for recent past actions when we focus on the present result.

- In this context we often use just before the main verb.

3 We also use the present perfect with yet and already.

- We use already in [+] sentences. It goes before the main verb.
- We use yet with [?] sentences and [?]. It goes at the end of the phrase.
- For irregular past participles, see Irregular verbs p.165.

a Complete the conversations with the present perfect form of the verb in brackets and an adverb from the list. You can use the adverbs more than once.

already ever just never yet

- A Why are you smiling? B I've just found a €50 note! (find)
 1 A _____ you _____ a flight online? (book)
 B Yes, of course. I've done it loads of times.
 2 A When are you going to buy a motorbike?
 B Soon. I _____ nearly €1,000. (save)
 3 A _____ you _____ the phone bill _____? (pay)
 B No, sorry. I forgot.
 4 A _____ your parents _____ you money? (lend)
 B Yes, but I paid it back as soon as I could.

present perfect + for / since, present perfect continuous present perfect + for / since

They've known each other for ten years.

2.16

Julia's had that bag since she was at university.

A How long have you worked here?

B Since 1996.

A How long has your brother had his motorbike?

B For about a year.

- We use the present perfect + for or since to talk about something which started in the past and is still true now. They've known each other for ten years. (= they met ten years ago and they still know each other today)
- We use How long...? + present perfect to ask about an unfinished period of time (from the past until now).
- We use for + a period of time, e.g. for two weeks, or since + a point of time, e.g. since 2016.
- Don't use the present simple with for / since. NOT They know each other for a long time.

present perfect continuous: have / has been + verb + -ing

1 How long have you been learning English?

2.17

Nick has been working here since April.

They've been going out together for about three years.

2 A Your eyes are red. Have you been crying?

B No, I've been chopping onions.

a Write sentences in the present perfect continuous.

How long / you / work here?

How long have you been working here?

1 She / study English for three years.

2 How long / they / watching TV?

3 It / rain / since lunchtime.

4 I / not live / here for very long.

5 How long / you / learn to drive?

b Circle the correct form. Tick (✓) if both are possible.

Harry is / has been unemployed since last year.

1 We've had our new flat for / since six months.

2 Hi Jackie! How are you? I haven't seen / haven't been seeing you for ages!

3 How long have you known / do you know your husband?

4 I've worked / been working as a teacher for five years.

5 I'm exhausted! I'm cleaning / I've been cleaning the kitchen for two hours.

1 We use the present perfect continuous with for and since with action verbs (e.g. learn, work, go, etc.) to talk about actions which started in the past and are still true now.

- With non-action verbs we use the present perfect simple (NOT continuous). NOT They've been knowing each other for ten years.
- Don't use the present continuous with for / since. NOT I am working here for two years.

2 We can also use the present perfect continuous for continuous or repeated actions which have been happening very recently. The actions have usually just finished or have visibly present results.

I've (I have) You've (You have) He / She / It's (He has) We've (We have) They've (They have)	been working here for two years.
I haven't (I have not) You haven't He / She / It hasn't (He has not) We haven't They haven't	been working here for two years.
Have you been working here for two years?	Yes, I have.	No, I haven't.
Has she been working here for two years?	Yes, she has.	No, she hasn't.

live and work

live and work are often used in either the present perfect simple or present perfect continuous with the same meaning.

I've lived here since 2010.

I've been living here since 2010.

c Make present perfect sentences (with for / since if necessary). Use the continuous form if possible.

1 / work for a charity / eight years choosing between comparatives and superlatives comparing two people, places, things, etc.

- 1 My car is a bit older than yours.
London is more expensive than Edinburgh.
This test is less difficult than the last one.
Olive oil is better for you than butter.
- 2 The new sofa isn't as comfortable as the old one.
I don't have as many books as I used to.

3.12

- 1 We use comparative adjectives + than to compare two people, places, things, etc.
- Regular comparative adjectives: spelling rules old → older big → bigger easy → easier modern → more modern difficult → more difficult
- Irregular comparative adjectives: good → better bad → worse far → further / farther
- One-syllable adjectives ending in -ed: bored → more bored stressed → more stressed tired → more tired
- 2 We can also use (not) as + adjective + as to make comparisons.

Object pronouns (me, him, etc.) after than and as

After than or as we can use an object pronoun (me, him, her, etc.) or a subject pronoun (I, he, she, etc.) + auxiliary verb. She's taller than me. OR She's taller than I am. NOT She's taller than-I.

They're not as busy as us. OR They're not as busy as we are. NOT They're not as busy as-we.

the same as

We use the same as to say that two people, places, things, etc. are identical.

Her dress is the same as mine.

3.12

comparing two actions

- 1 My father drives faster than me.
He walks more slowly than I do.
Liverpool played worse today than last week.
- 2 Max doesn't speak English as well as his wife.
I don't earn as much as my boss.

3.13

- 1 We use comparative adverbs to compare two actions.
 - Regular comparative adverbs: spelling rules fast → faster slowly → more slowly carefully → more carefully
 - Irregular comparatives: well → better badly → worse
- 2 We can also use (not) as + adverb + as to make comparisons.

superlatives

Kevin is the tallest player in the team.
Oslo is the most expensive capital city in Europe.
The small bag is the least expensive.
Lucy is the best student in the class.
Who dresses the most stylishly in your family?
That's the worst we've ever played.

3.14

- We use superlative adjectives and adverbs to compare people, things, or actions with all of their group.
- We form superlatives like comparatives, but we use -est instead of -er and the most / least instead of more / less.
- We normally use the before superlatives, but we can also use possessive adjectives, e.g. my best friend, their most famous song.
- We often use a superlative with the present perfect + ever.
It's the best book I've ever read.

in after superlatives

Use in (NOT of) before places after a superlative.
It's the longest bridge in the world. NOT of the world
It's the best beach in England. NOT of England

- a Complete with the comparative or superlative of the bold word (and than if necessary).

What's the fastest way to get across London? fast

- 1 I think skiing is _____ horse-riding. easy
- 2 This is _____ train I've ever been on. hot obligation and prohibition: have to, must, should have to / must + infinitive

1 You have to switch off your phone during take-off and landing.

4.4

You must be on time tomorrow because there's a test.

2 I love the Louvre! You have to go when you're in Paris. You must see this film – it's amazing!

3 I had to wear a uniform at my primary school.

I hate having to get up early. My interview is at 9.00. Do you have to work on Saturdays?

Must I switch my phone off now?

1 have to and must are normally used to talk about obligation, or something that it is necessary to do.

• have to and must have a very similar meaning and you can usually use either form. have to is more common for general, external obligations, for example, rules and laws. must is more common for specific (i.e. on one occasion) or personal obligations. Compare:

I have to wear a shirt and tie at work. (= it's the rule in this company)

I must buy a new shirt – this one is too old now. (= it's my own decision)

2 We can also use have to or must for strong recommendations.

3 have to is a normal verb and it exists in all tenses and forms, e.g. also as a gerund or infinitive.

must is a modal verb. It only exists in the present, but it can be used with a future meaning.

don't have to

You don't have to pay – this museum is free.

4.5

You don't have to go to the party if you don't want to.

mustn't

You mustn't park here.

4.6

You mustn't eat that cake – it's for the party.

• We use don't have to when there is no obligation to do something and mustn't when something is prohibited.

• don't have to and mustn't are completely different.

Compare:

You don't have to drive – we can get a train. (= you can drive if you want to, but it isn't necessary / obligatory)

You mustn't drive along this street. (= it's prohibited, against the law) NOT You don't have to drive along this street.

• We can often use can't or not allowed to instead of mustn't.

You mustn't / can't / 're not allowed to park here.

should / shouldn't + infinitive

1 You should take warm clothes with you to Dublin.

4.7

It might be cold at night.

You shouldn't drink so much coffee. It isn't good for you.

2 I think the government should do something about unemployment.

1 We use should to give advice or an opinion. should is not as strong as must / have to.

• should is a modal verb. The only forms are should / shouldn't.

• We can use ought to / ought not to instead of should / shouldn't.

You ought to take warm clothes with you to Dublin.

You ought not to drink so much coffee.

2 We use should to give an opinion – to say if we think something is the right or wrong thing to do.

a Circle the correct form. Tick (✓) if both are possible.

You don't have to / mustn't use your phone in quiet zones.

1 Do you think we should / ought to text Dad to tell him we'll be late?

2 You don't have to / mustn't send text messages when you are driving.

3 A pilot has to / must wear a uniform when he's at work.

4 You should / must go to the Uffizi when you're in Florence.

5 I have to / must speak to my phone company. My last bill was wrong.

6 We don't have to / mustn't hurry. We have plenty of time.

7 When I was at school we had to / must wear a horrible uniform.

8 You shouldn't / don't have to walk on the grass. They've just planted flowers there.

b Complete with the correct form of the verb in brackets.

If the line's engaged, you'll have to call back later.
(have to)

1 _____ do a lot of homework when you were at school? (you / have to)

2 _____ take my tablet out of my bag at Security? (I / must)

3 My sister is a nurse, so some weeks _____ work nights. (she / have to)

4 _____ ever _____ have an operation? (you / have to)

5 Saturdays are the best day of the week. I love _____ get up early. (not have to)

6 I don't think _____ wear boots inside their house. (we / should) ability and possibility: can, could, be able to can / could

Our daughter could play the violin when she was three.

I can speak three languages fluently.

Jenny can't come tonight. She's ill.

Our daughter could play the violin when she was three.

They couldn't wait because they were in a hurry.

- can is a modal verb. It only has a present form (which can be used with future meaning) and a past or conditional form (could).
- For all other tenses and forms, we use be able to + infinitive.

be able to + infinitive

1 Luke has been able to swim since he was three.

4.14

I'd like to be able to ski.

I love being able to stay in bed late on Sunday morning.

You'll be able to practise your English in London.

2 Fortunately, I am able to accept your invitation. My colleagues weren't able to come to yesterday's meeting.

1 We use be able to + infinitive for ability and possibility, especially where there is no form of can, e.g. present perfect, infinitive, gerund, future, etc.

2 We sometimes use be able to in the present and past (instead of can / could), usually if we want to be more formal.

a Circle the correct form. Tick (✓) if both are possible.

I've always wanted to can / be able to dance salsa.

- 1 My little boy couldn't / wasn't able to speak until he was nearly two years old.

We couldn't get a table in the restaurant because we hadn't booked.

- We use the past perfect when we are talking about the past and we want to talk about an earlier past action. Compare:
When John arrived, they went out. (= first John arrived and then they went out)
When John arrived, they had gone out. (= they went out before John arrived) using narrative tenses together

It was a cold night and it was raining. I was watching TV in the living room. Suddenly I heard a knock at the door. I got up and opened the door. But there was nobody there. The person who had knocked on the door had disappeared.

- We use the past continuous (was raining, was watching) to set the scene.
- We use the past simple (heard, got up, etc.) to say what happened.
- We use the past perfect (had knocked, had disappeared) to say what happened before the previous past action.

- 1 For past habits and states, we use used to / didn't use to + infinitive.
- used to does not exist in the present tense. NOT ~~I use to get up at 8.00 during the week~~
 - We use used to for things that were true over a period of time in the past. used to often refers to something which is not true now.
I used to do a lot of sport. (= I did a lot of sport for a period of time in the past, but now I don't)
 - We often use never used to instead of didn't use to.
 - used to / didn't use to can be used with action verbs (e.g. go, do) and non-action verbs (e.g. be, have).
 - We can also use the past simple to describe past habits (often with an adverb of frequency).
We (often) went to France for our holidays when I was a child.

- 2 For present habits, we use a verb in the present simple, often with an adverb of frequency, e.g. usually or normally.

used to or past simple?

We can use used to or the past simple (often with an adverb of frequency) for repeated actions or states and the meaning is the same.

I used to live in Leeds as a child. I lived in Leeds as a child.
 We used to go to the cinema on Saturdays. We often went to the cinema on Saturdays.

But we have to use the past simple if:

- we mention exact dates or number of times.
- the action happened only once.

We went to the cinema on Saturday.

any more and any longer

We often use not... any more / any longer (= not now) with the present simple to contrast with used to.

I used to go to the gym, but I don't (go) any more / any longer.

be used to and get used to

Don't confuse used to / didn't use to (do sth) with be used to or get used to (doing sth).

I am used to getting up early every day. (= I am accustomed to it – I always do it, so it is not a problem for me)

Lola can't get used to living in the UK. (= She can't get accustomed to it, it's a problem for her)

- a Are the highlighted verb forms right (✓) or wrong (✗)? Correct the wrong ones.

When I was a teenager I use to have very short hair. ✗ used to have

- I didn't used to like my maths teacher when I was at school.
- Do you usually tell close friends about your problems?
- My sister never didn't use to want children, but now she's got four!
- How used you to keep in touch in the days before the internet?

This bill must be paid tomorrow.
I love being given a massage.
- 2 The new concert hall will be opened by the Queen.
Gladiator was directed by Ridley Scott.

6.1

- 1 We often use the passive (be + past participle) when it isn't said, known, or important who does an action.
Andy's bike has been stolen. (= somebody has stolen Andy's bike, but we don't know who). In passive sentences, the object of the verb becomes the new subject.
- 2 If we want to say who did the action, we use by.
- We can often say things in two ways, in the active or in the passive. Compare:
Gladiator was directed by Ridley Scott. (= we want to focus more on the film)
Ridley Scott directed Gladiator. (= we want to focus more on the director)
 - We form negatives and questions in the same way as in active sentences.
Some films aren't shot on location.
Is your car being repaired today?
 - We often use the passive to talk about processes, for example, scientific processes, and in formal language, such as news reports.
Then the water is heated to 100 degrees...
Many buildings in the city have been damaged by the earthquake.

a Circle the correct form, active or passive.

p.57

modals of deduction: might, can't, must might (when you think something is possibly true)

Tony's phone is switched off. He might be on the plane now, or just boarding.

6.11

Laura might not like that skirt. It's not really her style.

can't (when you are sure something is impossible / not true)

Nigel can't earn much money in his job. He's still living with his parents.

6.12

That woman can't be Jack's wife. Jack's wife has dark hair.

must (when you are sure something is true)

The neighbours must be out. There aren't any lights on in the house.

6.13

Your sister must have a lot of money if she drives a Porsche.

- We often use might, can't, or must to say how sure or certain we are about something (based on the information we have).
- In this context, the opposite of must is can't. Compare: The neighbours must be out. There aren't any lights on in the house.
- The neighbours can't be out. All the lights are on in the house.* NOT The neighbours mustn't be out.
- We can use may instead of might and we can use could in positive sentences. Jack could (or may) be at the party – I'm not sure.
- We don't use can instead of might / may. NOT He can be on the plane now.
- We often use be + gerund after might / must / can't. They must be having a party – the music's very loud.

a Match the sentences.

A He might be American.

D

1 He can't be a university student.

first conditional and future time clauses + when, until, etc.

first conditional sentences: if + present simple, will / won't + infinitive

- 1 If you work hard, you'll pass your exams. 7.13
The teacher won't be very pleased if we're late for class.
- 2 Come and see us next week if you have time.
- 3 Alison won't get into university unless she gets good grades.
I won't go unless you go too.

a Complete with the present simple or future with will and the verbs in brackets.

- If I fail my exams, I'll take them again next year. (take)
- That girl _____ into trouble if she doesn't wear her uniform. (get)
- If you give in your homework late, the teacher _____ it. (not mark)
- Don't write anything unless you _____ sure of the answer. (be)

- My sister _____ university this year if she passes all her exams. (finish)
- I _____ tonight unless I finish my homework quickly. (not go out)
- Call me if you _____ some help with your project. (need)

- We use first conditional sentences to talk about a possible / probable future situation and its consequence.

- 1 We use the present tense (NOT the future) after if in first conditional sentences. NOT If you'll work hard, you'll pass all your exams.
- 2 We can also use an imperative instead of the will clause.
- 3 We can use unless + present simple [+] instead of if...not in conditional sentences. Compare: Alison won't get into university if she doesn't get good grades.

future time clauses

We'll have dinner when your father gets home.

7.14

As soon as you get your exam results, call me.

I won't go to bed until you come home.

I'll have a quick lunch before I leave.

After I finish university, I'll probably take a year off and travel.

- We use the present tense (NOT the future) after when, as soon as, until, before, and after to talk about the future.

b Circle the correct word or expression.

I won't go to university if/ unless I don't get good results.

- 1 Don't turn over the exam paper after / until the teacher tells you to.
- 2 Please check the water's not too hot before / after the kids get in the bath.

p.68

second conditional, choosing between conditionals

second conditional sentences: if + past simple, would / wouldn't + infinitive

- 1 If I had a job, I'd get my own flat. 7.15
If David spoke good English, he could get a job in that new hotel.
- I would get on better with my parents if I didn't live with them.
- I wouldn't do that job unless they paid me a really good salary.
- 2 If your sister were here, she'd know what to do.
If it was warmer, we could have a swim.
- 3 If I were you, I'd buy a new computer.

If I were you, I'd buy a new computer.

a Write second conditional sentences and questions.

I wouldn't live with my parents if I didn't have to.
(not live, not have to)

Would you have a dog if you didn't live in a flat?
(have, not live)

- 1 Nick _____ commute every day if he _____ from home. (not have to, work)
- 2 If they _____ such a noisy dog, they _____ better with their neighbours. (not have, get on)
- 3 I _____ that bike if I _____ you – it's too expensive. (not buy, be)
- 4 _____ we _____ our house if somebody _____ us enough money? (sell, offer)
- 5 If my mother-in-law _____ with us, we _____ divorced. (live, get)
- 6 _____ you _____ a flat with me if I _____ half the rent? (share, pay)
- 7 If my sister _____ her room more often, it _____ such a mess. (tidy, not be)
- 8 You _____ me like this if you really _____ me. (not treat, love)
- 9 If we _____ the kitchen white, _____ it _____ bigger? (paint, look)
- 10 I _____ a house with a garden if I _____ gardening so much. (not buy, not enjoy)

- We use the second conditional to talk about a hypothetical / imaginary present or future situation and its consequence.
If I had a job... (= I don't have a job, I'm imagining it)
- 1 We use the past simple after if and would / wouldn't + infinitive in the other clause.
- We can also use could instead of would in the other clause.
- 2 After if, we can use was or were with I, he, and she.
- 3 We often use second conditionals beginning If I were you, I'd... to give advice. We don't normally use If I was you...

Choosing between the first or second conditional

Using a first or second conditional usually depends on how probable you think it is that something will happen.

If I have time, I'll help you. (= this is a real situation, it's possible that I'll have time – first conditional)

If I had time, I'd help you. (= this is a hypothetical / imaginary situation, I don't have time – second conditional) would / wouldn't + infinitive

We also often use would / wouldn't + infinitive (without an if clause) when we talk about imaginary situations.

My ideal holiday would be a week in the Bahamas.

I'd never buy a car as big as yours.

b First or second conditional? Complete with the correct form of the verb in brackets.

I'll stay with my sister if I have to go to London for my job interview. (stay)

I'd buy my own flat if I had enough money. (have)

- 1 My kids _____ earlier if they didn't go to bed so late. (get up)
- 2 Where _____ you _____ if you go to university? (live)
- 3 If you _____ your exams, what will you do? (not pass)
- 4 I'd buy a bigger house if I _____ sure we could afford it. (be)
- 5 We couldn't have a dog if we _____ a garden. (not have)
- 6 How will you get to work if you _____ your car? (sell)
- 7 If we sit in the shade, we _____ sunburnt. (not get)
- 8 If you could change one thing in your life, what _____ it _____? (be)
- 9 He won't be able to pay next month's rent if he _____ a job soon. (not find)
- 10 If she made less noise, her neighbours _____ so often. (not complain) choosing between gerunds and infinitives

gerund (verb + -ing)

- 1 I'm not very good at working in a team.
Katie's given up smoking.
- 2 Looking for a job can be depressing.
Shopping is my favourite thing to do at weekends.
- 3 I hate not being on time for things.
I don't mind getting up early.
- We use the gerund (verb + -ing)
 - 1 after prepositions and phrasal verbs.
 - 2 as the subject of a sentence.
 - 3 after some verbs, e.g. hate, don't mind.
 - Common verbs which take the gerund include: admit, avoid, deny, dislike, enjoy, feel like, finish, hate, keep, like, love, mind, miss, practise, prefer, recommend, spend time, stop, suggest, and some phrasal verbs, e.g. give up, go on, etc.
 - The negative gerund = not + verb + -ing.

like, love, and hate

In American English, like, love, and hate are followed by the infinitive with to. This is becoming more common in British English too, e.g. I like to listen to music in the car.

the infinitive with to

- 1 My flat is very easy to find.
2 Liam is saving money to buy a new car.
3 My sister has never learned to drive.
Try not to make a noise.
- We use the infinitive + to:
 - 1 after adjectives.
 - 2 to express a reason or purpose.
 - 3 after some verbs, e.g. want, need, learn.

8.6

- Common verbs which take the infinitive include: (can't) afford, agree, decide, expect, forget, help, hope, learn, need, offer, plan, pretend, promise, refuse, remember, seem, try, want, would like. More verbs take the infinitive than the gerund.
- The negative infinitive = not to + verb.
- These common verbs can take either the infinitive or gerund with no difference in meaning: start, begin, continue.
It started to rain. It started raining.

Verb + person + infinitive with to

We also use the infinitive with to after some verbs + person, e.g. ask, tell, want, would like.
Can you ask the manager to come?
She told him not to worry.
I want you to do this now.
We'd really like you to come.

the infinitive without to

- 1 I can't drive.
We must hurry.
- 2 She always makes me laugh.
My parents didn't let me go out last night.

8.8

- We use the infinitive without to:

- 1 after most modal and auxiliary verbs.
- 2 after make and let.

Verbs that can take a gerund or an infinitive, but the meaning is different

Try to be on time. (= make an effort to be on time)
Try doing yoga. (= do it to see if you like it)
Remember to phone him. (= don't forget to do it)
I remember meeting him years ago. (= I have a memory of it) a Circle the correct form.

- I'm in charge of recruiting / to recruit new staff.
- 1 It's important for me spending / to spend time with my family.
 - 2 Applying / Apply to go to university abroad can be complicated.
 - 3 I want to do / doing my shopping this morning.
 - 4 My boss wants open / to open a new office.
 - 5 Be careful not asking / not to ask her about her boyfriend – they've split up.
 - 6 We went on working / to work until we finished.
 - 7 Dave is very good at solving / to solve problems.
 - 8 The best thing about weekends is not going / not to go to work.
 - 9 Layla gave up modelling / to model when she had a baby.
 - 10 I went on a training course to learning / to learn about the new software.

b Complete with a verb from the list in the correct form.

not buy commute do leave lock not make retire set-up wear not worry

I'd like to set up my own company.

- 1 My parents are planning _____ before they are 65.
- 2 Rob spends three hours _____ to work and back every day.

reported speech: sentences and questions reported sentences

direct statements	reported statements	8.13
'I like shopping.'	She said (that) she liked shopping.
'I'm leaving tomorrow.'	He told her (that) he was leaving the next day .
'I'll always love you.'	He said (that) he would always love me .
'I passed the exam!'	She told me (that) she had passed the exam.
'I've forgotten my keys.'	He said (that) he had forgotten his keys .
'I can't come.'	She said (that) she couldn't come.
'I may be late.'	He said (that) he might be late.
'I must go.'	She said (that) she had to go.

- We use reported speech to report (i.e. to tell another person) what someone said.
- When the reporting verb (said, told, etc.) is in the past tense, the tenses in the sentence which is being reported usually change like this:
present → past will → would past simple / present perfect → past perfect

When tenses don't change

When you report what someone said very soon after they said it, the tenses often stay the same as in the original sentence.

Adam 'I can't come tonight.'

I've just spoken to Adam and he said that he can't come tonight.

Jack 'I really enjoyed my trip.'

Jack told me that he really enjoyed his trip.

- Some modal verbs change, e.g. can → could, may → might, must → had to. Other modal verbs stay the same, e.g. could, might, should, etc.
'I might come back next week.' He said he might come back next week.
- We usually have to change the pronouns.
'I like jazz.' Jane said that she liked jazz.
- Using that after said and told is optional.

- If you report what someone said on a different day or in a different place, some other time and place words can change, e.g. tomorrow → the next day, here → there, this → that, etc.
'I'll meet you here tomorrow.' He said he'd meet me there the next day.

say and tell

Be careful – after said, don't use a person or an object pronoun.

Sarah said that she was tired. NOT Sarah said me that she was tired.

After told, you must use a person or object pronoun.

Sarah told me that she was tired. NOT Sarah told that she....

reported questions

direct questions	reported questions	8.14
'Are you married?'	She asked him if he was married.
'Did Lucy phone?'	He asked me whether Lucy had phoned .
'What's your name?'	I asked him what his name was .
'Where do you live?'	She asked me where I lived .

- When we report a question, the tenses change as in reported statements.
- When a question doesn't begin with a question word, we add if (or whether).
'Do you want a drink?' He asked me if / whether I wanted a drink.
- We also have to change the word order to subject + verb and not use do / did.

a Complete using reported speech.

'I'm in love with you.'

My boyfriend told me he was in love with me.

1 'I'm selling all my books.'

My friend Tim said _____.

2 'I've booked the flights.'

4 'Where do you usually buy your clothes?'

My sister asked me _____.

5 'Did you wear a suit to the job interview?'

We asked him _____.

6 'Do you ever go to the theatre?'

I asked Lisa _____.

7 'Can you help me?'

Sally asked the policeman _____.

p.80

third conditional

If I'd known you had a problem, I would have helped you. 9.4

If Paul hadn't gone to Brazil, he wouldn't have met his wife.

Would you have gone to the party if you'd known Lisa was there?

You wouldn't have lost your job if you hadn't been late every day.

- We normally use third conditional sentences to talk about hypothetical / imaginary situations in the past, i.e. how things could have been different in the past. Compare: Yesterday I got up late and missed my train. (= the real situation)

If I hadn't got up late yesterday, I wouldn't have missed my train. (= the hypothetical or imaginary past situation)

- To make a third conditional, we use if + past perfect and would have + past participle. NOT If I would have known you had a problem...
- The contraction of both had and would is 'd.
If I'd have known you had a problem, I'd have helped you.
- We can use might or could instead of would to make the result less certain.
If she'd studied harder, she might have passed the exam.

a Match the sentence halves.

Billy wouldn't have injured his head

1 If I hadn't seen the speed camera,

2 Jon might have got the job

3 She would have hurt herself badly

4 If Katy and Luke hadn't caught the same train,

5 What would you have studied

6 How would you have got to the airport

7 If you'd worn a warmer coat,

8 Your parents would have enjoyed the trip

9 Would you have been annoyed

D

A if you'd gone to university?

B you wouldn't have caught a cold.

C if she'd told you the truth?

D if he'd worn his helmet.

E they wouldn't have met.

F if he'd been on time for his interview.

G if they'd come with us.

H if she'd fallen down the stairs.

I I wouldn't have slowed down.

J if the trains had been on strike?

b Complete the third conditional sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

If Tom hadn't gone to university, he wouldn't have got a job with that company. (not go, not get)

1 If you me to the station, I my train. (not take, miss)

2 We the match if the referee us a penalty. (not win, not give)

3 You the weekend if you with us. (enjoy, come)

4 If I the theatre tickets online, they more expensive. (not buy, be)

5 Mike his wife's birthday if she him. (forget, not remind)

6 If the police five minutes later, they the thief. (arrive, not catch)

7 If you me the money, I to go away for the weekend. (not lend, not be able)

8 That girl in the river if you her arm! (fall, not catch)

9 We the hotel if we the signpost. (not find, not seen)

10 If I about the job, I for it. (know, apply)

- 2 We use no + uncountable or plural noun with a [+] verb.
- 3 We use none (without a noun) in short answers.

relative clauses: defining and non-defining defining relative clauses (giving essential information)

1 Harper Lee is the woman who (that) wrote 10.1

To Kill a Mockingbird.

I'm looking for a book which (that) teaches you how to relax.
That's the house where I was born.

2 Is Frank the man whose brother plays for Manchester United?
It's a tree whose leaves change colour in autumn.

3 I've just had a text from the girl (who / that) I met on the flight to Paris.

This is the phone (which / that) I bought yesterday.

- We use a defining relative clause (= a relative pronoun + verb phrase) to give essential information about a person, place, or thing.

1 We use the relative pronoun who for people, which for things / animals, and where for places.

• We can use that instead of who or which.

2 We use whose to mean 'of who' or 'of which'.

3 In some relative clauses, the verb after who, which, or that has a different subject, e.g. She's the girl who I met on the train (the subject of met is I). In these clauses, who, which, or that can be omitted.

She's the girl I met on the train.

• where and whose can never be omitted. NOT Is that the woman dog barks?

• We can't omit who / which / that / where if it's the same subject in both clauses. NOT Julia's the woman works in the office with me.

10.1

non-defining relative clauses (giving extra non-essential information)

This painting, which was painted in 1860, is worth millions of pounds.

10.2

Last week I visited my aunt Jane, who's nearly 90 years old. Burford, where my grandfather was born, is a beautiful little town.

My neighbour, whose son goes to my son's school, has just remarried.

- We use a non-defining relative clause to give extra (often non-essential information) in a sentence. If this clause is omitted, the sentence still makes sense.
This painting, which was painted in 1860, is worth millions of pounds.
- Non-defining relative clauses must go between commas (or a comma and a full stop).
- In these clauses, we can't leave out the relative pronoun (who, which, etc.).
- In these clauses, we can't use that instead of who / which.
NOT This painting, that was painted in 1860, is worth millions of pounds.

a Complete with who, which, where, or whose.

Minneapolis is the city where Prince was born.

1 Rob and Corinna, _____ have twins, often need a babysitter.

2 Downing Street, _____ the British Prime Minister lives, is in central London.

3 The sandwich _____ you made me for lunch was delicious.

4 The woman _____ lived here before us was a writer.

5 David Bowie, _____ songs inspired us for nearly 50 years, died in 2016.

6 My computer is a lot faster than the one _____ I used to have.

7 The Mona Lisa, _____ has been damaged several times, is now displayed behind glass.

8 Look! That's the woman _____ dog bit me last week.

9 On our last holiday we visited Stratford-upon-Avon, _____ Shakespeare was born.

10 We all went to the match except Angela, _____ doesn't like football.

11 That man _____ you saw at the party was my boyfriend!

12 That's the park _____ I learned to ride a bike.

b Look at the sentences in a. Tick (✓) the ones where you could use that instead of who / which. Circle the relative pronouns which could be left out.

c Add commas (,) where necessary.

Caroline, who lives next door to me, is beautiful.

1 This is the place where John crashed his car.

2 The castle that we visited yesterday was amazing.

3 Beijing which is one of the world's biggest cities has a population of over 25 million.

4 Adele's 25 which was released in 2015 is one of the best-selling albums of the last ten years.

5 These are the shoes which I'm wearing to the wedding tomorrow.

6 Sally and Joe who got married last year are expecting their first baby.

Education

VOCABULARY BANK

1 THE SCHOOL SYSTEM IN THE UK AND THE US

- a Complete the text about the UK with words from the list.

boarding /'bɔ:dɪŋ/ degree /dɪ'grɪ:/ head /hed/ nursery /'nɜ:səri/ primary /'praɪməri/ private /'prɔ:vɪt/ pupils /'pjʊ:pɪlz/ secondary /'sekəndəri/ state /steɪt/ students /'stju:dnts/ terms /tɜ:mz/

In the UK

Children start ¹primary school when they're five. Before that, many children go to ²_____ school, e.g. between the ages of two and four, but this is not compulsory. From 11–18, children go to ³_____ school. The majority of schools in the UK (about 90%) are ⁴_____ schools, which means that they are paid for by the government and education is free. The other 10% are ⁵_____ schools, where parents have to pay. A few of these are ⁶_____ schools, where children study, eat, and sleep. Children at primary school are often called ⁷_____ and children at secondary school are usually called ⁸_____, as are people who are studying at university. The person who is in charge of a school is called the ⁹_____ teacher. The school year is divided into three ¹⁰_____.

If you want to go to university, you have to take exams called A levels in your last year at school. If your results are good enough, you get a place. A person who has finished university and has a ¹¹_____ is called a graduate.

- b ①7.2 Listen and check.

- c Complete the text about the US with words from the list.

college /'kɒlɪdʒ/ elementary /elɪ'mentəri/ grades /greɪdz/ high /haɪ/ kindergarten /'kɪndəgə:tən/ semesters /sɪ'mestəz/ twelfth grade /'twelfθ greɪd/

In the US

The school system is divided into three levels, ¹elementary school, middle school (sometimes called junior high school), and ²_____ school. Schoolchildren are divided by age groups into ³_____. The youngest children start in ⁴_____ (followed by first grade) and continue until ⁵_____, which is the final year of high school. The school year is divided into two ⁶_____. Higher education in the US is often called ⁷_____.

- d ①7.3 Listen and check.

ACTIVATION Cover the texts. With a partner, remember the different types of school (starting from the lowest level) in both countries.

2 DISCIPLINE AND EXAMS

- a Complete the texts with a verb from the list in the right form.

not be allowed to /not bi: ə'laod tə/ be expelled /bi ək'speld/ be punished /bi 'pʌnɪʃt/ cheat /tʃeɪt/ let /let/ make /meɪk/ misbehave /mɪsbi'hæv/

A Discipline is very strict in our school. We ¹aren't allowed to take our phones to school and they don't ²_____ us bring unhealthy food for lunch, like crisps or fizzy drinks. Most children behave well, but if you ³_____, for example, talk too much in class, you'll ⁴_____ and the teacher will probably ⁵_____ you stay behind after class. If you do something more serious, like ⁶_____ in an exam, you might even ⁷_____.

fail /feɪl/ pass /pɑ:s/ result /rɪ'zəlt/ revise /rɪ'veɪz/ take /teɪk/ (or do)

B Marc has to ¹_____ an important English exam next week. He hopes he'll ²_____, but he hasn't had much time to ³_____, so he's worried that he might ⁴_____. He won't get the ⁵_____ until July.

- b ①7.4 Listen and check.

ACTIVATION Cover the texts and look at the verbs. Explain what they mean.

make, let, and allow

My French teacher made me do extra homework. Our IT teacher lets us play games every Friday. The head doesn't allow us to take our phones to school.

We use make and let with an object pronoun and the infinitive without to. We use allow with an object pronoun and the infinitive + to.

let and allow have a similar meaning. We often use allow in the passive, e.g. We're allowed to play games every Friday, but we can't use let in the passive NOT We're let play games...

2 MAKING ADJECTIVES AND ADVERBS

Adjective prefixes and suffixes

We often make adjectives from nouns by adding a suffix. Some common suffixes are: -y, e.g. sun – sunny; -ate, e.g. passion – passionate; -able / -ible, e.g. fashion – fashionable; -ful, e.g. use – useful. Nouns which end in -ence often make the adjective with -ent, e.g. violence – violent.

To make a negative adjective, we usually add a prefix, e.g. un-, im-, etc. (See Vocabulary Bank Personality, p.153.) However, some adjectives that end in -ful make the negative by changing the suffix -ful to -less, e.g. useful – useless, hopeful – hopeless.

- a Look at the adjectives and adverbs from the noun luck in the chart below. Complete the chart.

	adjectives		adverbs
noun	+	-	+	-
luck	lucky	unlucky	luckily	unluckily
fortune	fortunate	unfortunate

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The authors would like to thank all the teachers and students round the world whose feedback has helped us to shape English File.

The authors would also like to thank all those at Oxford University Press (both in Oxford and around the world) and the design team who have contributed their skills and ideas to producing this course.

Finally very special thanks from Clive to María Angeles, Lucia, and Eric, and from Cristina to Cristina, for all their support and encouragement. Cristina would also like to thank her children Joaquín, Marco, and Krysty for their constant inspiration.

The publisher and authors are very grateful to the following who have provided personal stories and/or photographs: Marianne Levidatiki, Jane Cadwallader, Dagmar Walkowicz, and Joe Kenyon.

The publisher and authors would also like to thank the following for their invaluable feedback on the materials: Jane Hudson, Brian Brennan, Isabel Orgilés Trol, Dolores Raventós, Paz Alonso, Ana Ibáñez, Jose Requejo Sánchez, Philip Drury, Robert Anderson, María Vanessa Ferroni, Cristina Cogollos, Lesley Poulard, Abby Seddon, Magdalena Muszyńska, Dagmar Iata, Sandy Millin, Sylwia Kossakowska-Pisarek, Ruth Valentová, Elif Barbaros, Zahra Bilides, Polina Kuhařenková, Gyula Kiss, Wagner Roberto Silva dos Santos, Juliana Stucker, Sarah Giles, Wayne Rimmer, Mowbray Bates.
